Editorial Remarks

We do not think that it is too early to make suggestions regarding the election of student members of the athletic board, and to lay emphasis on the fact that the places that will be open should go to men who are capable and willing to serve the athletics for the good of the cause. In the coming election it is desirable that the best men in the University should be put up, and voted for, regardless of their various affiliations. In brief, men are wanted, who are reasonable, capable, and conservative, and who will attend the meetings regularly, taking a conscientious interest in the work to be done and bearing their share of the burden.

Comparatively few students realize the importance of a place on the athletic board and the opportunity that is opened up to student members. Such a state of affairs ought not to be. Every man should consider it a personal duty to see that his opinion is represented, and should not be backward in coming out to vote. Credit is due to those who do take a live interest in the matter, and others should be willing to profit by their example. In a matter so important all University men should take a vigorous interest, since there is so much at stake. Let those who have not been active wake up and consider the privilege they have been foregoing. Some may think that it does not matter who is elected. It does matter. A student member of the board can exercise a great deal of influence upon athletics, as he is in a position where his opinion and vote may count with telling results. Few places within the gift of the student body carry with them more responsibility and influence.

Now let each man remember these two important facts—the desirability of the most capable men in the University being elected and the duty of each one having the privilege to come out and vote. And let him also remember the feasibility of pushing into seclusion the practice of securing votes by a mere circulation of quarters and the conditions thus made possible. Keeping these things in mind, let each one lend his efforts to steps for improvement, and also come out and perform his duty by voting for those in whom he has the most confidence.

The girls' basket ball team has fittingly closed the season with a victory over Minnesota, whereof we have reason to be glad. But we certainly have much cause for rejoicing upon taking into account the many pleasant and agreeable features in connection with the contest. Much good is accomplished when representatives from two great Universities can meet in a social and pleasant way, and carry out an athletic contest under such conditions. This together with the success attending our team ought to strengthen basket ball here, as it is thus made to recommend itself more favorably to the public, and be a more attractive game among the girls themselves. The same conditions should be borne out at Minnesota.

The large attendance at the game shows how readily the conditions prevailing in connection with the contest gain the favor of the public. We are glad to have met Minnesota and hope that all future meetings may be as pleasant.

Do not allow your attention to be detracted from the Ladies' Minstrel Show Friday evening. It is needless to comment upon the talent of those participating or upon the good work of the Dramatic Club, as both of these are well known. It might be well, though, to again call attention to the fact that the Temple Fund will benefit, which cause is certainly deserving of support. Entertainments given by University talent are always attractive and this one will be especially so. Hence all students should cancel all other dates, and attend the show Thursday evening, and show their appreciation of deserving efforts.

Friday evening the Kansas debaters will come athirst for victory. In view of the strenuous preparations that we know that Kansas is making, and of the incentives to greatest effort on her part, we do not think that we err in saying that this will be the greatest debate in which Nebraska ever took part. Interest in debate has increased wonderfully here this year and it is evident that the contest for Friday evening has attracted wide attention, and Memorial Hall should be packed to its fullest capacity upon this occasion.

Michigan is to be congratulated upon the fine showing that her representatives made at the big track meet at Philadelphia. It was a victory of the west over the east. The east has always claimed the superiority, but the Michigan team showed that such a claim upon one instance at least could not be sustained. Whenever a western team achieves such a notable triumph we can well rejoice as it marks a shortening of the lead maintained by the east over the west in general athletics.

Seniors at Chapel Today.

The Senior's program, which was published in Saturday's Nebraskan, will be held at convocation this morning. By request we again publish it below:

REVIEW OF REVIEWS

How Can I Keep Up with the Times?

IT is pretty hard to keep well informed on the political news, the scientific news, the literary news, the educational movements, the great business developments, the hundreds of interesting and valuable articles in the hundreds of excellent magazines. About the only way it can be done by the average busy man and woman is to read a magazine like "The Review of Reviews," and, as it is the only magazine of the sort, it is a good thing to send $2.50 for a year's subscription.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says:
"I know that through its columns views have been presented to me that I could not otherwise have had access to; because all earnest and thoughtful men, no matter how widely their ideas diverge, are given free utterance in its columns."

EX-PRESIDENT GROVER CLEVELAND says:
"I consider it a very valuable addition to my library."
