

More or Less Local

The debating society of the Lincoln Academy will meet next Tuesday evening instead of Saturday evening as usual.

Professor Fogg went to Crete yesterday. He acted as judge of the annual debate between Doane and York colleges which took place last evening.

The Chemical Journal club meets today. Dr. Dales will give a talk on "Magnesium Salts." Mr. Keyser and Mr. King will also give short talks on supplementary subjects.

H. C. Parmelee, formerly a student in the department of chemistry, is now located in Denver, Colo., and has an established, thriving business as assayer and commercial chemist.

The students in the history department under Professor Aylsworth received a pleasant surprise by the presentation of a list of pointed questions last Thursday and Friday mornings.

An announcement has been issued for the Farmers' Institute of Chambers, Neb., which will be held March 8, partly under the auspices of the University of Nebraska.

R. A. Pembroke has withdrawn from the university because of outside work.

Plans for remodeling the chemical building are now under consideration. Professor Nicholson says, according to present plans, and considering the money appropriated, the space in the present laboratories will be enlarged ten per cent.

An extensive library will be placed in the new physics building on its completion next fall. Reference books and treatise pertaining to physics, meteorology, astronomy, botany, zoology and the various departments of science.

The library has received a large shipment of books from Germany. Among them are the first nine volumes of Hazlett's works, which will be of interest to the English literature department; a set of four volumes of Garnett and Gosse History of English Literature, and an interesting set of twelve volumes of "Hebbel's Werke." The shipment also includes nine volumes on mathematics.

In Society.

Miss Bertha Shidler, of York, is visiting her Kappa sisters.

Miss Kate Heacock, who has been quite ill with la grippe, is now nearly recovered.

Beta Theta Pi entertained informally at a house party last night at the chapter house.

Following initiation, Kappa Alpha Theta will hold a "Katsup" tonight at the chapter house.

The first public dance since the Junior Prom will be given tonight at the armory after the Wisconsin-Nebraska basket ball game. One ticket admits to both the game and the hop and as both causes are of the best a large attendance should be on hand.

Tonight at 10 o'clock, at the Lindell hotel, the annual banquet of Sigma Alpha Epsilon occurs. Covers will be laid for sixty. Cliff Crooks, '03, as toastmaster, will call for responses to the following toasts:

1. Our Heritage—C. W. Tefft.
2. Nebraska Lambda Pi—Ralph Minor.
3. Here and There—George Bartlett.
4. Lincoln Alumni Association—E. B. Sawyer.
5. Joys and Sorrows of a Frat House—R. A. Wheeler.
6. Outside and In—Elliot B. Graves.
7. Prospects—Edward Quillen.
8. Sigma Alpha Epsilon—E. B. Sanford.
9. Good Night—Cliff Crooks.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon gave a delightful dancing party last night at Walsh hall. Purple and gold of S. A. E. university colors and palms transformed the hall very prettily. Eddie Walt's orchestra furnished the music and light refreshments were served between times. Some forty couples were in attendance. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Funke, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Minor. Out-of-town Sig Alphas here for the party and banquet are: E. B. Sanford of Kansas City, D. L. Jouvenat of Ainsworth, Oscar Veit of Grand Island, Jepe of Tekamah and Stewart of York.

Next week, on Friday evening, at Fraternity hall, occurs the annual non-commissioned officers' hop. This affair in years past has been one of the most enjoyable of all the informal dances. Coming, as it does, sometime after the Prom, and when Lent adds its sombre tone to such festivities, it is just far enough removed from the beginning of self-denial for the less devout, the majority, to thoroughly enjoy themselves. R. H. White and M. B. Case have the affair in charge.

Program.

The program rendered by the new members of the Palladian Literary society last evening was pronounced a success and the hearty applause from the seniors who sat back and watched the skill and stagecraft of the amateur performers echoed from all corners of the hall.

There were in all about thirty participants, who wore a garb to resemble some Mother Goose character, which was acted out by the different members while a motherly voice from behind the curtain sounded forth the childish rhymes, with Miss Anderson furnishing the musical cadence.

Intermingled with these acts were pantomimes and burlesques in scrtachology, and other buffoonery materialized by the youthful minds to jest the older members.

For the success of the program much of the honor goes to Miss O'Connell, who has worked hard to perfect the performance and the new members in turn liberally contributed of their time and careful attention to make it a success.

The war between Japan and Russia will be a great educational affair for the young American and George Bros., printers, would be glad of an opportunity to improve your education in their line. Alt. phone, 3400; Bell, A-349. Fraternity building.

Record of Literary References

This book will be found of indispensable value to students and teachers in their study when they desire to take notes and references on important subjects.

The convenient and systematic arrangement of this record has been well commented on by eminent educators of this institution as a valuable adjunct in the student's library and study room.

The purpose of the book is to aid the student in systematically arranging his notes and references in Literature, History, Science, etc., in a way that will materially help him in his studies, and facilitate his work.

What some of our leading educators say concerning the usefulness and advantages of this record:

I have examined your "Record of Literary References" and consider it of great value to teachers and advanced pupils. It is a practical aid to the reader in systematically arranging his library study so as to make it available for future use.
