Student and Faculty Receptions.
A number of receptions were given for the new students last evening, and each one of them brought out a large number of Freshmen.

At the Art Hall, Chancellor and Mrs. Andrews received, assisted by the Faculty, most of whom were present. About three hundred students accepted this opportunity to meet the Chancellor. In the receiving line were the Chancellor and Mrs. Andrews and the different deans and their wives.

Ices were served, the table being presided over, by Miss Daniels and Miss Chéuvront.

The Union Society gave its annual opening reception in U. 106, which was very tastefully decorated. There was no regular program, but refreshments were served and all present had a very enjoyable time.

The Palladians received in their own hall, and all the old members turned out, bringing with them a host of new students. Refreshments were served and an informal program rendered.

Skating Rink Opens.
On Monday evening, October 2, the management will open the doors of the Auditorium Skating Rink to the public, and the skating season will be on. Last winter this fascinating indoor sport proved very popular among the people of Lincoln, and especially to University students. Newly arrived afternoon you would find a gay crowd of the fair co-eds and their escorts gliding over the smooth floor.

During the summer the Rink has been entirely renovated and many new additions made for the comfort of the patrons, so that this year the sport should prove even more popular than last.

The Rink will be open afternoons as well as evenings and competent instructors will be on hand to teach beginners.

Membership Contest in Y. M. C. A.
Enthusiasm is waxing warm at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters. The important question of the hour seems to be "Are you a member of the Y. M. C. A.?" The forces are divided into three squads, at the head of which are A. E. Burr, F. R. Hoggart and B. E. Yoder. The goal of each division is to secure 166 men making a total of 500, which is a very reasonable membership for a University with the number of men attending Nebraska. The contest will close at 6 o'clock on October 15. A banquet will then be given by the losing sides to the winners, to which every man who secured one member will be invited.

Wonderful Biblical Knowledge.
Professor Wyer introduced his class into the delights of Bibliography yesterday by giving them a quiz at their first meeting, in order to learn how much they had yet to learn about books. One of the questions was "Give thirty consecutive lines from the Bible," and it seemed to floor a majority of the students. Full returns are not yet in, but latest reports have it that four girls gave the Lord's Prayer. To the request for the titles of five masterpieces, Huckleberry Finn, The Three Musketeers, and Richard Carvel were submitted. Professor Wyer's course certainly is needed.

In the west window of Paine's Clothing Store may be seen a display of cadet paraphernalia, straps, caps, chevrons, etc. We are putting out a $12.50, $13.50 and a $15.00 cadet suit you are invited to call and inspect before placing your order.
