Editorial Remarks

Unless ordered discontinued The Daily Nebraskan will be sent the coming semester to all present subscribers.

The circulation of a petition for the election of the editor and business manager of the Sombrero by the Sophomore class is an important movement, yet matters have come to such a pass as to require this action, in order that the book next year may be made a success. Such methods that have prevailed in the past can not continue to operate flagrantly and still be countenanced. A change is necessary and a majority of the Sophomore class are active in demanding it as well as the University public in general. The action of the class is required in order that the remedy may be devised and applied. They must take their stand and take it now, as they are now doing, in order that good may be accomplished. The book must be made to primarily fulfill the desires and purposes of the class and of the University instead of certain individuals. Sufficient returns must be forthcoming for the investment made, and only under such conditions can the best results be obtained. Graft is injurious to any system with which it is connected, and whatever the individual thus obtains is detrimental to the cause which he is expected to serve. The management of the Sombrero has degenerated into a form of speculation in which those in charge have used every endeavor to benefit themselves and at the same time to get it something that might pass for a class book, which is only such in name. If the proper per cent of the amounts raised should be devoted to making the book as perfect and complete as possible, then the results would be much more satisfactory. No one demands that those in charge should not receive reasonable compensation. But the University desires that more of the money collected should be devoted to the book than has been in the past, and that those in charge should not unduly recompense themselves at the expense of the book. In order that such conditions may exist it is necessary that men who can be trusted be put in charge of the work. Such men can best be secured by election by the class. Therefore it is for the best interests of the Sophomore class and the University that an election be held and the best men chosen.

The World-Herald has been calling the attention of the public to the views of prominent citizens concerning the Temple Fund, and has dwelt upon these as being conclusive and of great weight and importance. After reading them, it is interesting to note the opinions expressed of late by some of the most prominent citizens and most keen-sighted business men of the state, which are beginning to come forth as a reaction against the agitation that the World-Herald has aroused among those of its own persuasion. We find that the views of the people of the state are not only not altogether one-sided, but there is a bare possibility that the leaning may be the other way—and it probably is. The World-Herald has sought primarily the opinions of its sympathizers, hoping to bury whatever adverse views that might be received in the larger mass. But what seems the strangest thing now is that it is at present occupied briefly in combatting opinions favorable to the Temple Fund. This is indeed a change in the state of affairs. The people of the state are beginning to assert themselves and it is evident they do not care to fall in with the attacks made by the World-Herald. The paper has vigorously presented one side, but now by its being constantly compelled to combat views opposite to its own, it is evident that the tide has set in the other direction and that its force is being felt.

The basket ball game tonight is an inviting attraction. Those who come out will be well rewarded for their pains, as the Y. M. C. A. men are a strong aggregation, and our team will have an excellent chance to show its strength. The team has developed constantly, and the Omaha players will have their hands full in beating them. Let everyone attend this game.

Suspended For Cribbing.

Seven students have been suspended from the University of Wisconsin Law School. One has been punished because of immoral conduct, and six others have fallen victims to the vigilance of the new dean of the college of law in seeking out those who cheat in examinations. Professor Harry Richards, the new dean, surprised the law department ten days ago by warning that infractions of the rule against "cribbing" examinations would be watched for by monitors and the offenders would be suspended.
