Bayonets Versus Bats---Victory With the Former.

University Soldiers, Under Orders, Break Up Ball Game.

The first clash of the baseball season between the University soldiers and the athletic department occurred yesterday when the cadets, under orders, with fixed bayonets, cleared Nebraska field and broke up a game the Varsity was playing with Cotner University. Before bayonets were resorted to an orderly was sent to Captain Bender with an order to vacate as it was past the time when the baseball men could remain on the field. Captain Bender asked to be allowed to finish the inning, there being two men out, but the only reply he received to his request was an order for the band to take a position directly upon the diamond and the ordering of a detail of cadets, with fixed bayonets, to clear the field. Amid the hoots and jeers of the onlookers, among whom were a large number of town people, the field was cleared, not only of baseball players but of spectators, as well, and a cordon of cadets drawn up to keep the common everyday civilian within his own narrow bounds.

When five o'clock, the time when the field, by order of the authorities, becomes the property of the military department, came, the battalion appeared upon the scene, responding to an order for dress parade. At this same time a game of ball between the Varsity and a team from Cotner University was nearing completion. The cadet captains, seeing the diamond still occupied, drew their companies up at a distance in order not to interfere, and awaited developments. The band then added its numbers to that of the invading hosts, came to a halt at a respectful distance, and waited. As soon as the commandant appeared steps were immediately taken to give the boys in blue the right of way. An orderly was used, and then a squad of men under bayonets, with orders to clear the field, set out to do their bidding and in a short time the obtrusive, out-of-place baseball players and their insignificant, not-to-be-considered supporters had all departed save a few who, representing the spirit of the rest, lingered, loath to leave a place where they thought they had a perfect right to remain, military commands to the contrary, notwithstanding.

Cotner University team had come to town as a courtesy to the baseball management to give the Varsity team its first practice game of the season. Five minutes of toleration on the part of the military department would have given them the field without arousing any of the ill feeling and disgust which was only too plainly shown at the course pursued. A request for time enough to put a single player out was not even considered.

This is the "military of it."

Pedagogical Club.

There was a large attendance at the Pedagogical Club Wednesday evening to listen to a very interesting and helpful talk by Superintendent Stephens, of the Lincoln Schools, on the subject "Personal Characteristics That Influence the Employment and Success of Teachers." Mr. Stephens has had many years of experience in educational work and offered some timely suggestions to the students who expect to take up the profession of teaching. He spoke of the characteristics which aid a teacher in securing a position and in attaining success in her chosen profession, such as punctuality, neatness, sincerity, sympathy with pupils, enthusiasm, energy, etc. He also pointed out some of the mistakes frequently made by teachers. He strongly denounced the use of tobacco.

Mr. Stephens suggested that in writing an application, a teacher should be as brief as possible, giving only such information as what institution she graduated from, what experience she had had, and naming references.

Effective Work.

In response to a query regarding certain points of information connected with the University Y. M. C. A. Registrar Shedd has received the following from Secretary Ringer:

"Replying to yours of the 17th, just received, will say that we have secured work for one hundred and fifty-six University men. Firms supplied with students, 103, including work of waiting tables, tending furnaces, collecting, typewriting, cashier, etc. Odd jobs, fifty-three, including yard cleaning, leveling dirt and all kinds of manual labor. Cash value of all work furnished to students, September 15th to March 31st is $7,958.05"

Dr. Gilligan to Medics.

Dr. J. P. Gilligan, a graduate of Bellevue College, and one of the leading physicians of Northwestern Nebraska, now State senator from the Thirteenth District, will address the students of the University Medical College this evening in M 301. Dr. Gilligan is one of the Nebraska legislators who has been instrumental in securing the passage of the Christian Science Bill in the present legislature. The program committee of the Medical Society anticipates a very interesting lecture from Dr. Gilligan and they desire to urge the students of the Medical College to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the views of a Nebraska legislator on medical questions.

Miss Dales at Convocation.

Miss Silence Dales, of the University School of Music, will give a violin recital at Convocation this morning. Miss Dales has a national reputation as a violinist and needs no introduction to a University audience. The following will be the program:

Adagio from Min. Concerto (Bruch).
Airs Russes (Wiemawski).
Air (with organ) (Bach).

Who's Who?

Elaborate preparations are under way for the "all" Society party in Art Hall this evening.

The committee in charge is sparing no pains to make the evening worthy of the character these joint meetings have won for themselves in past years. The evening promises to be educational as well as entertaining and social. Among some of the "novelties" (?) for brain culture will be a something—which involves in such a nom de plume way the names of prominent—Well come and solve for yourself Who's Who?

HOME SCHEDULE

A Number of Good Games to Be Played on Nebraska Field.

The Eastern Trip Dates Are Not Yet Fully Arranged.

Manager Allen, of the baseball team, has arranged the schedule for the home games. This schedule consists of thirteen games with some of the strongest teams in the Missouri Valley. The games will commence on next Saturday, April 25, and end with a game between the Varsity and Spalding Institute of Peoria, Ill., on June 1.

The thirteen games included in the home schedule and those on the trip will make a complete schedule of twenty-six games for Nebraska this spring. Twenty-six games means a very full schedule and it also means that the Varsity will have plenty of work to do.

The home schedule is as follows:
March 25—Town Team.
April 1, 5, 6—Omaha League Team.
April 7—Omaha vs. Chicago Nationalists.

April 14, 15—Nebraska Indians.
April 28—Bellevue.
May 6—Washington University.
May 16—Washburn.
May 23—Highland.
May 30—Still College of Des Moines.
May 30—Creighton College.
June 1—Spalding Institute, Peoria, Ill.

The schedule for the eastern trip is not yet filled out, but Manager Allen thinks he will have it complete in a few days.

Yesterday afternoon the Varsity had a practice game with Cotner University on the campus. The game was not completed on account of the battalion taking the campus for drill. About six innings were played resulting in a score of 11 to 2 in favor of Nebraska.

Captain Bender tried out many men at the different positions and every one who had yet appeared was given a chance. The candidates were tried out as follows:

Pitchers—

Dort.
Blake.
McLaughlin.

Catchers—

Hyde.
Carroll.
Bender.

First Base—

Smith.
Kearney.

Second Base—

Ryan.
Third Base—

Gaddiss.
Short Stop—

Reddick.
Field—

Cook.
Nilsson.
Fenlon.
Bender.
Carr.

The men showed up very well at the bat and some good fielding was done.
