PREPARE FOR IOWA

Team Has Last Hard Practice.
Injured Players Recover.

The work last night was fast and furious. For a while in the early part of the evening the team practiced signals. Later on they lined up against the scrubs. Here the fun began. The scrubs played like fiends and although the Varsity made their distance all the time they had to work for it.

The scrubs appeared in the best form they have been in this year and their work was excellent. They go to Grand Island next Saturday to play the college there, leaving at 10:30 Saturday morning.

As for the playing of the Varsity, it was quick and snappy at times, but at others was not up to the usual playing standard of the team. This is not an indication of the team as a whole. It must be remembered that for the past day or two the practice has been light. Nevertheless, they will depart for Iowa City in good shape and last night was the last hard practice.

Word comes from Iowa that several new men have been added to the line during the past two weeks and the team has been individually strengthened. Their coaching has been systematic and careful, and if all reports are true, great improvement has been made since the game with Minnesota.

The Nebraska team goes to Iowa in very good condition with the exception of one or two slight injuries to the men behind the line.

Borg's shoulder is almost as good as new and will probably not cause him any more trouble. Robinson has recovered from his sprained ankle.

Bender is well and will be in the game from start to finish in all probability.

Eager is suffering from a sprained ankle, but hopes to be all right by Saturday.

Graves sustained a severe bruise in the muscles of his leg in last night's practice, but with careful doctoring he hopes to be all right for the game.

Several members of the faculty were out upon the field last night practicing up in minor points for the great meet Saturday.

Be sure and register soon. This means today. You should do so if you intend going to Kansas City.

The names of the men who go to Iowa are as follows:

Bender, Benedict, Bell, C. Mason, Cotton, Borg, Lesh, Hunter, Robinson, Perry, Wilson, Fenton, Eager, Lantz, G. Mason, Marsh, Graves.

Union Debaters Appointed.

President Myers of the Union Boys' Debating club has appointed the team which will contest for honors in debate with the Doane College team. R. C. James, J. C. McReynolds and L. O. Pfeiffer comprise the team. These men will make a very strong trio and will no doubt be able to give the Doanites several pointers in debate. James was a member of the team which vanquished Kansas last year, and McReynolds was an alternate on the Colorado team. Pfeiffer is a man of considerable experience and ability in this line.

The debate will be held in Crete, some time before the holidays. The Union team will submit a question to Doane at once and Doane will have the choice of sides.

This annual contest promises to be of unusual interest, as Doane is said to be exceptionally strong this year and feels confident of victory. Some of the Union boys may accompany the team on the trip.

FACULTY ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

MASS MEETING

CHAPEL, TODAY AT 10 A. M.

ANXIETY MOUNTS HIGH.

Faculty Concerned Over Carnival,
But Determined to Act.

A remarkable change has come over the spirit of the being of our faculty members during the past week, and it is evident that they have affairs of pressing importance weighing down upon them. Even in the class room is this change noticeable, and much curiosity has been aroused to the wherefore of it all. The eye that watched with cat-like alertness for unbecoming conduct among the students has become filled with abstraction; the hand that grasped the ferule so firmly to administer just punishment upon offending pupils, now tremble nervously as it holds the book of wisdom and knowledge.

The reason is plain, now that the secret has been divulged. The faculty are going to hold an Athletic Carnival Saturday. We were requested not to mention this fact, that is the reason why we publish it. The mental strain to which our honored and revered professors have been subjected is something wonderful and terrible. Any of them can feel entirely at home upon the platform before a large assemblage—provided it be not a Woman's club meeting—but when it comes to doing athletic feats for the amusement of the populace, they feel that they are out of their element.

Yet for all that they are preparing with unremitting vigor for Saturday's events, as it will be the day of their lives—the day of which future historians will write and from which stories will be written and upon which numerous plots for plays will be founded. Countless seminar classes will ponder over piles of manuscript and volumes, trying to determine the brand of manufacture of the wheelbarrow with which Prof. Dann won the memorable race; the number of men Prof. Fogg struck out and the make of the armor that the umpire wore; who it was of the non-participating members of the faculty who carried water for Prof. Taylor's horse, and finally whether the instrument used by Prof. Ross in the shot-put was really lighter or not than that used by Prof. Caldwell, as the latter claimed after the contest was over. A few more points of interest will be: From what section of the grandstand did most of the applause come when Dr. Jones knocked his second homerun; if the humane society did not interfere to prevent the participants in the walking race from injuring themselves, and how many men were killed in the football game and how many played on a side.

Students should not neglect this opportunity to make themselves solid with the faculty. Any opportune and conspicuous applause will be greatly appreciated, if rightly directed, and a megaphone will prove useful in reaching the right person. And at the same time another kind of an opportunity will be presented that should not be neglected. If you have any grudge against any member of the faculty—we all have—you will have an opportunity to vent your feelings. Whenever one of them falls in some dismal fashion you can turn loose and roast him properly, as they have often done to you. However, be secrete, for if you are caught in the act the consequences will be direful. But, nevertheless, come, whether to roast or to cheer for the attraction is one that any sane person could not afford to miss and any insane person would not miss. So all of us are suited.

As complete a program as it is possible to secure will appear in tomorrow's Nebraskan, and such other information as may come to our ears will be published.

Basket Ball Prospects Good.

Considerable interest is already being shown in basket ball and from the showing made so far it is evident that Nebraska will again have a strong team. Without any effort on the part of the manager men are showing up for practice voluntarily, and there are always enough men on hand for a lively game.

Elliott and Hoar, the last year's Varsity team men, are back and almost the entire scrub team, Beers, Krake, Noyes, Tyner, Ludden, Melick and Milek, will try for places. Also a number of new men have made an exceptionally fine showing. Benedict and Newton of last year's Varsity are now playing football, but will probably be on hand after the football season is over. With this amount of good material to pick from the management will find no difficulty in making up a strong team, especially since practice is beginning early and so many men are old players. There will also be a good scrub team and competition between the scrubs and first team will make the Varsity come up to the scratch.

Dr. Clapp on being interviewed by a Nebraskan reporter last night, said: "The prospects for a winning team are very flattering. The old men are showing a great deal of interest and some very good material is found among the new men."

A NEW FEATURE

Cross Country Runs Will be Held at This University.

Cross country runs are a feature that will figure quite extensively in the athletic activities at this institution in the future. Dr. Clapp is responsible for the introduction of this innovation, and to him belongs the credit for the introduction of a clean, healthy form of exercise that can not help but appeal to every student seeking physical improvement. Especially for runners and "short-winded" students is this exercise helpful, as the constant practice indulged in will effectually diminish or do away with defects that so hinder.

Fifteen men met yesterday afternoon in Dr. Clapp's office, where they were instructed as to the manner in which these cross country runs would be conducted and as to their nature. Lated they formed a band under the leadership of R. H. Searle, and took a "trot" out to the fair grounds and back. They covered a distance of five miles in lively fashion and good time, and returned much enthused over their experience. Later the length of these runs will be increased to a course of five or six miles and return. Of course this limit will gradually be worked up to by easy stages.

The class will meet twice a week—at 4 p. m. on Tuesday and 2 p. m. on Saturday. All interested are requested to report to Dr. Clapp. If enough men register another class will probably be formed. Even those who can not meet at the hours stated above are requested to signify their willingness to join.

Cross country runs have come to be quite a feature in many eastern and some western institutions. Steeplechase contests are held at some colleges, and these always arouse a great deal of interest. It is intended that hare and hound chases will be held here as soon as the enterprise gets well under way.

More Cadet Appointments.

The following appointments in the cadet battalion were announced yesterday evening: To be first class signal sergeant, A. Heimrod of Co. A; to be musicians, Co. A, J. R. Caley and C. R. Stanley; Co. B, H. Hargreaves and C. Wolroth; Co. C, C. W. Browne and W. L. Rarely; Co. D, W. A. Charlton and C. G. Steen. The list of appointments is now practically completed, although such others will be made as may be found necessary later on. The battalion is now drilling in company formation and the new men are beginning to acquire aptitude in handling their rifles.

C. A. Sawyer Gives Reading.

The convocation period yesterday morning was taken up by C. A. Sawyer of the department of elocution. Mr. Sawyer selection was "King Robert of Sicily." It was presented in a clear and forcible manner. The speaker caught the spirit of the selection and his interpretation of mood was very good. Mr. Sawyer has a splendid voice which, together with his ease on the platform and fluent delivery, renders his ability as a speaker very efficient.

New Members for Pershings.

The applications of the following men for membership in the Pershing Rifles have been approved: A. W. Beckman, J. B. Postristal, C. J. Nelson, L. P. Stone and R. H. Thompson.
