CO-ED PRESIDENT

GIRLS INSIST ON ELECTING OWN PRESIDENT.

Say That They Have Been Slighted Heretofore, and Want Something Better Than Second Place.

The already complicated situation in which Senior politics has been for the past two weeks has been rendered more so by the announcement of the candidacy of Miss Grace Trigg for the presidency, and the appearance of a large number of ardent supporters. Those who are booming Miss Trigg assert that the co-ed contingent of the Senior class has never been recognized heretofore, although more than half the members of that class are girls. They also say that it has been the almost universally recognized custom at Nebraska for each class to elect a young lady as its president during the second semester of the Junior year, and the present Senior class having neglected to do so, they are going to take matters into their own hands and force the class to live up to the worthy tradition.

The candidacy of Miss Trigg will upset all the guesses as to the probable outcome of the election. Although her name has been suggested just a couple of days before the class meeting, which is to occur next Thursday, the number of her supporters is already as large as that of any other candidate, it seems, and they are not confined to the co-eds, either. It is asserted by those who are managing the girls' campaign that the entire co-ed division of the class will support their candidate, and if such turns out to be the case, her election is assured. As yet, her male supporters do not seem to be very many, but that is probably because the fact of her candidacy is not generally known, as yet. Owing to the many divisions among the men, it is certain that a large number of those who are discontented with the present outlook will desert the masculine flag and vote for the co-ed favorite.

Miss Trigg is one of the best-known and most popular young ladies in the University. She is a graduate of the Lincoln High School, and entered the University in 1901, staying out one year in order to teach school. Her interests are many, she being especially prominent in Y. M. C. A. work. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi and of the Black Masque.

NEW MUSEUM.

Plans Being Discussed, and Work Will Begin in Time.

Superintendent Chowins returned from Omaha Monday with the proposed plans for the new museum which is to be erected just north of the Armory. The last legislature provided for the erection of this building, but there has been a good deal of unavoidable delay in getting the work begun. According to the present plans, the building is to be 52 feet wide and 74 feet long, and four stories high, including the basement. It is to be built of the same material as is being used in the construction of the administration building, and is to have a slate roof. It is the present purpose that this shall be the first of three buildings to be erected north of the Armory, facing on Twelfth street. These buildings are all to be of the same style and material, and are to be connected by galleries containing offices and stairways. The northernmost building will be on the site of the present Nebraska Hall, which, it is expected, will be in a condition to be torn down by the time the third new building is erected. Each of the new buildings will be somewhat longer than the plans of the museum call for, so that the west end of the latter building will necessarily be left in a condition similar to that of the south side of Mechanics Arts.

It is hoped that work will begin on this building in less time than it generally takes to get University construction started, but it is doubtful if anything will be done before next fall, as only the preliminary plans are now under consideration.

Phil Harrison, '03, has been elected to the position of assistant registrar, to succeed E. H. Clark, who has been made registrar. Mr. Harrison has been connected with the executive office since his graduation, and is thoroughly conversant with his duties.

The Athletic Board Meets.

The Athletic Board met in Dr. Lees' office yesterday morning for the purpose of setting the price of admission to the remaining games of football to be held in Lincoln this season. The prices recommended by Dr. Lees at a previous meeting were ratified by the Board. The prices of last Saturday will be charged in all the games with the exception of the Colorado and Illinois games. The prices as accepted by the Board are as follows:

Knox—General admission 50 cent, grandstand 50 cents.

Ames—General admission 50 cents, grandstand 50 cents.

Colorado—General admission 75 cents, grandstand 50 cents.

Illinois—General admission $1.00, grandstand 75 cents.

Inter-Fraternity Baseball.

A meeting of those fraternities which had had baseball teams last year was held Monday morning in order to settle the question as to which one was entitled to the championship and prizes. The fraternities had been divided into two groups for the season, those residing north of O street and those residing south. It was the plan to have each division play for a champion, and then the winners of each division were to play for the championship of the whole aggregation. Phi Gamma Delta won the first place in the southern group, but three fraternities, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Delta Theta and Delta Tau Delta, were tied for the first honors in the northern division. Owing to the close of the school year, this tie could not be played off, and accordingly no one could contest with the Phi Gams for the championship. This muddle was fixed Monday morning by the committee awarding second place and the pennant accompanying it to the Phi Gams, and decreeing that the first prize be held over until next spring and then be awarded to the fraternity winning the championship of that season.

KNOX SATURDAY

BOOTH GIVES MEN HARD PRACTICE FOR COMING GAME.

Schmidt, Little, and Rice Go to the Training Table, Making Fifteen Men in All.

The varsity is fast getting into shape for the game with Knox Saturday. Monday night they went through a stiff practice on a meadow at the State Farm. In this way Booth is able to give the men a good signal practice without the interference of any outsider. Last night the regular work on the athletic field was resumed and a hard scrimmage between the varsity and scrubs was indulged in.

In the game with Knox we will have one of the hardest games of the season. It was this bunch of men that held Illinois down to a score of 6-0. Knox has a play which came very near to counting for a touchdown in the Illinois game. Hilding, Knox's quarter, called upon Howell for a buck over tackle and when Lampe and Patton neatly boxed Illinois' star tackle, he shot through the hole and made for the Illinois goal, having a clear field safe for the defensive full back. At Illinois' fifteen yard line, after having successfully dodged the full back, he unfortunately slipped on the muddy field and was immediately down. Of course it is hardly probable that this will be worked against us on Saturday, but the improbable things happen sometimes as in the South Dakota game. One thing is sure, though, and that is that the Knox game will be as good as any played on the local field this year.

Booth has added three men to the list of those at the training table. The latest additions are Little, Schmidt, and Rice. The work of Little and Schmidt in last Saturday's game is surely worthy of the recognition they have received. Rice, who has been sub tackle all season, is also a good man and one that can be depended upon to give a good account of himself in any game that Booth may send him into.

The reserved seat tickets are on sale now at the regular place, Harry Porter's. The admission will be the same as that charged in last Saturday's game, 50 cents for general admission and 50 cents for reserved seats. The reserved seats are going very fast for so early in the week so those of the students that intend to secure seats had better do so as early as possible.

Tennis Meeting.

The Tennis Association held its first meeting of the year yesterday morning, and two men were present. President Persinger passed the hat, and adjourned the meeting to some indefinite time in the future.

The annual reception given by Prof. and Mrs. Barber to the students of the Latin Department will occur in the Women's Dormitory this year, instead of at Fraternity Hall. Invitations are already out for the 24th of the month.
