Editorial Remarks

While we would like to have seen the girls' team preserve their splendid past record unbroken, yet there is some satisfaction to be gained from the results of their trip to Minneapolis. In the first place all the technical features that tend to engender bitterness or a ungenerous rivalry were entirely lacking in both of the contests played, and the girls upon their return had nothing but words of commendation to offer concerning the treatment accorded them. The Gopher management certainly spared no pains to make their entertainment as pleasing and enjoyable as possible, and its generosity is appreciated here. It is such things as these that make up a true sportsman-like spirit in athletics. Athletic contests are always carried out to the best advantage and with the most satisfactory results when mutual good feeling prevails. This is a principle that we have tried to cultivate here, and its ultimate establishment would mean so much gain for the betterment of athletics. Such conduct as was exhibited by the management at Minnesota is certainly worthy of emulation, and we hope that it may be our good fortune to entertain athletic teams from there in the future.

The report of the committee on colleges and high school athletics, which was adopted by the convention of the Northwestern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Chicago, can not fail to appeal to those who have at heart the interests of athletics. One of the great abuses for which correction was sought was the alluring of promising athletes from high schools by larger institutions. This practice has been carried on largely at several institutions, until the high school authorities have been roused to a spirit of protest. Besides, other action taken was the passing of a resolution that no man be allowed to play football until after he has spent a year at the institution which he attends. This is a step in the right direction, and it would be a good thing if a rule of this kind should be established and faithfully observed in every part of the country.

It is certain almost beyond a doubt that we can not meet Iowa in debate. We were late in getting our schedule arranged with Washington and Kansas, and a third contest now is almost an impossibility. We would be glad to meet Iowa if conditions of time and place would admit. The conditions of time are especially vital. At the best the debate could be held only at the beginning of examination week, when the debaters would have to be busy casting up accounts with their instructors. A debate with Iowa is a desirable thing, but we can not undertake what lack of time forbids.

The accumulation of material for the educational exhibit is approaching completion, and it will be but a short time now until the final shipment is made. Few people realize the amount of work and worry that it has taken to collect, classify and pack the material received. Yet great pains have been taken to make our exhibit all commensurate with the means at hand, and in this those in charge have succeeded well.

Date for Competitive Drill.

Captain Chase has announced the date of the annual competitive drill of the Cadet battalion as Friday, May 29. This is somewhat later than usual, as the annual encampment will begin the next Tuesday. Last year the two dates were arranged so that over a week intervened in which the cadets were afforded the opportunity to prepare for the strenuousness of camp life. The first dress parade will be held on the campus April 7. The men have already been instructed to provide themselves with white duck trousers before April 6, and battalion drill is being held almost nightly in order to acquaint them with company and battalion movements. The place of the encampment has not been settled yet. Captain Chase is, however, in correspondence with several towns and expects to make a choice this week.

Great Convention at Chicago.

Professor Barber has returned from the convention of the Northwestern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held at Chicago last week. He expresses himself well pleased with the entertainment provided. Two especially important papers were read, one being by ex-President Draper of Illinois, and the other by President King of Oberlin. Athletics and accredited schools were discussed to considerable length. The resolutions drawn up concerning athletics have been published in the daily papers and are attracting a great deal of attention.

We will supply you with an engraved copper plate and 100 visiting cards in any size for $1.00. We will print 100 cards from your own plate for 75c. The Lincoln Book Store.
