Editorial Remarks

The class spirit which was so high in the class of 1907 last year seems to have waned. They boasted last year of their class spirit and class achievements and even asked the people of the city to "look" at a record of their accomplishments, but this commendable outburst of spirit seems to have died down. The sophomore meeting last Tuesday was compelled to adjourn on account of a lack of a quorum. President Cramer has called a meeting for this morning at 11 a. m. in Memorial hall and every sophomore should consider it his duty to attend this meeting.

When Dr. Pound refused to reconsider his resignation when waited upon mon sentiment of the whole body of law students has been voiced in a set of resolutions to be presented to the Board of Regents. These resolutions are couched in no doubtful terms. They make it very plain that Dr. Pound is the man for the place, in the minds of his students and they make it equally plain that to fill the present Dean's place will be an exceedingly difficult, if not impossible matter. In its report to the governor the Board of Regents deplored the loss of these men whose services have been invaluable to the University, and strongly recommended that immediate and effective steps be taken to stop this "brain leakage."

A hasty review of what Dr. Pound has accomplished during the short period in which he has acted in the capacity of Dean of the Law College will make it perfectly plain that he has done the almost impossible for the University. His students and the school at large have done all in their power to retain him, and surely this is the opportunity for the Board of Regents to do their share toward showing that we can appreciate, in a substantial manner, the merits of our faculty and towards stopping this already so disastrous "brain leakage" from the University of Nebraska.

ACADEMY NOTES.

Messrs. W. L. Hadlock and Don Russel have been chosen editors of the Academy News to succeed Miss Helen Berger and Mr. O. O. Wood. The new editors are planning a number of articles by former Academy students for the next issue.

The principal had a strenuous trip of inspection last week. The high schools of Nebraska City, Pawnee City, Syracuse and Table Rock were inspected. The Pawnee City Academy, the St. Frances Academy of Omaha, and the Mount St. Marie's Academy of Omaha, were also visited by the inspector. The Professor found the work unusually disagreeable because of the cold weather through which several drives had to be made. He also found delayed trains and early rising to be a source of vexation.

The Latin club met Tuesday evening at the home of Professor Barber. The attendance was large. After the business meeting Professor Barber read Virgil's Marenum. This was enjoyed very much and especially Virgil's viv-by the committee of law students appointed in mass meeting some time ago no small number of students were rather surprised. Not discouraged, however, the law men have again taken steps looking to the retention of their Dean. Resolutions have been passed which strike at the root of existing evils and the men are determined to do all in their power to bring their efforts to a successful conclusion. Successful or not their action is most commendable, for it emphasizes the fact that we appreciate the best, and will not sit idly by and lose this best without a strong effort to retain it.

It is not yet known whether or not the men in the Law College will be successful in their efforts to retain Dr. Roscoe Pound as Dean. The com-id and humorous characterization of a colored servant. It is from this poem that the motto "e pluribus unum" is undoubtedly taken. This fact added special interest in the poem. At the next meeting a Latin play will be rendered under the direction of Dr. Johnson.

Under the auspices of the University of California "As You Like It" will be produced with natural settings. The scenes are to be laid in a canyon, under oak trees in an effort to render the play under conditions similar to those prevailing when it was first performed.

A greater percentage of "flunks" than ever before recorded were given students at Minnesota this year. Various conjectures have been made by members of the student body as to the reason for this apparent decrease in scholarship, and the consensus of opinion is that it is due in no small measure to the new six day system.
