"BUTTINSKIES"

"Commandant Chase's Braves" Intrude on Football Field.

Are Puffblown to Keep off, However, and Practice Continues.

Considerable comment and excitement was caused in athletic circles Tuesday night when Commandant Chase marched his true and tried cadet warriors onto the athletic field and put a stop to all football practice for the evening. The athletic authorities were very indignant over Commandant Chase's action and were heard to express themselves in rather strenuous terms.

One person, close to the athletic management expressed himself to a Nebraskan reporter as follows: "We do not deny Commandant Chase's right to come on to the field with his 'tin soldiers,' as we understand he has been given the privilege by the proper authorities, but we do question his propriety in doing so when he knows the boys need every minute of practice they can get, and his actions in sending the cadets in to interfere with the practice is about on a par with his attitude towards athletics and everything else, for that matter except drill. It is in harmony with his action the night the football team went to Minnesota, when he wouldn't let the battalion go to the train to cheer the boys off."

Captain Chase, when seen yesterday consented to abandon the field until after Thanksgiving, so last night the boys had the field all to themselves and no further trouble is expected from this source.

When interviewed by a reporter, Captain Chase said:

"I can't see where anyone has a kick coming on the military department. The military department is a help to athletics instead of a hindrance, as some people think. Look at the work the band does for the games. I have never interfered with them. If I were opposed to athletics, as some people say I am, I could lock every one of the band instruments up and refuse to allow the band to play, but I never have done so. When the boys asked me to excuse the battalion I did not refuse them and furthermore I excused the cadets fifteen minutes early and about 200 of them went down to the train. I didn't want to give the parties who asked the favor any encouragement one way or the other, but said I would see. I wanted them to wait for orders. That's the military of it. They must learn to obey and wait for orders, you understand."

A GOOD GAME.

Neither Side Was Able to Score in Today's Game.

One of the best class games ever played on the university campus was played by the Freshman and Sophomores in the second of the inter-class series yesterday afternoon. The score was 0-0, but that hardly expresses the relative merit of the two teams, as shown in the game itself. The looseness of interference and the fumbling which usually characterizes class football games was almost entirely absent, and the play of each team would have been a credit to any small college. A majority of the men on the Sophomore team are on the varsity scrubs, while a number of the Freshmen were ex-high school stars, too light for first-team and showed a variety of attacks that was unusual for a class team. Their tackle cross-bucks gained half a chalk line every time. Captain King, who was on the Lincoln high last year, was particularly strong on offensive work. For the Sophomores Drain and Murphy played the best game, only the long punts of the former saving his team from a touchdown on several occasions.

During the entire game the ball was in the territory of the Sophomores, but in the last couple of minutes of play they took a brace and circled the Freshmen right end for about thirty yards. Excepting this spurt they were unable to make any gains whatever against the splendid defense of their opponents, and whenever they got the ball were forced to punt on the third down.

The first half opened with the Freshmen kicking off and the Sophomores were immediately forced to punt. After this the Freshmen slowly worked the ball down to the fifteen yard line, where the Sophomores got the ball on a fumble, and repeated the process. Time was called with the ball on the Sophomore twenty yard line.

The Sophs kicked off in the second half and the Freshmen worked the ball down to the five yard line by tackle bucks, but lost it on downs. The Sophs kicked and regained the ball on their ten yard line by a fumble, and then advanced the pigskin to the forty yard line, when time was called.

The result of this game necessitates another to decide who shall play the winner of the Junior-Senior game. The second contest will probably occur this week, and a large crowd will doubtless come out for it.

All the members of the team except Cotton, who is still convalescing, were out for practice last night, and after being put through a thorough practice of signals were lined up against the scrubs and put through some heavy scrimmaging. They succeeded in making five or six touchdowns on the scrubs and are showing up in good shape for the Thanksgiving game.

New formations were practiced and entire new signals gone through with. Coaches Booth and Westover were working hard with the men to prepare them for a hard fight, and Dean Ringer was out giving the boys a few pointers also.

NEW PROFESSORSHIP.

The State Inspector is Pushed up a Notch.

At the latest meeting of the regents the office of state inspector of high schools was made into a full professorship, with all the privileges connected therewith. Therefore Mr. F. M. Hodgman, now professor of the department of inspection, is given all the privileges of a professor and takes active part in all deliberations of the university senate. The article published in the Nebraskan a week ago, in which it stated that the state inspector was allowed to be present at meetings of the senate, but not allowed to have a voice in its deliberations was printed before it was known that the change had been made and was therefore incorrect in this one point.

NOTHING IN IT.

Report That Heston Will be Next Coach is Unfounded.

Considerable excitement has been caused lately by the Lincoln daily papers announcing that Coach Booth was to be succeeded by Heston, Michigan's famous full back this year. While none of the articles claimed to be authentic, and were admitted to be based entirely on rumor, still considerable credence was given the story, and students are beginning to wonder how they will like "Heston, the new coach."

As a matter of fact the athletic board has entered into no negotiations with Heston, whatever, and although a committee has been appointed to look into the matter of a new coach, nothing has been done toward this end, and nothing will be done until it is ascertained whether Booth desires to stay or not. Until this time, the committee announces, there is nothing necessary to be done.

While we are not quoting the athletic board as an authority for it, still the Nebraskan is free to say that if Booth desires to stay he will be the unanimous choice of the athletic board for another year, and until he announces that he does not care to stay another year there will be "nothing doing" with Heston, for any one else.

Mr. Booth's views on the matter have been fully explained in the Nebraskan, and so far as can be seen now into the future, Booth will wear his own shoes another year.

NO "COMPS."

Everybody Will Have to Pay for Bellevue Game.

As half the proceeds of the Bellevue game are to be devoted to the Shedd benefit, it is desired that as much money be made from it as possible, so the athletic management announces that absolutely no complimentary tickets will be issued, and all who desire to see the game will have to "cough up." None of the players, nor any of the other parties who usually receive complimentary tickets will be allowed a single ticket free, and the management of the Nebraskan was obliged to notify its staff late last night, to save up their money and be ready for the worst, as there would be no royal path to the Bellevue game. Manager Davis is desirous of getting as large an attendance as possible and is considering the advisability of taxing himself and Coach Booth for admission. His decision will be announced later on.

The season passes, issued early in the fall will also be barred.

The Famous will give a special discount of 10 per cent to university students on all purchases of millinery, kid gloves, corsets, etc.

PERSHING RIFLES

Interesting Facts Relating to the Cadet Crack Company.

Stating Rules of Membership and How It Is Conducted.

The Pershing rifles derived their name from former commander of cadets, John J. Pershing, now captain in the United States army. It was organized to promote proficiency in military drill and the rule to admit to membership only well drilled men who desired to attain especial proficiency has been strenuously lived up to in the past and is being enforced this year.

Students who have had one semester of drill in the university or an equivalent elsewhere, are eligible to membership. Dues are nominal. Each year a handsome gold medal is offered for proficiency in individual drill, the winner of three consecutive contests or drill-downs receiving permanent possession of the medals which have been won "for keeps" by Joel Stevens, '98; Jerome Langer, 1901 and L. A. Sheldon, '05.

Last year under Captain Stanley the Pershings made a very enviable reputation and it is hoped that an equally creditable showing may be made this year. With the new drill regulations this furnishes a splendid opportunity for the experienced men and non-coms to keep up and ahead of the rest of the battalion. Certain phases of the drill will be taken up that are generally dispensed with or merely touched on in the battalion, owing to the short time students are required to drill.

There are many former Pershings attending the university, some of whom have made known that they cannot drill this year. Others intend to drill but have not yet reported. In order to simplify matters a list from last year's roll is published below. Those whose dues and fines are paid in full may be excused for a limited time or dropped "in good standing" upon application to the captain.

Those whose dues and fines are not paid will be allowed a limited time to settle with Mr. A. E. Palen, treasurer, and the ones who do not avail themselves of this opportunity will be dropped "not in good standing." The list is as follows: Adams, Anderson, Crites, Denny, Hirshey, Higgins, Lane, Legro, Miller, McComb, Nelson, Palen, Peterson, Pool, Ramsey, Ross, Richards, Scott, Smith, Skeen, Wheeler, Wilson, Stone, Moore, Thompson, Syford, Kendall, Moser, Raber, Rush, Elmendorf, Murphy, Flake, Walfron, Towne, McCullom, Wellensick, Sheldon.

The company meets every Thursday night at 7:15 sharp, for a short, snappy drill and as they are dismissed promptly at 8 o'clock the men still have two hours to study before the library's close.

The following list of applications have been received and approved: Fred C. Ayer, O. S. Copeland, J. R. Dumont, B. K. Eaton, C. G. Johnson, H. A. Joslin, John McNicol, C. C. McWilliams, C. E. Mickey, R. V. Pepperburg, H. W. Post, I. T. Rohrer, C. D. Slaughter, Roy Stines.

Applications will be received for a limited time only, after which no more will be received until the second semester.
