MICHIGAN TODAY

BOTH TEAMS PREPARED FOR HARDEST GAME OF SEASON.

Michigan Holds Big Mass Meeting to Encourage Men—University Alumni at Omaha Enthusiastic.

Today in Ann Arbor Nebraska and Michigan will oppose each other in the greatest game on the western gridiron this season. Both teams are in the pink of condition and enter the game with a determination that means a game in which every inch of the ground will be contested. The result will be in doubt until the whistle has blown ending the second half and the game. Both contestants will have plenty of loyal supporters, with the best of feeling to Nebraska from the Michigan supporters.

From a Michigan standpoint, however, today's game is considered as one of the most, if not the most, important game on her 1905 schedule. Coach Yost has confidence in his men to do their best. Shultz, the Michigan center, is a hard one, but Booth thinks that Captain Borg can take care of the husky German. The clash between Borg and Shultz will be a game in itself. Taylor will have another hard task set for him in opposing Schulte, the big Michigan guard, but those who saw Taylor's remarkable display of strength in the Dakota game have reasons to believe that he can take care of the biggest and best.

Last night in Ann Arbor a big rally and football mass meeting was held under the auspices of the Michigan union. Prominent professors addressed the students, as well as many old varsity stars. After the regular program there was a rehearsal of university songs and yells. Such enthusiasm has never been shown by the students of the University of Michigan except before the Chicago game two years ago. Several of the football players were present, but Yost took them to their quarters at an early hour.

Friday night the Cornhuskers were given a rousing reception and send-off by several of the Nebraska alumni and other enthusiasts in Omaha. The crowd was led by Dean Ringer, a former guard of the Nebraska team. The team filed out of the sleeper and were greeted on the Burlington depot platform with the University yell. By the time the train was ready to leave Omaha a large crowd had gathered around the varsity and enthusiasm ran high.

The team reached Ann Arbor without anything eventful happening and indulged in a short, snappy practice before dinner on Friday evening. The team appeared to be none the worse for the trip except for a little stiffness, which soon disappeared with a little practice. The men went over the signals without a slip and few fumbles were made. The men are in good spirits and seem confident of victory over "Hurry-up" Yost's pets.

Reports of the game will be received at Harry Porter's and also at the Lincoln-Chicago game this afternoon. The game will be given in full detail at both places and students will have ample opportunity to see the game through the telegraph key as a medium.

DR. WOLFE TO RETURN.

Former Professor of Psychology to Enter Education Department.

Dr. H. K. Wolfe, former professor of philosophy in the University of Nebraska and at present professor of philosophy and education in the University of Montana, has been called to the department of education as professor of educational psychology in place of Dr. Frank W. Smith, who resigned to accept the presidency of the Paterson, New Jersey, State Normal School, and it is hoped that he will accept.

Dr. Wolfe is well and favorably known by the school men of the state and is thoroughly adapted to the work both by broad scholarship and extended practical experience. His selection will be especially pleasing to the alumni of the University, of which he is a prominent member.

The department of education has become one of the strong and important departments and the training of teachers an essential function of the University. Under the present arrangement of uniting and correlating the different departments concerned in the training of teachers it is almost impossible for a weak student to receive the faculty's recommendation for the University teachers' certificate. The strength of graduates holding this certificate is recognized by most of the states and there is a rapidly increasing demand for students thus trained. The addition of Dr. Wolfe to the department will materially strengthen the work and make the University of Nebraska in fact, as well as in name, one of the best places in the country for the training of successful teachers.

Traction company officials are discussing the desirability of taking all their cars in at six o'clock this evening in case Nebraska beats Michigan.

Iowa plays Minnesota and Chicago meets Wisconsin today.

Ladies of the Faculty Serve Tea.

The ladies of the faculty served tea to the girls of the University in the rest room of Memorial Hall yesterday afternoon from half past four until six o'clock. A larger number of co-eds took advantage of this opportunity than had been the case on the preceding Friday, but still many did not take a moment or so from their studies in order to drink a cup of tea, and for these there is a day of reckoning coming along about examination time, for to stay away is a direct accusation that the ladies of the faculty do not know how to make good tea, which is false, as we can testify. Many of the girls dragged some poor man along to partake of the kindness of the faculty, but from the manner of the victims they did not seem to be so unwilling, and from some expressions heard it would seem as though they intended to go again.

County Fair.

Preparations are actively under way for the great fair which the Y. W. C. A. is to give in the Armory on Nov. 25. All the most successful features of previous celebrations have been retained and a number of new ones, startling in their originality, will be added, so that the fair will be the greatest ever seen here. Every fraternity and sorority is to take a booth or give an exhibition of some sort and it is rumored that some of the sororities are contemplating a midway. Further announcements will be made from time to time through the official organ of the fair association (honestly, no joke intended), and after the faculty have shown what fools they really are an active advertising campaign will be begun.

Class football is slow in getting started. The Juniors have been trying to get out all week, but the wet field has dampened the ardor of all but one or two, who kick the ball around industriously every morning.

Alpha Theta Chi initiated last night.

BIG PERFORMANCE

FACULTY COMMITTEE ARRANGES FOR FOOLISHNESS.

Principal Event to Be a Military Spell-Down—Clapp's Athletes to do Stunts—Fancy Horses.

A committee of professors having in charge the Faculty Foolishness met in Prof. Caldwell's office yesterday noon and decided on the final course of events that will be given at the Great Circus Thursday afternoon, Oct. 26.

Suggestions for various novelties and specialties were not wanting. Every professor brought with him a large line of games and contests in which he himself had won honors when a boy, and each professor insisted that the committee should accept his games and in so doing restore to him "his former joys of childhood days." However, the committee, in deciding upon the various concessions, did not cater to the pleasures of any professor. They decided to give only those novelties that are interesting and instructive in themselves, and following, in brief, is what they are:

Prof. Clapp and his athletes will give an exhibition that shall call forth brain as well as brawn. His men will perform on bars, jump sideways and build pyramids that shall reach to the clouds, providing it is a cloudy day.

The cavalcade of horses under the skilled management of Capt. Workizer and Col. Taylor will be as magnificent as superb. For this the usual number of horses has been reinforced by prominent saddle horses from all over the state. The latest addition has been the famous imported Sullivan horses from near the State Farm. It is doubtful if our athletic field can accommodate all at the same time. This promises to be an exhibition of beauty as well as common horse sense.

In the obstacle race Fossler seems to be so confident of winning that the other professors hesitate about entering. It is not definitely known just what shape the obstacles will assume, but it is believed that they will be "something good to eat," and Danne, Sweezy and Bolton fear that Fossler can gobble down the pies and swallow the doughnuts faster than anybody. However, should some of the peanuts hang high he may yet find a close competitor in that man Ross.

Among the other "stunts" will be Pig Skin Scramble, Military Spell Down, Tuba Band, Happenings on the Frontier and Shiny.

Cello-Piano Recital.

On Monday evening, Nov. 6, at the First Baptist Church will be given a very interesting musical program by Mr. Henry Eames of the University School of Music as pianist and Mr. Carlo Fisher, cellist. Mr. Henry Eames needs no introduction to Lincoln lovers of music and Mr. Fisher is well known as a member last year of the famous Chicago Symphony Orchestra. He is now with Von der Satuchin, a Cincinnati musician of national prominence. As a special inducement to students of music the price of admission for them has been reduced from fifty to thirty-five cents.
