CLASS '09 VICTORS

SUCCEED IN HOLDING MEETING
- DESPITE SOPHOMORES.

Plan for Keeping Out Sophomores Successful—Third Candidate for President Win Out.

The long-expected and much wished-for meeting of the Freshman class was held yesterday morning at eleven o'clock, according to the plans announced openly some days ago, and with the assistance of some dozen Juniors, John Uhl, and Chancellor Andrews, the first-year men succeeded in meeting undisturbed by their enemies, the Sophomores. A very elaborate system of admission to the hall had been prepared by the Freshmen generals and Registrar Clark, and every Freshman was supplied with a green slip testifying that he could qualify as a first-year student. Without this it was impossible for anybody to get by John Uhl, who guarded the outside door of the Chapel. After once surmounting this obstacle, the man desirous of casting a vote was compelled to stop at the door upstairs and have his name crossed off on the list kept there by a Junior. Then he was safe at last. Some three hundred Freshmen were able to pass through this ordeal successfully, however, and accordingly the meeting represented a large majority of the class, which is somewhat of a novelty, as the Sophomores have heretofore been able to prevent most of the first-year men from attending the first meeting of the year.

The meeting was presided over by President De Young of the Junior class. It had been rumored that the Sophomores had laid plans to capture De Young and keep him away from the meeting, and accordingly about a dozen Juniors escorted him from the Library to Memorial Hall, and after that remained to assist in the fight to keep the Sophs out. Soon after eleven the meeting was called to order, and the class got right down to business. There were four nominations for the presidency, Clyde Elliot of Central City, Richard Patterson and Clarence Walsh of Omaha, and Miller Benedict of Lincoln. It had been the general opinion that the race was between Benedict and Patterson, as no man from outside the two principal cities of the state has ever been able to get elected the first semester, but the progressive and aggressive campaign methods displayed by those supporting Elliot had won for him a large following, and the first ballot brought the following results: Elliot, 121; Benedict, 71; Patterson, 63; Walsh, 20. Patterson then withdrew in favor of Elliot, and upon motion he was declared elected unanimously.

Meanwhile about a hundred second-year men were gathered about brave John Uhl at the outside door, and about five hundred upper-classmen and girls were crowding the steps and other available places where they could look upon the fight. For a few minutes the Sophs were not very demonstrative, but finally a rush was made for the door, only to be checked by John's sturdy form and the bodies of the Juniors inside. After the fight had been waging for a few minutes, Chancellor Andrews and Mr. Fee appeared on the scene, and managed to obtain some degree of quiet. As soon as the former had gone back to his office, however, the attempt to force a way into the hall was renewed, and almost succeeded. Chancellor Andrews again came to the rescue, but this time had some difficulty in making the Sophs withdraw. After he had again left the scene of action, about ten Sophs climbed up the archway over the entrance to the hall, and succeeded in forcing the large window directly behind the pipe organ open, and climbed inside. Results showed that they had not been half as anxious to get into the building as they had let on, however, for in a moment there was an awful uproar inside, and after a few seconds the same Sophomores who had climbed through the window so valiantly a short time before were thrown out bodily, with hats gone, coats torn, and faces all bruised and bleeding. Two of the Sophomores put up a brave fight before they were finally thrown out, and for a couple of minutes fought with the Freshies while clinging to the ledge of the window. This ended any attempt of the Sophs to get into the meeting.

During the fight at the window, a number of reeds and pipes of the big organ were broken or injured, and there will probably be considerable damage to repair. The names of the Sophomores who were implicated were taken, and they have already been hauled up on the carpet before the Chancellor. More will probably receive notices to appear today, and on the whole the class feels as though it had gotten the worst of it.

On account of linotype machine breaking, we are compelled to run the above in nonpareil type. We hope this will not occur again.—Ed.

New Apparatus for Gymnasium.

The Physical Education department recently received a shipment of new apparatus for the gymnasium. This consisted of a long horse, spring board, and a pair of parallel bars. The cost of this material with some other smaller apparatus that was secured, will reach the neighborhood of two hundred and fifty dollars.

The long horse is by far the best piece of apparatus in the gymnasium. It is covered with fine quality of very heavy leather. The adjustments are much better and of later invention than the other long horses in the gymnasium. Both the spring board and parallel bars are of the latest improved. Other smaller apparatus which was secured is of the very best.

With these additions our gymnasium is one of the best equipped in the west. It is Dr. Clapp's aim to have more men out during advanced work, and trying for the gym team this year.

The Dramatic Club will meet with Miss Erford, 215 Q street, Thursday evening, October 26.

OMAHA EXCURSION.

Manager Morrison Has Arranged for a $1.10 Rate to Creighton Game.

A rate of one dollar and ten cents has been made between Lincoln and Omaha and return on Saturday for the Creighton-Nebraska game. The Rock Island has made this rate providing that two hundred people take advantage of this opportunity and make the trip. The train will leave Lincoln at 8:30 a. m. on Saturday and return at 10 p. m. the same day.

The rate is the same as the one made by the Burlington to Omaha last year. About five hundred people took advantage of this rate last year and there is no reason why just as many people should not do the same this year. A rate so low is one that does not come to passengers to and from Omaha only about every year. Manager Morrison is to be complimented upon his work in securing such a low rate considering that this is fifty-five cents lower than the rate given Ak-Sar-Ben visitors.

The people in the city will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit Omaha and see the game, but this is not what the team wants. The varsity wants the support of the University students in the Creighton game. It is up to every student of the University of Nebraska to take advantage of this low rate and go to Omaha to cheer our team on to Omaha to cheer our team on to victory against the Omaha men. We are going to run up a large score on the team from the big city Saturday, but every University yell given by the students means a few more points.

Tickets are on sale at Rock Island office.

CIRCUS THURSDAY

FACULTY AND FRIENDS IN THE THIRD ANNUAL PERFORMANCE.

New Attractions Added—Governor Mickey—Indian Camp—Quilts—Tuba Band—Peanuts and Popcorn.

Tomorrow afternoon, within the narrow limits of the Nebraska Athletic Field, will occur one of the broadest exhibitions ever participated in by man, beast and professor. Broadest in the sense that it shall include the greatest variety of attractions; broadest in the sense that every attraction given will be developed to a perfection.

The pushers of the undertaking had felt that something was lacking in their program as long as they did not have some other "stars" besides those selected from the Faculty. They tried various sources, applied to many prominent men, and at last succeeded in securing the valuable services of our own Governor Mickey. The governor poses as the world's champion of quilts. He challenges any one, whether in the University or out of it, to a few rounds in this most exciting of all quiet games. In case the Governor's challenge is not accepted before October 26 at 2:30 p. m. and his rights to wearing the championship belt are undisputed, the Governor will give an exhibition against time. Come out and watch Governor Mickey describe the husky curve!

The Indian camp will represent conditions as they existed in the "Good old days before the war." In those days when Sherman and Bessey were little boys and wore knee breeches. The buffalo then gently grazed over what is now the 5-yard line. "In those days," the Senior professors tell us, "Life was a long, sweet song." No little boys and girls, in those days, ever made cross-corner paths over the campus or fought over the Big Rock. Most of us have been laboring under the mistaken impression that Indian life was wild and exciting. We picture the Indian as savage, cruel, warlike and bloodthirsty. In fact, such is the story told over and over again in books. But the Senior professors absolutely and unconditionally discredit it, and they hope to demonstrate by the presentation of the Indian camp tomorrow afternoon that the Red Skins in all their savagery were not as formidable an enemy as the Freshmen. They ought to know. They are able and willing to tell the truth and their information is source. None of us will ever have an opportunity to live the life of the Pioneer Nebraskans, but we can at least do the next best thing; we can go to the circus tomorrow afternoon and watch the Senior Professors show us how it was done.

Another event that will come as an innovation to the crowd tomorrow afternoon will be the military spell-down. Who was it that said that military drill was unpopular at the University of Nebraska? called it militarism; malicious science and Military Fight. Let him come to the circus tomorrow and see how untrue his charge was.
