EDGREN MEMORIAL

Committee Makes Arrangements for Fitting Services.

Arrangements are being made for an Edgren Memorial, which will be held to honor the memory of one who for years was identified with our University. Shortly before the holidays some preliminary steps were taken toward arranging a fitting memorial. A committee was appointed to take charge of affairs and they are able to announce some definite results.

The committee has fixed upon Sunday, February 14th, immediately preceding Charter Day, as a fitting time for holding the services. They will begin at 4 p. m. There will be possibly five speakers. Deans Sherman and Bessey and Professor Fossler would give addresses and a representative citizen of Lincoln will take part. Various phases of Dr. Edgren's life and career will be presented by these gentlemen, and it is intended to make this service a worthy tribute to his memory.

The committee has planned to have these services as simple and unostentatious as possible, knowing well that if Dr. Edgren could have a voice in the matter he would prefer them to be such, because simplicity was the essence of his life. An opportunity will be given to his friends and admirers to meet in a simple manner and to pay their respects to the memory of a man who though simple in many of his tastes, has wrought a vast amount of good and left a benefit in which many of them are partakers. Here in the scene of his former labors his old friends and fellow workers will meet to eulogize his memory.

It is expected that upon this occasion many of Dr. Edgren's old pupils will be present, as well as many who have enjoyed his friendship, some of whom have been associated with him in his work. Our University has had but few such men as him, and it is eminently fitting that the University students and faculty, should meet together in this formal manner to venerate the memory of one whose best achievements were accomplished in the service of this institution. In the time that remains much will be done to make the arrangements for the services as complete as possible.

It may be of interest to the University public to know that Yale University is collecting material for a memorial volume of Dr. Edgren, and no doubt those having charge of the work will be glad to receive whatever help they can get from us who knew him so well. Dr. Edgren is a graduate of Yale, and taught there in the French department of the Sheffield Scientific School for eight years.

HISTORICAL MEETING.

Important Meeting Will Be Held Next Week.

Folders have been issued announcing the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Nebraska State Historical Society, which will be held in Memorial Hall January 12th and 13th. A number of interesting papers and addresses will be given at these meetings, the general subject being "The Making of Nebraska's Constitution." In this subject the law students and students in constitutional history will be especially interested.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday, January 12th, the program beginning at 8 p. m. A number of prominent men will be present, who have had an active part in moulding the constitutional history of the state. The program for this day will be as follows: "The Making of the Constitution of 1866," Judge Geo. B. Lake, Omaha. "The Convention of 1871," Judge Eleazer Wakeley, Omaha.

On Wednesday at 6 p. m. a supper will be served for the members of the State Historical Society at the Lindell hotel, territorial pioneers and friends are also invited. At 8 p. m. there will be a round table on the convention of 1875 conducted by Hon. John L. Webster, president of the convention, and made up of surviving members of that body. The annual business meeting of the society will occur the same evening.

The Nebraska Territorial Pioneers' association will meet in Memorial Hall, Wednesday, January 13, at 2 o'clock p. m. Present officers are: President, Robert W. Furnas, and Acting Secretary Jay Amos Barrett. The public is invited to attend these sessions. Those having valuable information on subjects to be discussed are urged to bring or send them for presentation at the meeting. It may be an interesting fact to know that there are now only five surviving members of the framers of the Constitution of 1866. These are Lorenzo Crounse, Omaha; E. H. Clark, Omaha; B. E. B. Kennedy, Omaha; George B. Lake, Omaha, and James G. Megeath, Salt Lake City. Of the constitutional convention of 1871 there are twenty surviving members, and of the convention of 1875 there are thirty-three members still living.

HARD BATTLE TONIGHT.

Faculty Teams Will Wage War on Each Other.

The faculty of the University will engage in a battle of higher education with the faculty of the High School at the basket ball tournament this evening, and a limited period of convulsive excitement is promised. Some of us coming from western towns have been used to shooting affairs and dynamite explosions, but such pleasantries as these will be dwarfed into utter insignificance in comparison with the frightful calamity that is scheduled this evening both in thrilling proceedings and casualties. The hardened criminal may be moved by an appeal to reason, but the faculty members are above all trivialities and can be held in restraint only so long as there is nothing to rouse them up. In fact they are callous beings and nothing in the ordinary routine of every day existence can rouse them or energize them at all, but show them a basket ball and a team to play against, and they are into it in a twinkling with all the fiery vim and hopeful zeal of a Swede woman cleaning a stove-pipe.

To say the game this evening will be stirring is putting it mildly. It might as well be said that a tornado or a domestic science kitchen is stirring. Both teams have traditions to uphold and a noble cause to inspire them. Our representatives have adopted a pacific policy, their policy being to "Love your fellowmen and smite your enemies." Blood will flow freely and scratched faces will be in predominance. All the stray slivers on the floor will find an abiding place in various parts of faculty wearing apparel. Beyond all this we dare not prophesy. This is but the preface to the tale that will be told this evening, and all who attend the game will be willing to bear witness that we have been guilty of no exaggeration.

Children Attend Art Exhi

The library building was swarmed with children from the city schools yesterday, who were taking advantage of the special admission to the art exhibit. A price of 10 cents for grade children and 15 cents for scholars from the high school had been offered and several delegations were on the grounds early in the afternoon together with their instructors. From now on till the end of the exhibit these rates will be in force for school children and special programs will be arranged for their benefit. This evening Professor Fling will lecture on different pictures in the display for the instruction of the "Kids." The assistants will also be on hand to correct any extravagant ideas that may arise.

Medical Society Poster.

A unique poster appeared on the bulletin board yesterday announcing a special meeting of the Medical Society this evening at 8 o'clock. The usual program will be carried out and business of an important character will be discussed. Dr. Winnett Orr will be present.

A well-executed skull against a red back-ground commands immediate attention to the announcement and the poster should prove a most effective reminder to members of the society.

Union Debate Postponed.

The Union-Doane debate, which was to have been held next week, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the Union debaters being delayed in the preparation of their argument by the press of work since the close of the holidays. The question for debate has, however, been decided upon, and it is hoped that the event may come off in about two weeks.

The following is the question: "Resolved, That the South is justified in disfranchising the Negro." The Unions will have the affirmative, being represented by James Pfeiffer and McReynolds.

Changes in Y. M. C. A. Rooms.

Several changes have been made in the Y. M. C. A. rooms during the last week. The rooms have been thoroughly cleaned and the border around the rug in the west room is newly painted. The small telephone booth in the front room has been fitted up with combs, clothes and hair brushes, and a wash-basin with towels. These articles will doubtless enhance the popularity of the association rooms in inestimable degree.

Two Basket Ball Games ToNight. Girls Get Game.

Negotiations are under way between Nebraska and Minnesota for the arrangement of a basket ball game between two teams of young ladies. The game, if arranged, will be played there. If this can be made a go, it will certainly be an excellent thing for the young ladies gymnastics, and will also help to stir up an interest in basket ball among the students. Nothing definite concerning this game is yet known.

Tonight is the night of the games with the Lincoln High School and our first team, and the High School faculty and our faculty. These are the second games of the season, and no one can afford to miss them. Both teams have worked hard and most certainly deserve your support. Please remember this is personal.

The necessary equipments for the team have been ordered and the men who have not complete outfits will soon be attended to. The same suits will be worn this year as last; they proved very satisfactory then and will without doubt do so again.

New shoes for the team have been ordered. They are what are known as suction shoes and can be worn to very great advantage on extremely slippery floors. The sole of the shoe has numerous hollows on it and these by means of suction when the foot is placed on the floor, make it impossible for the wearer to slip.

The team were placed at a disadvantage on their western trip by having to play on floors which were so slippery that they were unable to keep their feet. These new shoes will do away with that.

Nothing new has developed in the football schedule for next year. The only games for which the date has been set are Bellevue the Saturday before Thanksgiving, and Illinois on Thanksgiving. Iowa has been scheduled but the date has not been set.

The Athletic Board is waiting now to hear from Minnesota. Arrangements are pending the arrival of this letter.

The prospects for a strong schedule next year are very bright, and all football enthusiasts will find a series of games starting them in the face next year that will make their souls glad and their hearts cry out for sheer joy.

No new manager has yet been elected and probably will not be for some little time. Mr. Buckner is still acting.

Dr. Clapp wishes to announce that the prescription books are now ready and may be had by applying to him at his office at any time.

Physical education 19 will meet in the lecture room today.

On Saturday afternoon from 1:30 to 2:30 the form gymnastic class and also the Freshmen and Scrub basket ball men will meet.

From 2:30 to 3:30 the Charter Day and track team men and from 3:30 to 4:30 the first-team basket ball men meet for practice.

Inter-State Debate Question.

Late yesterday afternoon the question for the Kansas-Nebraska debate had not been settled. In a letter to Professor Fogg, received yesterday morning, Professor Frazier stated that the debating council at one meeting on Monday had failed to debate out a question to send but that the council was to try again on Tuesday. Kansas is anxious to rush a settlement.
