Competition for Prizes Offered.

The following communication has been received at the Executive office, and may interest University students:
New York, April 30, 1904.

Permit me to remind you of the fact that competition for the "Hall Prizes" of the American Institute of Civics is open to, and is invited from members of the University of Nebraska, and to ask that, in such manner as you think proper, they be informed of this fact.

"International Arbitration," is suggested as a subject especially worthy of attention, but papers upon any other subject, bearing upon affairs of government, citizenship, or social order generally; including affairs of administration, statecraft, etc., are acceptable.

Papers intended for use in connection with the college program are not barred on this account. Either the original or a duplicate of papers to be submitted should be forwarded at the earliest opportunity, and not later than May 10th.

M. H. WAITE, President.
Fulton Chambers, 102 Fulton St., New York.

Junior Program at Chapel.

The Junior class gave a delightful program in chapel yesterday morning and they are to be congratulated upon the showing they have made. The following numbers were given after the devotional exercises by Mr. Hunter:

- Vocal Solo, Miss Lansing.
- Reading, Charles Sawyer.
- Piano Solo, Miss McEachron.
- Trombone Solo, Clare Cornell.
- Vocal Solo, Miss McCune.

Each selection was well rendered, and worthy of commendation. The accompaniments by Miss Raymond on the organ, and Miss Grace McWhinney on the piano, who played for Mr. Cornell's trombone solo, were indeed very fine.

The program was certainly a success, which reveals the quality of the Junior class.

Tennis Results.

The tennis meet was brought down to the semi-finals yesterday. Scribner beat Burt after three sets of hard play.

Scribner, 2-6-6; Burt, 6-2-3.
Mathewson won from Catlin in two sets.

Mathewson, 6-7.
Catlin, 1-5.

Today Tyner plays Scribner and Mathewson plays Cassady. The finals will be played Thursday. The winners are to meet Iowa on May 13 and 14.

Company A's Blowout.

Captain Stanley entertained Company A at its annual blow-out, at the Phi Gamma Delta house yesterday evening. A number of the old men were present and assisted to revive the historic traditions of Company A. Talks were made by Commandant Chase, Captain Stanley and others of the officers. The men were enabled to intermingle and become better acquainted, and much enthusiasm in the company's interests was aroused.

Junior Reception Committee.

The following committee for the Junior reception has been appointed: O. A. Mather, chairman; Frank Brookings, master of ceremonies; Frank Beers, R. D. Kille, Dean Driscoll, J. Bender, E. B. Loomis, M. B. Case, J. G. Tanlen, J. Green; Misses Deweese, Horning, Cooper, Allene McEachron. The committee will meet in U. 107 on Thursday at 10 a. m.
