Y W C A Notes

Home Missions was the topic of the union association meeting yesterday. Rev. Ball of the Grace Lutheran church in his interesting address presented some of the factors which make up that great and most noble work; these were most prominent in the great flood of emigrants and the congestion of people in the large cities. Culture and education can not lift these people, for in the past fifteen years during which education has advanced rapidly, crime has kept pace, and nothing but the blood of Jesus can raise them up.

Special music by Mr. Cornell and Miss Albion added to the interest. After the meeting over fifty people met in the Y. W. room for a social song service.

Miss Moore, at the noon meeting Monday, read selections from Hillis—"How the Inner Light Failed," which portrays so clearly how with disuse any part of the body, whether limb or mind, becomes useless and gives as an example the word of Darwin, who buried in scientific research, lost all desire for art, poetry and religion, which once occupied so great a place in his life.

The May Morning Breakfast, May 14, is a sure thing.

The social committee is hard at work planning a four-course breakfast, table decorations, and advertising.

Save your appetites and tell your boarding house ladies not to serve breakfast on Saturday, May 14.

Come to the dining room in St. Paul's church to eat under University colors, and be served by University girls, 7 to 9 a. m., May 14.

The students in plant pathology have begun writing up their final reports and papers. The first topic was assigned on Wednesday, and the papers are to be brought in next Wednesday, when another topic will be assigned, and so the work will go on until the end of the semester. The best papers are to be published.

Professor Bessey is distributing a short paper on "The Agriculture of the Caucasus Mountains," which recently appeared in the proceedings of the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science. The paper was read in the meeting of the society in St. Louis last winter.
