Other Colleges

Drake University expects to send 150 students to the state oratorical contest at Grinnell.

The Brown Herald tells of an Andrews club that was organized recently at Brown.

The baseball team at Leland-Stanford University has been playing games all winter.

According to the Volante, South Dakota will soon be able to boast of fraternities which will be members of national organizations.

The Purdue Exponent champions the necessity and desirability of establishing an honor system in examinations at its institution.

The only paper on our exchange list exclusively edited by girls is the Barnard Bulletin from Barnard College, the Woman's school of Columbia University.

A new feature has been introduced into the University of California, that of lending books from the University library to the prisoners at the Folsom penitentiary.

A movement has been started at the University of Idaho, for the organization of a student body, seeking as an object the satisfactory control of all student enterprises.

At a fancy dress party at Michigan recently a young college woman brought a young man friend with her in disguise, and as a consequence both were suspended temporarily and have just now finished their forced leave of absence.

The fraternities of Chicago University have organized a bowling league, and a close race for the leadership is in progress among them. At present Alpha Delta Phi leads, with Delta Kappa Epsilon second, Psi U. third and Delta U. fourth.

The Board of Control at Illinois has been compelled to take action forbidding the unauthorized wearing of the official Varsity uniform several parties have been guilty of the act, whom the board believes should be made to desist from the practice.

The Daily Iowan points with pride to the fact that it has never been necessary to expel students from Iowa because of dishonesty in examinations. Not a single case of "cribbing" has been reported at that institution this year.

An intercollegiate gymnastic meet will be held at Madison, Wis., on March 19th, in which teams from Chicago, Minnesota, Grinnell and Wisconsin will compete. Handsome silver cups will be given to the individual winners in all of the events and a banner to the winning team.

The Syracuse Daily Orange has a print shop of its own and telegraphic facilities. The Michigan Daily also has its own plant. The work is done entirely by students and the lighter University printing is handled. The paper is under faculty control, the former stockholders having disposed of their interests for $2,250.

During drill recently two students at Minnesota had stolen from them gold watches worth $30 each. They had left their vests hanging in a closet adjacent to the drill room, and when they returned for their wearing apparel they found their timepieces gone. The Minnesota Daily says it was one of the boldest and most clever thefts ever committed at that institution.

Yankton College is the recipient of a $15,000 gift from Andrew Carnegie for the purpose of putting up a library building. And yet South Dakota people are not strenuously exerting themselves to point out the awful curse that will accompany such a gift from a trust magnate whose history has never been written up. They show a common-sense in this matter and are not loathe to see one of their institutions benefited by such a substantial gift.
