CONTINUE TO WIN

Cornhuskers Down Grinnell by a Score of 9 to 4.

Grinnell, Ia., May 5.—(Special to The Nebraskan.)—Nebraska added another to her list of victories today by defeating Grinnell 9 to 4. She has struck her gait and can't be stopped. Heavy hitting on the part of Nebraska was the feature of the game, the ball being safely landed upon eleven times. Grinnell made four hits, which, aided by Nebraska's generosity, allowed her to score four runs. Nebraska made five errors, while Grinnell piled up six, outdoing our team quite valiantly in that respect. The batteries were Beltzer and Bender for Nebraska and Swalm and Benson for Grinnell.

Another victory for Nebraska! Our men are coming in winners on the home stretch. Grinnell beat Drake by a score of 11 to 1, and holds the Iowa championship. This shows that the victory of the team yesterday amounts to something. We have a fast aggregation of players, and when they play their game they are a hard bunch to beat. Today the team plays Highland Park at Des Moines and Saturday it meets Creighton College at Omaha.

The Chicago University correspondent to the Michigan Daily says the following in regard to the game with Nebraska:

"Today we defeated Nebraska by 3 to 1 in rather a unique game. During the first four innings it looked like a slugging match, as each team drove ball after ball to deep center and left field, but both pitchers settled down and in one of the fastest games seen on Marshall Field for a long time, the Cornhuskers were defeated. Stillman, our freshman pitcher from Morgan Park, covered left field, and pulled down an apparent home-run when a hit would have brought two Nebraskans over the plate. Chicago showed up especially well on infield flies, while Bender, Nebraska's backstop, caught the best game seen on the local diamond this year. Ellsworth pitched for Chicago and Morse for Nebraska."

The events for the meet with Colorado have been definitely decided, and are as follows:

100, 220, 440, 880 yards, one mile and two miles.

Running high jump, running broad jump.

Pole vault.
120 and 220 yards hurdles.

Hammer throw.

Discus throw.

Shot-put.

Half-mile relay.

From twelve to fourteen men will go on the trip. Preliminaries will be held Saturday and Monday to decide on the competitors for the sprints.

It should be remembered that the names of all candidates for athletic board must be handed in to Dr. Clapp, or at least mailed by 6 o'clock Saturday evening, May 7.

The efficiency of our physical education department, due to the excellent work of Mrs. Clapp, has gained a good reputation in the east. Miss Alice Towne, '05, has been offered the position of instructor of gymnastics at the summer school of the University of Chicago this coming summer. This, however, she had to refuse because she had accepted a position as instructor in heavy gymnastics at the Chautauqua School of Physical Education, Chautauqua, New York.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT OLIVER THEATRE FRIDAY, MAY 6th Tickets, 75 and 50c

THE CONCERT TONIGHT.

Glee Club Will Furnish a Fine Entertainment.

Tonight the Glee Club Concert. Do not let a few intervening hours chase this fact from under the cover of your brain. Keep it well in mind and show up tonight at the Oliver prepared for an evening of excellent enjoyment. Be there to hear the men sing, and bear witness to the fact that the present glee club is the best we ever had and that it is a credit to the university. If you appreciate good music, you can best show your taste by coming out and let others see that you know where it can be found.

These are a few words in explanation as to why each university student should come out, and here are a few more. Can any organization of the nature of the glee club thrive in the university, unless it is recognized and supported, no matter how deserving and meritorious it may be? It takes a great deal of time and trouble to build up a good glee club, and we have reason to feel proud because this task has been so successfully accomplished here. We have a fine organization and that alone ought to move us to come out.

Tickets for the concert have been selling well, but there is room for more, and it will be well for others to avail themselves of this opportunity to attend a concert of such a superior quality. The boxes will all be occupied, mostly by the various sororities. The fraternities will also be in evidence, special sections of seats having been reserved for them.

Mr. Phil Hudson of the Conservatory of Music will be the organist, and the club will be led by Mr. Eames, also of the Conservatory. Mr. Eames deserves special credit for the earnest and faithful work he has done in training the club. The men have shown a good spirit in coming out regularly for practice. It is certainly their due that they be greeted by a crowded house tonight.

A SPLENDID BOOK.

General Verdict Stamps Senior Annual a Success.

The Senior Annual has been drawing much favorable comment, and it seems pretty well agreed that the book is a marked improvement over any of its predecessors. The typographical work on the book is splendidly finished and its many excellencies in this department shine forth effectively. In the individual write-ups an effort has been made to state a few simple facts regarding each person, the board having deemed it the best practice to omit all humorous references.

A member of the faculty said: "It is one of the neatest productions of the kind that I have ever seen. The book is well edited and the literary work is good. The typographical work throughout is very attractive, and I think that the editors ought to congratulate themselves upon its general fine appearance."

Barbs Meet In Convention and Put Up Five Candidates.

Yesterday afternoon the "Barbs" of the University held a mass meeting in U. 197, for the purpose of nominating five candidates for the Athletic Board. The meeting was held in Palladian hall, and was called to order by E. E. Myers, who was elected temporary chairman. Russel Moore was elected temporary secretary. Upon motion the temporary appointments were made permanent.

After a spirited balloting, C. T. Borg, E. A. Barta, Frank Beers, Fletcher Lane and W. J. Woods were elected candidates. Ten men were out for the places, and these five were chosen. The candidates were placed in nomination, with the instructions that no ballot should be counted unless it contained the name of at least one and no more than two members of the law school.

The placards announcing the meeting were put out yesterday morning, and were the cause of much surprise to many of the barb element. Yet, although short notice was given, the room was filled with a demonstrative throng at the time of the meeting. The University yells were given repeatedly and much enthusiasm aroused.

This is practically the first attempt at concerted action by the barbs in the University on any important action of general University interest. They assert that if they ever expect to get proper representation on the Athletic Board, they must organize and prosecute a vigorous campaign. Such a theory is in general correct upon any occasion, and it is certainly true that in union there is strength.

Their lack of representation on the Athletic Board in the past has been due to the disinclination of the men to come out and vote, and the barbs themselves are willing to admit that they have suffered through lack of common interest and of an understanding among themselves. But by combining they hope to better their condition. The fraternity ticket is always strong because of the organization behind it, and the barbs appear to have become aware of the fact and to see the advantage of doing some organizing for themselves.

How their candidates will fare is a matter of speculation, although varying opinions are expressed on the subject. One thing is apparent. The barbs will reap certain advantages because of this step toward organization, but at the same time strenuous efforts must be made by them if they hope to succeed. University politics has in the main been largely a barb-fraternity scrap, but never before has the line been drawn so sharply as to the Athletic Board elections. The idea of combination was ruled out of consideration, and the barbs have decided upon a straight ticket. Every prospect points to an interesting fight at the coming election, as much concern is being shown by students in general.

Seniors who want duplicate pictures from last year's negatives can get them at the rate quoted. Townsend.

YORK IS SELECTED

Place of Cadet Encampment Announced. Competitive Drill.

The annual encampment of the cadet battalion will, in all probability, be held at York this spring. This was the statement made by Captain Chase yesterday morning in an interview for the Nebraskan, and settles definitely all the conjecture and speculation which has been in circulation for the past month in regard to the matter. The encampment has come to have a universal interest throughout the state and several towns made strong efforts to secure it this year. Among these were Falls City, Milford, Nebraska City and York. Falls City was, however, considered too far from Lincoln, as was also the case with Nebraska City. Milford is somewhat smaller and did not offer other advantages which might be had in the other towns. All in all, York seems to be an ideal place for the affair, and it is thought that its selection will meet general approval. Captain Chase left last evening to look over the ground and make definite arrangements. We are informed that several beautiful camping grounds are available, while the size of the city and the fact that it is the home of many university students seems to insure a most pleasant outing for the soldiers.

The battalion will leave Lincoln Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, May 24, and return Saturday night. Further announcements concerning the daily program while at camp, and other matters pertaining to excursions, etc., will be made soon.

The following is the program for the annual competitive drill of the battalion, which will be held at F. & M. park, Friday afternoon, May 20, at 3 o'clock:
