SPLENDID VICTORY

Uni. Team Beats its old Enemy Notre Dame, 5 to 4.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 3.—(Special to The Nebraskan.)—Nebraska won out today in a wonderful contest by a score of 5 to 4. Adams for Nebraska pitched a steady game, and held the enemy close at critical stages. Notre Dame succeeded in making eleven hits to Nebraska's six, but Adams kept them scattered so that she could not turn them to good account. The Nebraskans played a fast game in the field, making but one error, and bunched their hits when they meant runs. Notre Dame made four errors. Batteries—Notre Dame, Alderman and Antoine; Nebraska, Adams and Bender.

The news that Nebraska defeated Notre Dame was a cause for a rejoicing among University fans last night. This is the first time that a Nebraska team has ever defeated Notre Dame, which University had come to be regarded as our hoodoo. This together with the victory over Minnesota, makes two fine contests that the boys have won, and if they cease to be erratic, they stand a good show of bagging the rest of the games to be played.

Day before yesterday Notre Dame was beaten by Illinois in a wonderful game, the score standing 2 to 1. Yesterday she was determined to forget this defeat by smothering Nebraska. Our victory is more significant and remarkable therefore and may be considered as outweighing by far the previous defeats of the Nebraskans.

The Athletic Board met at 7:30 last evening, but did not accomplish anything material. A committee to investigate the matter of girls voting in board elections was referred to a committee composed of Drs. Clapp and Condra and Mr. Borg. Since this committee will not report until after election, it is probable that no changes in the present system of voting will be made this year.

The handicap meet, which was to have been held Saturday, has been declared off. Most of the men who are to go on the trip west have been decided on, and only the sprinters are to be chosen. For these a few try-outs will be held next Saturday. The men are all practicing hard, a considerable development being shown.

The men who are to compete on the Boulder team, are as follows:
100-yard dash—Johnson, Welsh, Kingsbury.
220-yard dash—Johnson, Welsh, Kingsbury, Mitchell.
440-yard dash—Kingsbury, Pratt.
880-yard run—Aurand, Pratt, Heaton, Wright.
One mile run—Law, Wells, Heaton, Wright.
220-yard hurdles—Kingsbury, Bell.
220-yard hurdles—Kingsbury, Bell, Mitchell.
Pole vault—Clayton, Welsh, Leavitt.
High jump—Johnson, Mitchell, Bell.
Broam jump—Johnson, Welsh, Clayton.
Shot put—Bell, Jordan.
Discus throw—Fowler, Bell, Jordan.
Hammer throw—Clayton, Bell, Jordan.

Relay race—Four of: Kingsbury, Pratt, Johnson, Aurand, Welsh, Clayton, Bell, Leavitt.

Freshman Party

EXCAVATION BEGINS

Preparations on Physics Building Being Pushed.

possible speed. The dirt from the excavation will be taken to the north end of the football field, and used to fill in the hollow there. On account of there being no basement in the building, however, this will not go far toward filling in the field, but the problem will be solved by using the earth taken from two long heating shafts which are to be dug soon. One of these will be from the junction box just west of the main building, to the library, and the other from the box near the "chem. lab." to the new administration building. It is thought that this will amply fill the needs of the athletic board for fixing up the fill. The retaining wall and fence are being placed at the north extremity of the field, and the north end of the grandstand is nearly completed. A driveway has been made just south of the stand for hauling building materials onto the campus.

During the process of building the gates of the inclosure for the structure will be locked in order to protect the materials from the nuisance of kids and Freshmen. The Daily Nebraskan invites all who may wish to watch the progress made to the magnificent view afforded from the window of our business office. No charge will be made.

The work on the "chem. lab." store room is in progress. This will also aid in solving the athletic field difficulty. Constructor Chowins is at work on the plans for the new benches, desks and other equipment for the renovated "lab." and is modeling them as far as possible from the most modern laboratories in Paris, London, Berlin, New York, and other scientific centers. The new laboratory gives promise already of being one of the most complete and efficient in the west.

Freshman May Party.

The Freshmen May Party will be held at Walsh hall, Thursday, May 12. It will open at 8:30 prompt, with a Freshman debate, followed by hand to hand talks by leading members of the class, next a scientific paper, closing the program by a play, "The Obstinate Family." All this jolly and full of fun, not serious.

Immediately after the program dancing begins, lasting for about three hours. For those who do not dance, in the parlors games of all sorts, cards, etc., will be furnished. Light refreshments will be in order.

TICKETS ON SALE

Outlook Good for Glee Club Concert Friday Night.

Reserved seat tickets, at 50 and 75 cents, for the Glee club concert at the Oliver theatre, are now on sale at the theatre. Already a large number have been sold or reserved, and to secure good ones they should be obtained early. The electric sign on University hall appears again, this time bringing home to the students that the Glee club is to appear and that their support is needed. All winter the club has been hard at work, at no slight expense of time, labor and money, and is a credit to the University. The fact that the Glee club has not yet sung in public is due to the lateness in starting in some measure, but mostly to the thoroughness of their work. The whole University, in spite of counter attractions, should turn out to greet the club at its initial appearance.

EXHIBIT AT FAIR

J. A. Barret Returns After Placing Historical Exhibit.

J. Amos Barrett, of the Historical society, returned Monday from St. Louis, where he has been for the past week busily engaged in arranging our historical society exhibit. Some forty cases of material were shipped from here, making, when properly mounted, a very neat exhibit. Our material has been placed in the Main Agricultural building, in a part set aside for Nebraska. A portion of this part has been fitted up for an office for the Japanese commission, and the remainder as an extempore theatre, with staging and a seating capacity of four or five hundred. This theatre is darkened for the use of stereopticon views, but when not being employed for this purpose it is brilliantly lighted. A corridor and a court run around the sides of the room, forming a lobby in which our material has been displayed in heavy-plate glass cases. Harry Saedd, who is secretary of the Nebraska commission, has expressed himself as greatly gratified with the arrangement.

Mr. Barrett attended the opening of the fair. He reports, however, that the work of arranging the exhibits is very backward, as 70 per cent of the material is still to be installed. The grounds are crowded with material which must be hustled into place as rapidly as possible. Mr. Barrett also reports meeting Dr. Barbour and finding him very busy, his work having been delayed by the superintendent requiring that the facade of the court in which the educational exhibit has been placed, be reconstructed.

BOOK OUT TO-DAY

Senior Annual Completed and Ready for Sale.

The Senior Annual is out and ready for sale today, being clad in a new and decidedly unique attire that in itself recommends the book because of its neatness and taste. The cover is done on cream parchment in three beautifully blended colors, and the eye is at once attracted by the novelty and taste of the whole. Deep blue, bronze and scarlet are the colors, and they show up with an effect that is praiseworthy of the printer's art.

The book is dedicated to Prof. Grove E. Barber, in an effective piece of verse, regarding which apologies are made to Kipling. The individual write-ups occupy the first place of interest. In this connection and others it is natural to remark on the cuts which are indeed of a superior quality, and show up finely. Athletics are treated first in the special departments. An article by Dr. Roscoe Pound on "Athletics in the Eighties" forms a fitting and interesting introduction to this department.

The picture of the football team is given, as well as those of the Senior football, boys' basket ball, and girls' basket ball teams.

A rather gaunt and emaciated figure clad in a heavy cloak, introduces us to the fraternities of this University. In the write-ups engraved lettering is used to good effect, and makes the names of the various fraternities stand out in bold relief.

A lady of refined appearance, and engaged in reading a book, while a coterie of owls sit meditatively above her, gives warning that the literary societies are about to be taken up for treatment.

The literary department follows, and is up to a high standard, a number of distinctively new features having been introduced. Three short stories and a number of sketches and poems constitute this department. The "Faculty Foolishness" is treated with good effect, which three full page illustrations serve to heighten. Professor Taylor is gracefully mounted on his horse, which evidently displays a kindly inclination to dislodge him, as it is standing on its hind legs in a rather unstable manner. Professor Chase in the next illustration is shown rushing to the rescue of his wounded comrades with an awe-inspiring assortment of saws, hammers, etc. In the final scene Professors Ross and Caldwell are shown shaking hands after their memorable contest of brawn and muscle.

In the calendar a large number of persons, events and members of the faculty come in for a scoring. Some sharp work is evident in them. The usual number of roasts and poems are to be discerned. On the whole the book is recommended by its all-round features, and ought to have a very successful sale.
