FOOTBALL RALLY

MANY PROMINENT PROFESSORS AND STUDENTS TO SPEAK.

An Enthusiastic Meeting of the Students to Give the Football Team a Send-Off for Michigan.

Today at 11 o'clock there will gather together in Memorial Hall a crowd of the most enthusiastic students that ever gathered together to give a football team a send-off. The entire ambition and desire of every Nebraska student is to down Michigan. With this as the watchword, the supporters of the scarlet and cream will be given a send-off this morning that will never be forgotten. And when the train leaves the Burlington depot tonight it will carry with it a bunch of men whose one aim and determination is to bring defeat into Yost's camp.

The University Cadet band will start things today by playing one rousing piece of music just before the time for the rally. While this is being played the students will gather in the hall where the speeches, football songs, Uni yells, and other stunts will take place. Chief rooters Wilson and Zimmer will be on hand to take charge of the rooting at the close of the regular program.

The men who will speak at the mass meeting are ones who have always been prominent in athletics as advisers and enthusiasts. It is quite probable that Dr. Pound will be in charge of the meeting, and every student knows Dean Pound's ability to get enthusiasm out of a crowd. Such men as Booth, Westover, Borg, Professor Caldwell, Dr. Bolton and others will address the students. It is sure that these men will have something to say to the students that will be very interesting.

This evening at the depot the men will be given the final farewell, and if present indications count for anything, the Burlington depot will be besieged by the most enthusiastic crowd of students that ever gathered in that place. Every man on the team will be made feel that he has a part in the coming contest which the students have every confidence that he will fill. Captain Workizer, commandant of the battalion, has dismissed the battalion and band. The captains will march the companies to the depot and dismiss them from there.

Every loyal student should remember these appointments and keep them as a part of their day's work. We meet Michigan for the first time, and it is up to us to make the game a strong one in order that they may be a permanent part of our schedule. Our part in giving the team a send-off in the proper spirit means a great deal to the men, more than we for a minute know.

Harry Porter will report full particulars of the Nebraska-Michigan game. Come and get in the game. Bring your friends.

The convocation tomorrow will be devoted to the usual musical program. The attraction this time will be a string quartet and organ.

P. J. O'Gara Wanders From Hospital—Lawyers Search.

About seven o'clock Tuesday night, P. J. O'Gara, who had been in St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the preceding ten days, cut the screens to the windows on the first floor and ran away. He had been suffering from mental aberration brought on by an attack of typhoid fever, and was to have been taken home by his brother, who is a member of the Senior law class, yesterday morning, and it is believed that he thought he was going to be taken to the Insane Asylum, and accordingly decided to make his escape. An hour or so later his absence was noted and immediately reported to his brother, who, together with Dr. Pound and a number of the students of the law school, made a thorough search of the country around the hospital. It was found that Mr. O'Gara had taken a course to the east, then turned south, and then west, in the evident desire to throw off pursuers. His trail was lost about a mile and a half southwest of the hospital, and although the search was kept up until three o'clock, and was renewed in the morning by the entire Senior class, no further trace has been found.

Mr. O'Gara graduated from the University a few years ago, and has been engaged in the government botanical service ever since his graduation. He has many friends around the University, and they will all await anxiously further news of him.

Pershing Rifle drill tonight in the Armory at 7:15. Those who desire to make out applications for membership may obtain blank forms from any of the first sergeants. By Order of the Captain.

The Forest Club meets Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in N. 110. Professor Miller will talk on "Recent Events in Forestry." All students taking work in forestry should come out.

University Chorus.

At the last meeting of the University Chorus the first steps toward organization were taken and the following officers were elected: President, Mr. Todd; vice-president, Miss Greenwald; secretary, Miss Cull; treasurer, Mr. Long; librarian, Miss Stebbins. As yet no name has been suggested or adopted. Mrs. Raymond, however, said they were on the lookout for one and the lucky person who could find a suitable one would be correspondingly rewarded. Here is another chance to get your name in public. Mrs. Raymond is open to suggestions.

In other schools of our caliber and even those of less pretensions, they have University Choruses numbering several hundred. At the present ours has but about sixty, very few of whom are men, and if those disappointed warblers who tried for the Glee Club will only present themselves they will be received with open arms and the chorus will be strengthened very materially. Just because there is no trip don't think that the advantages are small. Mrs. Raymond as a leader is very fine and in the end you will feel well repaid. Incidentally it might be mentioned that one hour credit is given for the three hours a week attendance and that one may register yet, at least for the next few days, without charge.

Those who can sing at all should think of the opportunity they are missing and at the same time how much they could help the University along this line. Football, Debating Glee Club and practically all other departments have made rapid strides of late. Here is still a weak place. Remember, Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 5 p. m. will find you a welcome at the nameless wonder formerly known as the University Chorus.

The English Club will meet with Miss Pound, 1632 L street, Saturday, October 21.

SINGERS CHOSEN

LONG SERIES OF TRY-OUTS COMPLETED LAST NIGHT.

Men Who Are Fortunate Enough to Make the Club Selected at Last—Many Fine Voices.

After three weeks of practice and try-outs, the Glee Club was selected finally last night, and will at once get down to good hard work, so that Nebraska can have the sort of representatives she has been looking for. The many try-outs have been under the direction of Mr. Budd Gillespie, the director of the club, and he has been assisted in the selection of the men by Manager Dirks and Mr. Kirkpatrick of the School of Music. Each man has been given a very thorough test, and given every opportunity possible to show what he could do. Of the two hundred applicants for positions, about seventy-five were chosen during the first week as being the ones who showed up best, and the last two weeks has been a gradual weeding out of the poorer singers among these men, until finally the squad was cut down to its present size. All this has required much patience and care on the part of the director, and he certainly deserves great credit for the manner in which he has discharged his duties.

Of the men now selected, only half will be able to make the great trip which has been arranged for next spring, and this half will be selected in the same way as the present club has been picked. Those men who show the greatest interest in the club, the best stage presence, and the best voices will be the ones who will take the trip to the Pacific. Who they will be will not be known until after the Annual Home Concert, and the showing made by each man then will count a great deal towards his chances. With this as the reward, it is a certainty that every man will do his utmost, and as a result the University will undoubtedly be represented by a remarkably fine Glee Club.

Following are the selections:

Second Base—B. B. Gillespie, J. A. Mould, E. L. Williams, J. R. Caley, Arthur Nelson, John H. Agee, Charles B. Duer, Yale C. Holland.

First Bass—Chester Parks, Fred Kavan, E. H. Johnson, Frank Hudson, D. D. Plumb, A. B. Crabill, J. L. Stahl, C. R. Burky.

Second Tenor—G. S. Johnston, Fred Fairman, R. E. Todd, J. D. Walker, C. E. Johnston, H. L. Hollingsworth, N. L. Provost, M. L. Kimmel.

A recent bulletin from the United States Department of Agriculture on Plant Breeding contains a paper by Professor Lyon of the University of Nebraska on the breeding of wheat, which he has been conducting at the Experiment Station. Its reading at a recent meeting of scientific men attracted the favorable attention of those who were present as shown by the discussion which followed.
