TONIGHT THE TIME

The Great County Fair Attracting Much Attention.

Owner of Red Lynx to be Announced This Evening.

This evening at 7 o'clock the second annual County Fair of the Y. W. C. A. will open its doors upon the exhibition for which so many and such glowing promises have been made during the past two weeks. Many fascinating booths have been arranged and side shows without number have been set up to lure the coin from the eager sight-seer.

Chief interest rests in the famous Red Lynx.

Word was received yesterday that the animal had been allowed to pass through the custom house only on condition that it be not used for exhibition purposes. This apparently put an end to its exhibition tonight at the County Fair.

Dean Pound, however, interested himself in the case, and it has been decided to risk the exhibition tonight.

It has leaked out that the donor of the lynx is a graduate of the university, now serving in the Philippine constabulary. The young lady's name has not been discovered, but it is known that she is guarding the little animal closely. Her identity may be discovered at the Fair tonight.

Mr. Leroy's Curio booth includes looks 20 years old, andirons, snuffers, hour glasses, boot warmers, real lace and hand embroidery, all 150 to 300 years old. Gods and flags of all nations, scarfs, pillows, gowns and other relics from former university students now in foreign fields.

Booths close at 9 and free program will be given consisting of Japanese song in costume, special appropriate stunts, plantation melodies by the colored chorus, clogging by Dutch girls in costume, topsy-turvy concert, and closing with a grand march of all the fancy dress participators and specialties on the Pike.

Engineering Notes.

John Hamaker, ex-mechanic arts, '03, who has been working on the testing floor at the Fairbanks, Morse Co., at Beloit, Wis., has been transferred to the office.

O. H. Timmerman is reported sick with a rather severe attack of pneumonia. He had been feeling badly for several days and on Monday was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital.

A. A. Steel, civil engineering, '99, has been making briquetting tests at the fuel-testing plant of the United States Geological Survey at the World's Fair. His work has been done under the direction of Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt of the survey.

George J. Lyon, '99, is professor of civil engineering in Colorado college, at Colorado Springs. Mr. Lyon is a graduate of the general scientific group, having taken his electives in engineering and supplemented his course here with work at Columbia university.

"The Electoral college is the only college that has been able to exist so long without the aid of a football team."—Ex.

"She Stoops to Conquer" is to be given shortly by the Dramatic club at Columbus, O.

The second brief in Prof. Fogg's Rhetoric 13 was handed in yesterday.

Several new electric lights have been installed in the library.

If you got it at Armstrong's, it's right.

ANOTHER ASPIRANT

North Dakota Wants Debate. Other Debating News.

Another challenge for inter-collegiate debate has arrived. This time it is from the University of North Dakota. The men of the north want to arrange for a joint debate—the first of a series, they hope—to be held any time suitable to Nebraska during the winter or spring.

It is understood that arrangements for the inter-collegiate debates of the year will be announced in the very near future.

The Rhetoric 15 debate this week was on whether or not the army cadet should be re-established. The discussion, which was decidedly interesting, was carried on by L. E. Legro, who opened; E. M. Marvin, who replied for the negative; Mason Wheeler, who vouched up the affirmative case, and W. L. Clark, who concluded for the negative.

The Rhetoric 17 debate yesterday afternoon on the adoption of the Initiative and referendum in Nebraska, was a rattling good one. Hanlen opened clearly for the affirmative and Brookings came back with rapid rebuttal. Levy ended strongly for the affirmative and Sawyer for the negative. The rebuttal arguments called out high praise from Professor Fogg.

The Maxwell Debating club, composed of law students, holds regular meetings in the law lecture room. This evening the following will speak on the question: "Resolved, That those who are too ignorant to read the constitution of the United States with a fair understanding should be disfranchised."

Affirmative, Getmeyer, Carey and Green. Negative, Burgren, Butler and Colaver.

Although the membership of this society is limited to law men, students of other departments of the university are cordially invited to visit.

The Students' Debating club will meet Saturday evening in the Union hall. The question for debate will be on the Initiative and Referendum. The speakers will be Swan and Sherlock on the affirmative, and Anderson and Levy on the negative. As usual a glad hand will be extended to all visitors.

The Yale debating management has extended a special invitation to members of the Harvard Debating club to attend the Yale-Princeton debate at New Haven last evening.

Bible study is being introduced at many of the fraternity houses in this country. The fraternities of Ohio have taken up the innovation.

A fund is being raised at Lehigh to assist needy college football players and athletes to obtain their education.

About thirty books are stored up in the librarian's office, which have been left in the reading room by students.

SET THE DATE

Senior Prom, to be Held St. Patrick's Day.

At a meeting of the Senior Prom committee yesterday morning, the date for the Prom, was determined upon. March 17 (St. Patrick's day) was chosen.

The Prom, will probably be held as usual at the Lincoln hotel. The following is the committee in charge of the arrangements:

Robert White, chairman; John Bender, master of ceremonies; James Van Burg, Elmer Davis, Lucy Jones, Herbert States, Thomas Fleming, Edna Spears, Elizabeth Hancock, Lillian Timms, Harry Roberts, Katherine Lunny, Frank Beers, Emma Moirrel, Ruth Wilson, Alice Towne, Mary Harris.

PERSHING RIFLE HOP

Will be Held at Lincoln Hotel January 13.

The date for the annual Pershing Rifles hop has been announced as Friday evening, January 13. The hop will be held at the Lincoln hotel.

This will be the first strictly formal social event of the year, and will probably be well attended. Eddie Walt's full orchestra will furnish the music, and refreshments will be served. James McGeachin is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements, and C. D. Wilson master-of-ceremonies.

Pedagogical Club to Meet.

A meeting of the University Pedagogical club will be held in room U212 next Wednesday evening. Mr. W. A. Sullick, of the Lincoln city library will speak on "Personal Characteristics That Influence Employment and Success in Teachers." All students interested in teaching are invited to attend.

Sophomore Caps Appear.

The Sophomore caps have made their appearance on the campus and are attracting much attention, being the first class caps to show up so far this year. The caps are almost identical with the famous '07 caps, which suffered such an irglorious fate at the hands of the Sophomores last year, the only difference being in the lettering. An unusually large number seem to have been sold.

University men are eating and drinking good things at the city Y. M. C. A. Spa. They enjoy home-made pies, bread and sandwiches of the best quality.

There are 15,000 living alumni of Michigan university. This is the largest of any institution of learning in the United States.

Several lockers for students' books are soon to be placed in the basement of the library.

LOSE FIRST GAME

Cornhuskers Defeated in Close Contest.

Highland Park Team Proves a Strong Antagonist.

Highland Park defeated Nebraska last night in the opening game of the season by a score of 38 to 33. Short passes and superior team work by the visitors were responsible for their victory. The short pass seems more certain and effective than the long, swift pass of the home team. The Nebraska team seemed unable to hold the ball on these long passes and many times when it would have meant points.

Both teams fouled frequently, giving many chances for free tries. Tysseling, for Highland, and Hagensick, for Nebraska scored many points for their respective teams from the foul line.

The individual work of the Nebraska team was good. Tysseling threw the most goals for Highland. The lineup was as follows:

Nebraska.	Highland.
Burruss .....	F..... Middleton
Hagensick .....	F..... Tysseling
Moser .....	C..... Johnson
Meyer .....	C.....
Hoar .....	G..... Stark
Durkee, Beers, .....	G..... Fitzgerald
Officials—Referee, Hamilton. Umpire, Hewitt.

TYRELL TO FILL DATE.

Gen. Sweeney Will Not be at Oliver Sunday.

General Sweeney, who was to have addressed the men's meeting at the Oliver tomorrow, has telegraphed Mr. Mayne that he cannot be present. Mr. Mayne telegraphed at once to Hon. Frank G. Tyrell, of St. Louis. He was to have spoken two weeks ago, but was prevented from doing so. Tomorrow, however, he will fill his engagement.

Mr. Tyrell is one of the most prominent men in Missouri. He played an important part in the election of governor there this fall. He is a brilliant and eloquent orator, and inspires intense enthusiasm in his audiences.

The doors of the Oliver will open at 3:30 sharp. Admission free. All men invited.

Mr. Charles Melle, who is now instructor at the Agricultural college at Manhattan, Kan., and who was in charge of the Agricultural exhibit at St. Louis, will return to this university next semester to get his degree.

Tokio is the largest university in the world with an enrollment of 48,000 students. The Japanese are studying especially, law and civil and mechanical engineering.

Yale's football team will take an extensive trip during the holidays, when they will go as far as New Orleans. Many of the best teams in the south will be played.

The University of Pennsylvania has three inter-collegiate debates scheduled for this year. One is with Columbia, one with Cornell and a third with Virginia.

The largest receipts in the history of western football were received at the California-Stanford game this year. The total receipts were $30,308.
