Editorial Remarks

It was a source of some surprise and considerable gratification to Nebraskans at the Creighton game last Saturday to observe the enthusiasm and pride exhibited by the Omaha Medics over their right to actively participate in rooting for the Scarlet and Cream. It is indeed a pleasant revelation to find oneself still among friends in a strange city. But the Omaha Medics showed themselves to be possessed of genuine Cornhusker spirit. They were out in full force, and vied with the Lincoln rooters in cheering the team. The alumni of Omaha also showed ample evidence that they had not for-

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The Sunday meeting was very inspiring. Miss Withers had charge of the Bible reading, after which Miss Coppock addressed the girls on "What God has Given Us," and "What We Should Give to Him."

Mrs. F. M. Hall then talked about the past work of the Y. W. C. A. and urged the girls to attend the coming convention, that they might the better plan and work in the future.

After the meeting the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. members met in the Y. W. C. A. room and held a twenty-minute song service. This service will be held each week hereafter, after the usual afternoon meeting.

A recent issue of The Nebraskan announced that the annual state convention of the Young Woman's Christian Association would be held at University Place, October 21-23.

Many excellent speakers will appear on the program, the most important being two secretaries of the American (national) committee, who will make two addresses each, beside some short talks. These secretaries come with broad experience and are always a source of great inspiration both to an audience and to individuals. There will be three Bible hours, probably in charge of a popular professor from the State University, whose work has been widely and favorably known in the state. It will be a particular pleasure to have also Mrs. Emma F. Byers, general secretary of the large city association in Omaha, who, besides making an important address on Saturday, will occupy the pulpit on Sunday morning. Mrs. Byers is well known in Nebraska through the splendid work at the head of which she stands in Omaha. Miss Gold Corwin, the state secretary, needs no introduction to the young women of the colleges and cities where she has visited. She will travel over the southern and western parts of the state before convention, organizing and visiting associations and working up as large delegations as possible. Miss Florence N. Hanson, general secretary of the Lincoln city association, will make an important address, touching the world's work, which she has had opportunity of studying during her travel abroad. Miss Myra Withers, the successful secretary of the State University association, will assist in many ways to make the convention enthusiastic and helpful. At this time Miss Abbie Burns, who has the chair of modern languages at Nebraska Wesleyan university, will

Our Mission furniture is the only thing. It is made for people who admire artistic, home-like furnishings. It is unique and pleasing because of its striking simplicity, effective coloring and finish, strength and durability, and above all because it is comfortable, sensible furniture.

We make a specialty of Mission furniture and at all times have a fine line of the same. Above cut illustrates the finest little rocker in our stock for the money. Weathered oak, Spanish leather upholstered seat. Height of back 33 in. $7.00.

Lower cut illustrates our $11 rocker, finished as above rocker, but larger in every respect. Height of back 38 inches!

In the Botanical Seminar on Friday afternoon Dr. Ernst Bessey described the appearance of the country and its vegetation from the Caspian sea eastward for 1,200 to 1,500 miles. Much of the country is a dry, sandy desert, and only from 2 to 3 per cent of the area is under cultivation. In the mountains of northeastern Turkestan, where there is a greater rainfall, he found the thin-shelled walnut growing wild, and also the apple and pear. There have not escaped from cultivation, but are the original wild forms from which our cultivated varieties have been derived.

In October the Bay View Reading Club, J. M. Hall, President, and Central Office in Detroit, Mich., will enter upon its thirteenth year. This is one of the great educational institutions of the day. It is organized in every state and territory and outside of this country, and embraces over 1,000 literary clubs and more than 15,000 members, besides hundreds who study alone. It offers this year two popular courses, one on Germany, Belgium and Denmark, the other on the theme of the hour, Russia and Japan.

Any students interested in playing chess are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 7 o'clock this evening. The universities of South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Wisconsin all have flourishing chess clubs and the Iowas have challenged Nebraska to a match by correspondence. Some money and supplies have already been raised for a chess club here and the intention is to organize this evening.

gotten their alma mater. All in all, the Creighton game provided one of the pleasantest features of the football season and should have a place on succeeding schedules.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Roosevelt Men to Form a Club Tomorrow Night.

The Republicans of the University will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the chapel to organize the University Roosevelt League. The state Republican committee will furnish a speaker. Following a short address, officers will be elected and matters of vital importance discussed.

It will be an enthusiastic gathering and should not be missed. Every Republican is requested to come and register.

formally take her place as chairman of the state committee to which position she was elected while studying abroad several months ago. Miss Burns is well known as an efficient worker and popular professor, and comes to this place with experience in both local and foreign work. Perhaps best known of all is Mrs. Naomi K. Easterday of Lincoln, a member of the American committee, and one of the founders of the association movement. We are particularly pleased to have this capable woman with us. There will, of course, be a score or more of prominent women of the state, members of faculties, state and advisory committees and city boards, as well as large numbers of local workers and alumni. A further announcement of the program will follow.
