Miss Pearle Buck will spend her vacation at Wisner, Neb.

The organic chemistry class will have an interesting examination Friday.

Ethel Howie will be with her uncle at Schuyler, Neb., during her vacation.

The art exhibit has prospects of being better than ever this year.

Miss Rosa Bouton will spend her vacation at her home, Sabetha, Kan.

The faculty of the graduate school will meet Thursday evening at 5 o'clock in U. 109.

Miss Marie Richards of the conservatory is confined to her room with sickness.

The chemical library is being overhauled and is undergoing considerable improvement.

The officers of the cadet battalion will hold their hop in Fraternity hall January 29th, 1904.

Miss Rose Clark, a teacher at Fullerton, Neb., will spend her Christmas vacation with Miss Clara Clark of this city.

Miss Winnie Sherman, a teacher at Red Cloud, Neb., will be in Lincoln during the holidays to attend the institute.

Dr. H. B. Ward has not been able to attend his classes since Friday, when he was hurt in the gymnasium at faculty practice.

Professor Stuff's class in English 5 has come to the climax in their study of Evan Harrington. It will have a large paper to prepare for the class on Friday.

The membership of the Y. W. C. A. is showing a gratifying increase this year. Secretary Ringer expects it to exceed all previous records before the year is ended.

Plans have been made for a considerable rearrangement of the physiological laboratory in the botanical department, in order to accommodate the classes under Professor Heald.

Professor Fogg acted with State Superintendent Fowler and Chancellor Aylesworth of Cotner as judge of the preliminary debate at Wesleyan Monday evening to select the teams to meet Baker and Grand Island.

Another consignment of bricks has been received from Whipple Barracks, Ariz. They will be tested by the students in civil engineering 27 and the results communicated to the company. Lieutenant Ayer, a former University student, is now construction quartermaster at the above mentioned place.

Miss Fossler has succeeded in obtaining fine blood serum for the physiological chemistry class. It was gotten by running defibrinated blood through one of Dr. Haeker's cream separators at the state farm. The difference in specific gravity between the blood corpuscles and the blood serum makes it possible to separate them in the same way that cream is separated from milk.

Take Something Home.

The Armstrong Store is a very pretty place now. Its wealth of holiday goods makes it so. We pride ourselves on having something at least a little better than elsewhere. Service is a partner with prettiness in the gifts you get here. There are a great many things shown that your relatives and friends would like very much to have. Take some of them home with you when you begin the Christmas holiday vacation.
