Basket Ball Teams Show Up Well. No Games Scheduled.

The basket ball team is working hard every night. The prospect for a good team is very encouraging, many of the old men are back and much promising new material is at hand.

About twenty men were out last night. These are divided up into three scrub teams. Two of these teams play together and the third and best is pitted against the first team.

The first team showed up in excellent form last night and their playing was exceptionally speedy and sure.

No games have been schedule as yet, but some games with local teams will soon be arranged and the season will be opened.

The team always makes a trip or two during the year. Last season these trips were comparatively successful, but this year it is hoped they will be entirely so, and that the team may not lose a single game.

The 16th day of December is the probable date for the indoor Athletic Carnival.

It is hoped that this Carnival will arouse the interest which is due it and that the affair may be made a complete success.

Dr. Clapp and his assistants have worked hard and now the rest lies with the students. It is hoped that they will not fail but respond to the call with true spirit.

In this contest there are to be three events. The horizontal and parallel bars and tumbling.

Men entering may choose three figures in each event. They will be judged by the following schedules: 1 point for perfect retreat, 2 points for retreat, 3 for the figure and 4 for form, making a total of 10 points for each perfect event.

Silver cups will be awarded for first and second place.

Dr. Clapp wishes all men intending to take part in this Carnival to make choice of their events and get them worked up. The doctor will be only too glad to assist anyone in making his choice and he wishes everyone who is to take part to see him soon.

Some time in March a second Carnival will be given in which three more events will be added, namely, the long and side horse and flying rings.

The man gaining the greatest number of points in both these contests will be given the title of University Gymnast and the privilege of wearing an "N."

The practice for track athletics will begin very shortly. This is to prepare for the Charter Day contest. The exact date for the beginning of this practice will be commenced later.

Mens' Meeting at the Oliver.

"The Greatest Question of the Day," illustrated with a fine selection of stereopticon views will be the subject presented at the big men's mass meeting in the Oliver theatre next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Hon. Frank H. Gamel, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Gamel has a national reputation as an orator and his services have been secured with no small amount of effort. He is at present touring the states, and is drawing magnificent crowds of men wherever he appears. Last week he addressed a large audience at Sioux City, and concerning his oration and himself the Sioux City Journal said: "Many of the colored views with which Mr. Gamel's address was illustrated were highly artistic and made a most pleasing feature in the presentation of the subject. Mr. Gamel is a polished speaker, at times rising to a high degree of finished oratory."

Mr. Harry Wharton, who furnished some high class music a couple of weeks ago, has consented to sing again at this meeting. Mr. Wharton has a most pleasing tone quality and sings with telling effect. He is well known in the city, especially in University circles.

College men will find special interest and enjoyment in this attractive meeting, and a cordial welcome is extended to each one.

Chemical Journal Club.

Saturday morning at 10:30 in room 4, Chemical hall, the following interesting reports will be given:

Mr. Jacobson: The composition of a new delicate indicator from meta toluidine; the obtaining of ethereal oil from the acacia flower, and explaining the aluminio-thermetrical welding process on the generation of intense heat through the combustion of aluminum.

Mr. Woodruff: The bacteria and the nitrogen problem; the digestibility and nutritive value of bread.

Mr. Winchester: Solid hypochlorite of soda; a new match to strike on any surface and not containing phosphorus; quantitative and qualitative analysis of compounds of cobalt; carbide cartridges for acetylene generators, and corn oil in the United States.

To Tour In Europe.

Tomorrow's issue of The Nebraskan will contain an announcement of a proposed Nebraska Tourist's excursion to the exposition at St. Louis and through Europe. This will be of special interest to University people and no reader of The Nebraskan should fail to give special attention to this announcement. Watch for it.

Theft in the Armory.

A few days ago a considerable sum of money was stolen from the ladies' dressing room during gymnasium class. The matter was immediately taken up and suspicion now points strongly toward one person. Should suspicion prove correct the severest of measures will, of course, be adopted, unless the loss is made good before the guilt is fixed.

Professor Bessey is rejoicing over the purchase of a couple of rare old books, which he was so fortunate as to find a few days ago. On Monday morning the mail brought them to him. They are both Linnaean works, one being the very rare first edition of the Philosophia Botanica, published in the year 1751. Later editions are easily picked up, but this one is rarely offered for sale and then only at a high price. The professor considers himself doubly fortunate in getting the book at all, and in not having to pay an exorbitant price for it.

Union Program.

The following program will be presented by the Union Literary society in their hall on the evening of December 4:

- Music, Selected.
- Sketch, Milo Daughters.
- Paper, Ralph Hickel.
- Original Story, Helen Sargent.
- Music, Selected.

Students again had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Bixby. He read a few of his recent poems at convocation yesterday morning and to show their appreciation of Nebraska's renowned poet, the students turned out en masse. The readings were loudly applauded.

Immigration Debate.

Whether or not immigration should be restricted by a literary test and a capitation tax of $25 will be argued in English 15 this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Charles A. Sawyer and C. T. Borg will argue for the affirmative, and E. T. Monroe and James Anderson for the negative.

Union-Doane Debate Postponed.

The debate which was to have taken place between the Union Debating club and Doane College, on December 11, has been postponed to some time in January. It was found that proper preparation could not be made in the short time that was given the speakers. The exact date has not yet been arranged for.

Professor Bessey is reviewing a new book on "Ferns," which appeared within the past few weeks. It is intended for the use of amateur botanists and others who collect specimens not in full fruiting.

Miss Gladys Henry, '00, is attending the Johns Hopkins Medical College.

The class in agricultural entomology has an enrollment of sixty-five.

WILL HOLD COURT

Law Students To Have Practical Experience. Judges Appointed.

The law students have this year enlarged upon their annual practice work and will soon be engaged in pleading the cause of right and justice with fervid eloquence and profound earnestness of argument. They expect to conduct trials after the regular order, having their own judges and all the accommodations that go with a regular session of court. By this practice work they expect to gain an intuition into how it seems to conduct a trial under pressure, instead of limiting their operations to the theoretical points of a case. Prisoners will be tried and convicted at their hands, juries corrupted and lovers torn from each other's arms by the relentless severity of the law.

They intend conducting trials covering the points of law that they have encountered in their courses of study. The walls of the room have been firmly braced and by means of copious ventilation the outward pressure will be reduced and equalized. Before their awesome tribunal the pathos and woe of human existence will be aired in their numerous and varied lights, as the judges, bound by strictest oaths to do their duty, shall measure out justice in an impartial manner.

In one point, however, will the advocates of the law department excel their big brothers of the actual practice. They will not have any sordid motives of gain by ways of fees or compensation to actuate them to pleading the dishonorable and evil causes and preventing the ways of justice to accomplish their own ends. The contests will be ones of logic and mental acuteness alone and the winners can rejoice in the glory of their victories.

The first section of the court officers for the practice work in the law school for the six weeks term beginning January 3, has been announced and is as follows:

Judges of the supreme court: C. F. Cowen, Samuel Reese, E. E. Waltman.

District judges: James M. Armstrong, I. P. Hewitt.

Justices of the peace: Bert Griggs, L. O. Pfeiffer, J. C. McReynolds.

Clerk of the supreme court: C. T. Knapp.

Clerk of the district court: V. M. Towne.

The other two sections will be announced in a few days.

The following have been added as assistants to the editorial staff of the Law Class Book:

Editorial assistants: Nielson, Griggs.

Member of the auditing board, Honold.

Committee on court appointments: McReynolds, Pfeiffer, Towne.

Assistant business managers: Rees, Davis.

The other members of the auditing board will come from the first and second year classes. The purpose of this committee is to control the financial accounts of the Law Year Book, and to see that the surplus is properly disposed of.

Just A Suggestion.

There is nothing that one can give as a Christmas present that is more appreciated than an artistic, life-like portrait.

Money spent in this way goes farther than in any other line. Think of this suggestion. See what we are producing and make an appointment for your sitting immediately.
