Societies.

Literary Societies and Debating Clubs continue in their attempt to furnish an opportunity for the students to experience practical life. Here one may test the effectiveness of theories learned in the class room, besides widening his circle of friends and acquaintances.

The University Unions last night gave a literary and musical program. The Palladians enjoyed themselves in the "good old German" style.

Tonight the Debating Club discusses the question of "High vs. Low License." Messrs. Johnson, Dobbs, Ballard and Whitney are the regular speakers on the debate. Besides the debate there are open discussions and parliamentary practice in which everyone has a chance to speak.

The Komenian Club holds their first regular meeting tonight in U. 106 and bi-weekly hereafter. Officers will be elected and other important business transacted. All members are urged to be present.

Special Rates at Skating Rink.

The large crowds which constantly fill the floor at the skating rink show that interest in that most healthful sport did not die out during the summer and the number of University students to be seen there each afternoon and evening gives concern to the management, who do not know what they will do when the football season is over and students have nothing to do.

The company has been fortunate in securing the services of Prof. Orin Rankin, one of the most accomplished skaters in the country, as a special instructor for those too timid to trust themselves to any of the many assistants whose services are offered to the public. He is now open to engagements and as an additional incentive for beginners to venture into the game it has been decided to admit ladies free of charge every afternoon and evening for the remainder of the month. One attempt will turn the most timid into an enthusiast.

Tom Watson's Magazine,

"the magazine with a purpose back of it," was established to teach the best way of abolishing these special privileges, and, hence, of rendering the trusts powerless to rob the public. It is a big monthly magazine of 128 pages, with illustrations, cartoons, Mr. Watson's brilliant editorials, special articles, a serial story, novelettes, short stories and poems, by the world's best writers. Regular price, $1.00 per year; 10 cents the copy, at all newsstands. Everyone is interested in knowing the best way to cure the trust evil and how to bring it about. Now in its second volume, Tom Watson's Magazine is firmly established, and its circulation is growing rapidly; but we want to add a hundred thousand subscribers to our list in the next month or two.

Botanical Seminar,

The first public meeting of the Botanical Seminar will be held in Room 110, Nebraska Hall, at 5 o'clock, Friday afternoon of this week. The programme (which lasts one hour) includes an address by L. L. Harter, '02, who has been for two or three years in the botanical work of the United States Department of Agriculture. This part of the programme will be of especial interest to all students who are looking to government service, as he will discuss examinations and the preparation for entering the Civil Service. All interested are invited to attend.

The English Club will meet with Miss Pound, 1632 L street, Saturday, October 21.

Hoarse throats were plentiful around the campus yesterday as the result of the rooting the night before.

Harry Porter will report full particulars of the Nebraska-Michigan game. Come and get in the game. Bring your friends.

On Monday morning Professor Bessey is to speak to the High School on "How the Trees Came to Nebraska."

Fred Hunter came up from Fairmont last night to give the High School team a few finishing touches. He is staying at the Alpha Theta Chi house.

Students generally seem loath to make any definite statement as to what they think the score will be. The general expression is that they won't beat us much.
