NEW TERM BEGINS

Conservatory Opens Its Second Term. Recital To-night.

Registration for the second term of the Conservatory of Music began yesterday, with prospects even more pleasing than heretofore.

The enrollment of new students will continue during the entire course of the present week, and new arrivals will take place daily. Up to date the following new students have registered this week:

Grace Edminsten, Anselmo; Annie Barrie, Friend; Charlotte Roberts, Sutton; Martha Dill, Thedford; Edna Zimmerman, Ulysses; Flora Steiner, Lincoln; Florence Durbin, Malvern, Ia.; Gayle Jones, Wayne; Hazel Mannard, Lincoln, and Clara Albion, Custer, S. D.

The usual annual attendance at the Conservatory of Music is between 300 and 400. The enrollment this year is undoubtedly the largest in the history of the institution, and it has before it every prospect of steady and prosperous growth.

Miss Griggs, a graduate of the school, has been added to the teaching force. She is also a graduate of the University.

The first public recital of the year is to be rendered in the chapel tonight at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to be present. Following is the program of the evening:

Two Etudes, Chopin; Louise Walker. "The Dandelion," "Thou Art So Like a Flower," "He Loves Me," Chadwick; Elma Marsland.

Study, Op. 20, Kwast; Pearl Fodrea. Sherzo, Capriccio, D. Scarlatti; Bes-sie Mickey.

The "Shoogy Shco," Mayhew; Harry Bradford.

Gavotte, Bach-St. Saens, "Staccato Etude," Scharwenka; Ethel Syford. "Morning Greeting," "Faith in Spring," Julia McCune.

Intermezzo, Op. 76, Brahms; Intermezzo, Op. 9, Strauss; Cora Herrick. Organ Prelude, Bach; Winifred Howell.

"Long Ago," "The Swan Bends to the Lily," "Robin Sings in the Apple Tree," McDowell; Vera Upton.

"Without Thee," D'Ardelot; Olive Dopson.

"Rigaudon," Raff; Edith Shedd.

OFFICIAL NOTIFICATION

Kansas Board Notifies Us That Relations are Severed.

The following letter is the official notification from Kansas, notifying us of the action of their board in severing relations with Nebraska:

"Mr. R. G. Clapp, Secretary A. A. University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb.

"Dear Sir: This is to inform you of the action of our Athletic Board taken on Friday, November 13. It was—'On account of the strained athletic relations which exist and have existed for several years between the University of Kansas and the University of Nebraska, the Board of Athletics of the University of Kansas, at its regular session November 13, 1903, votes to sever all athletic relations between the University of Kansas and the University of Nebraska, this action to take effect on and after Monday, November 16, 1903. Very truly,

"ARCHIBALD HOGG, Secretary Board of Athletics, University of Kansas."

Our Athletic Board will meet this evening to consider the matter.

GOSSIP OF THE GAME

Nebraska's Prospects of Defeating Illinois on Thanksgiving.

Still the practice for Thanksgiving goes on. Night after night the team is being rounded into that almost perfect form which is going to win on that day.

That great rallying spirit which is so characteristic of Nebraska has been more in evidence since the Kansas game than at any other time during the season. This does not particularly apply to the team. They need no rallying. Throughout the entire season they have played a game which entitles them to a place in the "Big Nine."

Iowa does not allow this because she is fearful lest Nebraska may wrench from her grasp that much coveted place.

Knox has appreciated the strength of our team and has admitted that the record we have made during the past two years has most emphatically entitled us to a place. Knox is not trying to excuse her defeat at the hands of a superior team, but is glorying in the fact that against such a superior aggregation of players she was able to score and she has just cause for her glory.

Iowa is sore. She is vainly trying to excuse or explain a legitimate defeat and is unable to do so. A team hardly wins by luck on foreign grounds with all odds against it.

One of the best testimonials which has been tendered the Nebraska playing is the fact that all the teams about us are so anxious to beat us or even score on us. They will sacrifice every other game on their schedule if by so doing they can gain any strength for their game with Nebraska.

Colorado, Kansas, and in olden times, Missouri, practiced these tactics. Even now Missouri takes out her spite on us through the columns of her well edited weekly newspaper. We are sorry, but it's not our fault that our team will persist in winning.

Too much praise can not be given to Coach Booth for his untiring and earnest efforts to produce a champion team. This end has been his desire ever since his advent here and whether or not he has realized it we have only to glance at the record Nebraska has made for the past two years.

The next game is with Bellevue on Saturday. This team played a mighty nery game against the Haskell Indians on Saturday last. Though they were defeated by a score of 22 to 0 the game was a good one all the way through, and the score is no index of the playing that was exhibited. It must be remembered that the Indians are a strong team and have been playing excellent ball all season.

The game with Bellevue will be well worth seeing and will be next to the last chance that people will have of seeing the team play this year, so every one who possibly can, and surely every one can, should be there.

There will in all probability be an excursion from Bellevue, and a large number of the students will be here to encourage the team.

The practice last night was fast and furious. The Scrubs succeeded in making their distance but could in no wise endanger the Varsity goal.

Graves came out of the fray with a game eye and a disfigured nose, but neither injury was serious and he continued to play in spite of them.

Benedict was not out, but is saving up his strength and adding to his store for the game Thanksgiving. After the game he played at Kansas and the grit and nerve he displayed he deserves a rest.

Ringer was in the line at left guard for signal practice, but did not stay for the line-up against the Scrubs.

PROF. JASTROW TO LECTURE

Noted Psychologist of Wisconsin University to be Here Tuesday

Next Tuesday evening Lincoln people will have an opportunity to hear a lecture by Dr. Joseph Jastrow, professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Jastrow has written extensively upon general psychological subjects, and has conducted some experiments of considerable importance.

In more recent years he has given attention especially to occultism, telepathy, spiritualism, hypnotism, jugglery, legerdemain, etc. In this work he has attempted to separate the true from the false and to find out what has been really established from a scientific point of view. Throughout he has remained true to his earlier scientific ideas, not having been led into an acceptance of belief in any of these things. He has sought carefully for the psychological foundation upon which such movements as spiritualism, Christian science and theosophy rest. He is therefore probably the best qualified man in America to speak upon the subject he has chosen, "The Sub-conscious."

Professor Jastrow is a man of rare culture and literary attainments, so that we may expect to hear a lecture of unusual merit. His statement is always clear and concise and his language good. The lecture will be given in Memorial Hall, entirely free, and all are very cordially invited to attend as guests of the department of philosophy. On Wednesday morning he will speak especially to the students of the psychology department in the departmental lecture room. It is hoped that he can appear before the student body at the convocation exercises Wednesday.

Seniors Arrange for Insignia.

The Senior boys at their class meeting yesterday decided to carry canes and wear hats this season. The canes are heavy black affairs, but after the fashion of a shepherd's crook. The Seniors say the crook is for the guidance of Freshman lambs that fail to find the fold at night. The hat is to be a dark blue with a "U. of N." monogram embroidered on it. The "N." will be in scarlet and the "U." in cream. Seniors leave orders for the hats at the Co-Op.

Pershing Rifles.

Muster rollcall and inspection by Captain Chase Thursday evening, at 7:15 sharp. Every member must be present. There will be a drill-down for the gold medal.

E. D. STANLEY, Capt.

Kappa Epsilon, an inter-fraternity of Phi Kappa Psi, was installed in Kansas by the Nebraska chapter last Saturday night. Messrs. Peters, Linscott and Craeger of Kansas, and Morrison of Nebraska, were initiated.

ENGLISH 17 DEBATE.

The direct-primary question will be debated this afternoon in U. 106 at 1 o'clock by C. Wilburn, J. C. McReynolds and S. E. Black.

The Sophs and Freshmen will meet on the gridiron Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Both classes have strong teams this year and a fierce battle is expected.

Professor Caldwell will not talk in chapel this morning, as heretofore announced. Professor Fossler will take his place. Professor Caldwell's address will be delivered some time next week.

READY TO DEBATE

Debaters Will Soon Compete for Places. Contest With Kansas.

The Kansas-Nebraska debate, which for some years has been an annual event, is up again in connection with the break in athletics. Before 1902 victory went first to Kansas and then to Nebraska. In 1901 Nebraska got whipped at Lawrence, but two years ago C. M. Bracelen, '02, now in charge of the instruction in argumentation and debate and head of the department of history at the Omaha high school, J. C. Doubt, '03, and S. C. Hawthorne, '02, annihilated the Jayhawkers on the reciprocity question, and last April E. R. Buckner, R. C. James and George A. Lee cut them to pieces on compulsory arbitration. When Nebraska finished her final refutation slaughter Chancellor Strong arose and said that he felt as if he had been "going on an express train through a tornado."

For the debate which is expected to take place in Memorial Hall this year, no definite arrangements have yet been made. Kansas has proposed some hard and fast regulations, such as the debating board declined last year to accept. Two or three little things occurred at the Lawrence debate last year it will be remembered, which left a rather bad taste in the mouths of the Nebraskans, for instance the slip by which the Kansas time-keeper called Lee down when only about half of his time had expired, whereupon Lee demanded and got his proper time.

Some of the large charts which Ira Ryner introduced into the Nebraska-Missouri trust debate last May and which extended for forty feet across the north end of Memorial Hall, are being used in connection with the student reports in Professor Ross' course on trusts. They show the variation in prices and in margins in times of competition and of culmination of steer, whisky, sugar and oil. These charts Ryner sprung near the end of the fight with Missouri.

On account of the Freshman class meeting in the chapel, the German chorus met in Palladian hall Monday morning.

Bishop J. C. S. Werells, of Norfolk, visited the Sigma Chi boys last week. He was a member of the fraternity before the civil war.

The class in division 3, English literature 5, has nearly finished the study of "Elaine." "Evan Harrington" will be taken up in the near future.

Professor Caldwell's class in "current topics" today will discuss "Panama, the Revolution, and Canal." The subject next week will be "Strikes."

The Union society at its last meeting accepted the following members: Miss Esse Hollingsworth, Mr. Baker and Mr. M. P. Castelleo.

Two copies of the first volume of "Thayer's Cases in Constitutional Law" have been taken from the law library. This inconveniences the work of the class in Constitutional Law to a great extent since now there are only six copies to be used by nearly eighty students.
