SOON TO APPEAR

Glee Club to Give Concert February 16 at the Oliver.

It Will Excel all Other Social Events of the Year.

The date for the home concert of the University Glee club has been set for February 16th at the Oliver theatre. Plans are under way to make this event the society event of the university year. A representative of every fraternity, sorority, literary society and other organization in school will constitute a committee to co-operate with the manager to make the appearance of the Glee club such as it should be. The faculty are backing things up in excellent shape, and giving the club the benefit of their college experiences. Prominent faculty and city ladies will be patronesses of the affair, and everything possible will be done to make the affair a memorable one. Elaborate programs, with pictures of Director Eames and the members of the club, are being prepared. The University band will play before the concert and during the intermission, and after the concert some social stunt will be indulged in, probably a two-hour dance at one of the halls. As yet the prices are not decided on, and several features to be given special prominence cannot yet be made public, but this is going to be the society event of the season, and as such should be looked forward to. Mr. Martin Dierks has the home concert in charge, and any suggestions tending to make the first appearance of the Glee club in Lincoln a success will be gladly received by him.

A TIP FROM UNCLE SAM

Mail Your Christmas Packages Early and at Station A.

The wise man will mail his Christmas package early. Everybody waits until the last minute with a view of getting his package to its destination exactly at Christmas time. The result is that mail matter which is scattered over two weeks' time could be attended to nicely with safety and dispatch, is dumped into the post-office in three or four days' time. The inevitable result is the clogging of the mails. Many packages do not reach their destination until after Christmas day, and some do not reach their destination at all, due to accidents arising from the vast bulk of the mails and due to the fact that over-worked employes cannot dispatch mail as accurately as when not over-worked. More packages are lost or damaged in the mails in the holiday season than at any other time of the year, and many a package upon whose contents much devoted labor has been spent, has found its way to the Dead Letter Office, because the sender did not exercise a little prudence, and mail the package in ample time to reach its destination with dispatch and safety.

All patrons of any of the stations of the Lincoln office are urged to mail their packages at the station instead of at the main office. Packages mailed at the stations will be dispatched from the city as quickly as if mailed at the main office. If anything, packages mailed at the stations receive quicker dispatch from the city, due to the fact that the cancellation of stamps at the station will avoid the necessity of that work at the crowded main office, and the packages when sent to the main office from the station will be so prepared as to be ready for immediate dispatch to the trains. Station A is located in the central building of the University, Station B at 1619 South 17th street, and Station C at 27th and Vine streets.

The name and address of the sender should appear on every package, and inside the package should appear the name and address of both sender and addressee. Then in the event of the address being torn off or the wrapper being wholly lost, there will be more chance of locating the owner of the package and getting it to its destination.

CADET OFFICERS MEET

Officers are Elected and Hop Committee Chosen.

The officers of Cadet battalion met Wednesday after drill and elected officers for the present year. John Hyde, captain of Co. D, was elected president; E. D. Crites, first lieutenant; Co. A, secretary-treasurer; W. C. Ramsey, captain of Co. C, was elected chairman of the Officers' Hop committee, and Ed Adams, first lieutenant of Co. C, master of ceremonies. The date for the Officers' hop has not been decided upon, but it will probably occur shortly after the Junior Prom.

TEACHERS NEEDED

The Demand is Greater Than the Supply.

The University Teachers' Bureau has recently received numerous calls for teachers from various parts of the state, but the demand far exceeds the supply. The excellent quality of work done in the University is being recognized more generally, and consequently the demand for teachers trained in the University is increasing. The number of students intending to teach, however, seems not to increase very rapidly and since its establishment, the Teachers' Bureau has often been unable to fill all applications. All students desiring teaching positions next semester should confer at once with Mrs. B. M. Clark in the Registrar's office.

Nemaha Organizes.

Students in the university coming from Nemaha county are planning to organize a University Nemaha club, composed of undergraduates from Nemaha county, and of graduates from that county. The object of this club is to promote fellowship among the university people, to increase Nebraska spirit, and turn good men and women to Nebraska university for their higher education, instead of allowing them to go elsewhere. This is a move in the right direction. Such organizations in the university should prove of incalculable value to the university and the representatives from other counties should follow the lead of the people from Nemaha. The first meeting will be held next Tuesday evening.

MACHINE STARTS

Nebraska's Debating Squad Begins to Work.

Some of Their Past Achievements are Discussed.

Inter-collegiate debate at Nebraska as at the other great universities and colleges of the country, is now beginning to take the center of the stage. There is much about it in the various college papers. Along with Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell, Brown, Dartmouth, Syracuse, in the east, and Michigan, Wisconsin, Chicago, Minnesota, Northwestern, and the rest in the west, Nebraska teams are now beginning to get ready for the annual contests of logic and rhetoric. The first inter-state debate announcements of the year appeared yesterday on the "Inter-Collegiate Debate" bulletin-board in University hall.

Nebraska enters the fourth season, since she began to do championship work in this representative phase of college endeavor, with a record which overtops that of any university in the middle west. Her seven debates since the spring of 1902 have been seven decisive victories, one over Colorado college in 1902; two over Missouri in 1902 and 1903; three over Kansas in 1902, 1903, and 1904, and one over Washington university in 1904.

What Nebraska's prospects are for the present year no one seems to know yet. Most of last year's experienced men are not back, but everybody, officially or semi-officially connected with the work, seems to be assuming that the "Nebraska system" will, as heretofore, evolve some sort of thunderbolt that will make trouble for the enemy when he appears.

Candidates for membership on the various teams began yesterday to hand their names to the secretary-treasurer of the Debating association and the Debating Board, C. L. Waldron.

An announcement made yesterday by Professor Fogg requests present and prospective candidates for positions on the teams to watch the bulletin-board the next few days.

Important announcements early in regard to the programme for the year are promised early by Secretary Waldron.

Unique Scheme.

The editors of the Senior Annual have had printed blanks to be filled out as an aid in writing up the various members of the Senior class. There is a place for name of the handsomest professor, the brightest girl, the prettiest girl, the biggest liar, the daffiest man, etc., etc. Here is a chance to get even with your worst enemy. Enough knocks and undercuts will doubtless reward the laudable efforts of the Senior editors to fill volumes, and the knocking propensities of the worst "hammer" crank can this once be fully indulged.
