GRINNELL TODAY

First Real Game of The Season Occurs This Afternoon.

Muddy Field Will Not Interfere With Game.—Booth Talks.

The drizzling rain yesterday afternoon not only prevented any final practice for the game this afternoon, but put the field in a very soggy condition, which will doubtless result in a much closer score than would result if the field were dry. Indeed, it promises to be such another game as that with Knox two years ago, which resulted in a score of 1-0, and throughout the length of which the rooters were kept on the uneasy seat for fear of a touch-down by the Galesburg men.

Of course, the mud will cause some fumbles, but these will only add excitement for the rooters, and if it is clear this afternoon the east bleachers will be packed with a howling bunch of rooters. The first team will be put in for Nebraska at the start, and with every man in perfect condition a close and exciting game is assured.

Coach Booth said last night, that while prospects for a good game tomorrow had been excellent during the week, the wet weather of yesterday and today will hamper the team greatly and make a closer score probable than would otherwise be the case. In regard to the team, the coach expressed the opinion that indications had never been brighter. He spoke especially well of the work of Bender and Benedict, but rapped a little on some of the other old men who seem, he said, a little too confident.

Mr. Booth is much disappointed at the condition of the field. The cutting down of space by the physics building hampers the players in every department of the game. In addition to this, the ground just north of the building has been used during the summer as a sort of stone quarry and is full of chips and brick bats. To remedy this the south end of the field was covered with loose dirt last week, but this has made matters worse than ever, making that end much higher than the other one, without accomplishing the object at which it was aimed. "The time has come," the coach said, "when the university must make better arrangements for her athletics. Sport cannot live long under such conditions as are now rapidly piling up."

The Grinnell men arrived last night at 7:20 over the Rock Island, and are being entertained at the Lindoll. They report themselves in fine condition and are confident of scoring on the Cornhuskers even if they do not win. The rooting leaders will be there with fresh voices and big megaphones, and if the rooters do their share victory is assured.

Captain Benedict announces the following line-up for his team:

Grinnell.	Nebraska.
Mugekens	Center	Mills
McDonald	Right Guard	Borg
Clark	Left Guard	Barta
Shifflet	Right Tackle	Burns
Clark	Right End	Robertson
Carlson	Left End	Johnson
Auracher (C.)	Q.-B.	Benedict (C.)
Spencer	Right Half	Bender
Jouqua	Left Half	Eager
Little	Full Back	Mason, G.
Mason, coach.		Booth, coach.

The athletic board will next Monday night elect managers for baseball, basketball and track teams. All candidates must hand in their names to Dr. Clapp before the meeting. It is not necessary to be a player to be a manager, and, indeed, sometimes not desirable to be one. Any man who has the time and the energy is fitted to become a manager.

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD.

The Early Indications in Debating Look Promising.

Of the six men who took part in the debates with Kansas and Washington universities last spring but two are back this fall. These are Mr. G. A. Lee and Mr. C. A. Sawyer. Mr. Lee will not take part in debating this year, however, as he is carrying heavy work in the law school, is assisting Professor Fogg in the department of rhetoric, and has charge of the new course in argumentation at the Lincoln Academy. Mr. E. R. Buckner, who has taken so prominent a part in debating at Nebraska for the past three years, is now at Harvard, together with Ira Ryner, '03, C. E. Shorey, '03, Guy Peters, '02, and O. A. Mather, ex-'05. Sawyer will debate again this year, and Levy and Clark, alternates last year, are also back.

Mr. W. W. Bride, of Georgetown, D. C., a graduate of Georgetown University Law School, and one of Georgetown's champion debaters, is taking a year of graduate work in the Nebraska College of Law. Mr. Bride was a member of Georgetown's three victorious teams which cleared up everything in the east, and will prove a great addition to Professor Fogg's pupils here. Mr. A. C. Hough, of Ottawa University, Kansas, is also at Nebraska this year. Mr. Hugh represented his school in the Kansas intercollegiate league last year.

Mr. G. L. Campbell, formerly of Bellevue, who has also done intercollegiate work, has registered here this year.

At present two debates have already been arranged for. These are with Kansas University, at Lawrence, and Washington University, of St. Louis, at Lincoln. Both of these schools were beaten by Nebraska last year, and the case will doubtless be repeated next spring. They will take place somewhat earlier than last year.

An exhibit which attracts much attention at the St. Louis fair this summer was composed of pictures of Nebraska's famous seven victorious squads, and posters announcing each debate. This was supplemented by a larger placard: "Seven debates—seven victories. University of Nebraska, 1902-'04."

The registration in the courses in argumentation is larger than ever before—almost double last year's.

NEW CANDIDATE.

Lincoln High School Man Would be '08 President.

A new candidate for the presidency of the Freshman class has been announced. Mr. Ray Rainbolt of Lincoln, is the courageous youth in question. It is reported on good authority that the Lincoln freshmen have combined on Mr. Rainbolt as their choice, and that an active campaign will be started immediately in his interests.

It is not known whether the Sophomores have been consulted in regard to Mr. Rainbolt's chances for election.

TODAY THE LAST

Temple Fund Pledges Must All be in This Evening.

The Expiration of Time for Raising the Rockefeller Building Money.

Today the time set for the raising of the university's portion of the Temple building fund expires. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., as well as the various literary societies of the university, have been at work for a week rounding up the individual pledges that go to make up their sums and already the building is assured. Mr. Wyer said last night that it could almost certainly be stated that the entire $33,000 would either be in the hands of the committee or easily available when needed.

Preliminary plans for the building have already been drawn up and elevations taken showing the probable appearance of the building. If final plans can be secured in time, excavating will be commenced this fall. It is considered unlikely that this can be done before next spring, however, owing to the rush of business that is occupying architects all over the country at present. It is intended that plans be submitted from various firms in order that the best available may be secured.

Should it prove impossible to begin work this fall, it will be commenced as soon as the frost is out of the ground next spring, and pressed with all possible speed.

MAY HOLD MEET.

Tennis People May Arrange Big Tournament Here.

The tennis meet that had been arranged between the teams of Minnesota and Nebraska, to take place in Minneapolis this fall, has been postponed until next April, on account of the lateness of the northern season. The Nebraska men are considering the proposition of writing Missouri, Kansas and Iowa universities to send teams here instead, to participate in a joint tournament some time next month. It is thought that the severance of athletic relations between the two former schools and Nebraska would not do away with this scheme, on account of tennis not receiving the support of the athletic authorities here. It is not known yet, however, whether Kansas and Missouri would care to enter the meet, and definite arrangements have accordingly not been completed. It will be remembered that Nebraska and Iowa met on the courts last spring, and a return match with the Iowans could probably be arranged. Scribner and Cassidy, Nebraska's stars last year, are both back and ought to play even better tennis than they did last spring, on account of the practice both have had during the summer.

At the last meeting of the athletic board "N.s" were granted to these two men in recognition of their work in the Nebraska-Minnesota meet in the spring.
