CARNIVAL AT HAND

Faculty Sprightly and Active for This Afternoon's Event.

This afternoon the faculty will raise their standards to the skies and make the athletic field the scene of a noble, grand, imposing pageant, including in its entirety all of the whirl of the midway and all the excitement of valorous and stout-limbed warriors striving diligently for the mastery in various athletic events; and even as an angry cow pursues a venturesome canine and drives it howling forth from the confines of her domains, will our beloved and respected professors range up and down the field in a wild effort to bring death and destruction to all that may come in their way, caring little upon whom they may leave their impress just as long as they succeed in leaving any at all, and when the smoke of battle has cleared away from the earlier strifes then will certain grave and dignified members of the faculty don their pads and mits and take up their bats in an honest effort to show the public what a baseball game is like; while sandwiched in between a number of important events will be a football game in which blood and broken limbs will be the predominating features; all these things will happen this afternoon in the presence of the multitudes in the grandstand and non-participating members of the faculty lined up along the wire fence in their Sunday clothes, ready to hoot their rivals in their own departments and applaud when they meet injury or disgrace.

The faculty have granted a half holiday to the students, and we would be guilty of the basest ingratitude if we do not appreciate their kindness and come out and watch them perform. All the penalties provided before are still in effect and better means will be found for enforcing them. Any student who is not able to tell his instructors wherein they excelled at this event will receive no credit for his semester's work; for his inability to come up to expectations will be taken as evidence that he did not attend. Through the kindness of one of the faculty we are enabled to present to our readers the program that includes so many soul-stirring events.

To begin there will be general exercises in the Midway, just inside the gate. There will be a weight guessing contest in which Professors Ross and Thompson will use their enormous reasoning powers and imagination, in seeing which can come nearest the mark. The scales to be instrumental in this combat of science and intellect will stand upon a mound, so that none of the faculty will be making themselves troublesome by climbing on to get weighed. The electric woman will be there in all her glory, ready to do marvels. There will be nigger babies, but whether they are to kiss or throw at we have not been informed. The former attraction would draw better. Candies, peanuts, pop corn and chewing gum will be on sale, but the sale of intoxicating drinks will not be allowed. Dr. Bolton has some hair raising cabinet tricks of such a character as to fill us with all such an abiding feeling of awe and superstition that we will all be afraid to venture out alone after dark for several weeks to come.

Professor Clapp will give an exhibition of magic tricks that will be well worth seeing, being of genuine merit, and he will be abundantly able to make us wonder as to how on earth it's all done, anyhow.

Then will come the baseball game—

the game that will decide the championship of the world. Professors Barber and Clements have shown high qualities of courage and daring in consenting to act as umpires, but they have refused to give out the personnel of their bodyguard, although it is expected that the Lincoln police will be on hand to help, as they are accustomed to act conspicuously at carnivals. Professor Spencer's team will line up as follows:

Fogg, p.; Loveland, ss.; Votaw, 2b.; Condra, c.; Spencer, 1b.; Barker, c. f.; Lane, 3b.; Dean, l. f.; Hinman, r. f.

Dr. Ward's line-up is given out as being subject to changes, but it looks like the following:

Heald, p.; Barker, ss.; Ward, 2b.; Melick, c.; H. R. Smith, 1b.; Caldwell, c. f.; Candy, 3b.; Persinger, l. f.; and F. W. Smith, r. f.

Dr. Barbour and Max Westermann will be on hand to fill any gaps that may occur and assure the success of the game.

There will be a large number of races. Dr. Pound and Professor Taylor will raise clouds of dust in a madcap chase down the field to the goal post, and according to the present arrangements, the first over the line will be declared the winner. They will go around the grounds twice and then proceed to fight it with wheelbarrows.

The walking race will be an inspiring event, in which Doctors Davis, Luckey and Engberg (?) will show amazing vigor in covering ground, although it is feared that the Humane Society may find grounds to interfere for the prevention of cruelty. A sack race will be fought out among Professors Emerson and Bolton and Dr. Engberg. The winner of this race will be allowed to keep his sack for his pains. An obstacle race and a hobby horse race are also scheduled.

And now the wheelbarrow race. This will be a grand event and the price of admission is worth it alone. Each of the participants has acquired superhuman skill in handling a wheelbarrow, and has been chasing pedestrians on the back streets of Lincoln for the past two weeks and bringing home groceries for their wives and running up grocery bills just for the sake of having something to do. The multitudes will gaze with bated breath at the six champions as they line up this afternoon in their gladiatorial suits. In this event Professors Sweezy, Hodgman, Miller, Dann, Chatburn and French will take part. They all report themselves in good condition, although explanatory complaints of headaches, corns, disabled limbs, etc., will be prevalent after the race is over.

Just before going to press last night we heard that there was to be a hammer-throwing contest. Professors Ross and Caldwell, we understand, will handle the instruments, and wire netting will be stretched along in front of the grandstand to prevent any of the spectators being decapitated through an error in judgment on the part of one of the contestants in directing his instrument. An account of this great event will be incorporated in the next edition of Professor Caldwell's "History of the United States," and future historians, in reading this account will doubtless wonder if the witness of this event was entirely unbiased.

And the horse—the high school horse that has passed through all the grades of experience and now stands at the top of the list in the higher branches of education. Professor Taylor will manage two accomplished horses, and put them through a quiz that will bring out all their good points in excellent style. One of these—"Prince"—is a magnificent specimen of an animal, being a one-half bred Cleveland Bay roadster and coach horse. He will do the side step and describe circles and pirouette like a ballet dancer. He will also show off a fancy gallop, alternating from right to left.

"Dandy," the other, is one-half bred roadster, and is also an accomplished side-stepper. Describing circles and pirouetting are also on the list of his attainments, and he will perform the Spanish walk, the figure 8 and the cake walk. This event will be genuinely fine, and will be one of the most entertaining features on the day's program.

The football game will be a terrific contest, from which no one is expected to emerge unimpaired in mind and body. Judging from reports that both sides are circulating concerning their strength, after the kick-off they will mix up in the middle of the field with shoulders locked and stay there until shutdown, as we can not figure out, on paper at least, how one side can expect to budge the other. We have reached this conclusion because the word of a faculty member is too sacred to be doubted. Dr. Condra and George Shedd will settle the issue with the boxing gloves if the score results in a tie. Following is the line-up:

Condra	Shedd
Waite	Emerson
Votaw	Dorman
Aylsworth	Sheldon
Almy, Fee	Moritz
Hanna	Engberg
Evans	Pound
Congdon	Cook
Wolcott	Lane
Clapp	Crabtree
	Wallace
Condra	Shedd
Bolton	Moore

WIN SPLENDID GAME.

Seniors Overcome Juniors by a Score of 6 to 0.

The first game of the inter-class championship series was played yesterday afternoon before a large and enthusiastic crowd as ever watched a class game.

The final score was 6 to 0 in favor of the Seniors. They had the better of the game most of the time, although the Juniors showed surprising strength at times and kept things pretty interesting throughout. The score was made about the middle of the second half, Myers making the touchdown by a 10-yard run through right tackle.

For the Seniors Vasey and Newton in the line played an excellent game. Burdette Lewis at center also played a pretty good game for a man unused to the science of football. All three of the back field men, Elliott, MacDonald and Myers, did excellent work, ripping off from 3 to 10 yards almost every time they were called on.

Lundin was the best ground gainer for the Juniors, and Gould, quarterback, returned punts in nice shape.

The game had been diligently pushed by Harrison, manager of the Senior team, and Beers, manager of the Juniors.

Caps for the winning team are already assured as nearly enough to buy them was made at the game yesterday.

The Seniors carried the ball most of the time, while the Juniors often lost it on downs. The Senior goal was not in danger at any time and they feel that they can keep it from being crossed this season. They feel quite encouraged and are anxious to eat up the winners of the Freshman-Sophomore game.

The time of the two halves was twenty minutes.

Cy Mason and Stein alternated as referee and umpire.

Glee Club Business Meeting

The Glee club held its regular weekly business meeting in U. 107 Tuesday evening, followed by a rehearsal. The only important matter taken up was concerning suits. Final consideration of it was deferred until next meeting.

The citizens of Lincoln are beginning to take an interest in the club, as a number of them were present as audience at Tuesday evening's rehearsal.

OFF FOR KANSAS

Team Left This Morning for the Home of the Jayhawkers.

Word came from Kansas at about 10 o'clock yesterday morning that they had waived their protest and the game would be played.

So after a lengthy and unpleasant business with the Kansas authorities all is in readiness for the game.

Kansas showed a very unpleasant face by refusing to accept the verdict rendered by our athletic board when the charge was preferred against the players. It is customary to accept the opinion of such a board and nearly all Universities and colleges recognize this fact.

The team left at 9:15 this morning over the Missouri Pacific road. They will spend the night in Kansas City and go on to Lawrence Saturday.

The excursion leaves over the Union Pacific tonight at 11 o'clock. The round trip will be $3.00.

For those desiring sleepers there will be four tourists' sleepers attached to the train. The rates for berths will probably be $1.00 each way. So one can go there and back in a sleeper for $5.00, a very reasonable amount.

The band goes to Kansas and with the assistance of the large squad of rooters which will go, will be able to give the Jayhawkers a lesson or two in the art of rooting.

The practice last night was short and comparatively light. All the men were out, excepting Cotton, who has been on the sick list for the past week.

There was no line-up against the Scrubs. Signal practice only was gone through, but this was full of life and strength.

The team goes to Kansas with the support of the student body behind it. We send them there to win and we know they will. When they return let every one who possibly can be at the station to welcome them and show that we are interested and appreciate what they are doing for the University.

Hurt in Gymnasium.

While playing basket ball yesterday evening in the gymnasium Antone Lott received an injury that rendered him unconscious for some time. While in pursuit of the ball he collided with great force with a man swinging on the rings, receiving a severe blow on the temple and being knocked violently to the floor. It was some time before he recovered consciousness and was able to walk home, but he is now about again in good health and spirits. It is a miracle that more accidents of this kind have not happened, as many make it a practice of swinging on the rings when the teams are playing basket ball.

Instructor Snantz met his class in agricultural botany for the first time on Wednesday. At the time there was just enough to take up all of the microscopes, and as a consequence Professor Bessey is anxiously looking about for more instruments to send out to the school. It begins to look as though another purchase of microscopes would have to be made very soon.
