Editorial Remarks

Today the rooters will have their first chance to disprove the charge that they are "dead ones," which The Nebraskan has seriously suspected for some time. Manager Davis in a talk with The Nebraskan since his return from Minnesota emphasized more strongly than ever the need for more enthusiasm. The team today begins its hardest work it must have the visible, material backing of the student body. We believe that it does have this backing, but there must be some tangible evidence of the fact. GET OUT AND ROOT!

The interest which is being manifested in the glee club this year should result in the best season the club has ever experienced. The Nebraskan

In Other Colleges

Six hundred dollars was cleared at the University of California by the production of "Hamlet."

The arrest was made recently of two Columbia students for taking entrance examinations as proxies for others.

Northwestern and Chicago will meet in football today. This game is attended with much interest, as it will clear up the western football outlook somewhat.

The game on Saturday between Brown University and the University of Philadelphia played at Philadelphia, showed that Brown's football squad is the strongest that it has been for years.

Students at the Cincinnati University are desirous of wearing caps and gowns on the campus. It is planned that this college attire shall be donned by all students during their entire four years' course.

William Stibell, who was last year quarterback and captain of the University of Washington football squad, is now trying for tackle at the University of Chicago. Coach Stagg is jubilant over his new "man."

One of the Princeton students, Raymond Fosdick, '35, has been appointed by the republican state committee of New Jersey to stump that part of the state in the interest of the republican party. This is an almost unprecedented honor, as Mr. Fosdick is still attending college.

A comic opera, "His Highness the Boy," written by two University of Chicago men, will be produced at the La Salle Theater Nov. 14th. The author, A. Frank Adams, is a Senior and his co-worker, Will M. Hough, is a special student at the university. Joseph E. Howard, a composer of popular songs, has written the music.

A novel trip is being planned for the Thanksgiving game at Ann Arbor by a number of Chicago University boys. They expect to rent a box car, paint it in Chicago colors, decorate with Chicago banners and enter Ann Arbor in state. The car will accommodate about thirty men.

Coach Yost of Michigan is still making negotiations for the Thanksgiving game. It seems that Columbia has not yet refused to play and the students there are desirous for the game. Negotiations between the two colleges continue, but meanwhile Coach Yost heartily commends the efforts that are being made to secure university credit for the members. We believe this movement is calculated to result in good for the club, and consequently should contribute to the life of the university. Every man with a good voice should try for a position on the club. If he does not make it, he will at least have the consolation of knowing that he is much better prepared to GET OUT AND ROOT!

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

Noted Lecturer Will Give Address Sunday at 3:00 O'clock.

The men's meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. in Memorial Hall promises to be the largest meeting of the semester. Dr. Greene has consented to give his address entitled "A Thing Every Man Ought to Know." Those who have heard this address need no urging to be present. Several men who have heard it two or even three times, have expressed their approval with words of highest commendation. No new man in the university can afford to let this opportunity slip by.

Dr. Greene is superintendent of the state hospital for the insane. In this position he has had various opportunities for observation in matters pertaining to the welfare of humanity. His position has required strength of mind and body to an exceedingly high degree. Being equipped as he is, he has succeeded in his chosen work. From the experience which he has gained in this work, he comes to us as a man of authority in his subject. He is an exceedingly pleasant speaker and holds the attention of his audience from first to last.

The committee in charge are fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. H. H. Husted, one of Lincoln's most accomplished musicians. Mr. Husted has studied the violin for many years and has taught considerably. He has a treat in store for every one who attends. The meeting begins promptly at 3 o'clock and closes at 4 sharp.

Our own chancellor is greatly interested in this meeting, as seen by his sentiment expressed in the following: "I deem this address of extreme importance to every young man, and I urge you to be present."
