TEAM LOOKS GOOD

COLORADO STRONG ON OFFENSIVE WORK.

Wendstrand in Tomorrow's Line-Up—
Rally at Convocation This Morning.

The Colorado team arrived this morning over the Burlington from Denver. The Colorado men are in the best of physical condition and will give Nebraska the best they have on Nebraska field tomorrow afternoon. They will indulge in secret practice some time today in the near vicinity of Lincoln. Coach Kienholz hopes to get the men thoroughly limbered up in this practice so they will be none the worse for their long trip.

From a letter that was written to a Nebraska student by a Colorado man we can gather some of the possibilities of tomorrow's game. The letter in part says, "that Colorado realizes that they are playing away from home and against a powerful aggregation. If Colorado had had Kansas on a dry field the score would have doubtless been considerably larger." It further says: "We are weakest on defense—Kienholz's offensive formations are splendid, for none of the teams have been able to withstand them so far. Our bright particular 'star' is Caley at fullback; when he plays his best game he is hard to beat. Christiansen also played a star game in the Colorado-Utah game." The Colorado-Utah game was very rough from all reports, the Utah men using their fists pretty promiscuously with the result that some of the Colorado players were pretty badly cut up.

One thing is quite sure and that is that the people who enrich the Athletic Board treasury on Saturday by coming to the game will get value received for their money. The Colorado game will be the hardest, most hotly contested and best game on Nebraska field this year. This is due to two things—Colorado's victory of last year and the present antagonism between the two schools.

The varsity is in good condition for Saturday's game. Last night some swift signal practice was indulged in, as well as scrimmage work. The men all showed up well at their respective positions. Benedict did some great work at quarter, and during the scrimmage work he made one of the prettiest tackles ever seen on the local field. Avery, with his four days' experience on the varsity, did some good work. This man is about eight or ten pounds heavier than Denslow, and if he makes use of this extra weight the way Denslow uses his weight, Avery should be a great end. Wendstrand was put in at guard last night in Jenkins' place. He plays a great game for a new man, showing a speed in charging and aggressiveness in every play that makes the coach's heart glad. Taken all together, Nebraska will be represented by a first-class team against Colorado.

The rally for tomorrow's game will be held in Memorial Hall this morning at Convocation period. The rooters will co-operate with Mrs. Raymond in the regular musical program. The University band will render several selections and the University chorus will sing the college songs. In all probability the Colorado team will be present at the rally. Come and give us your help in the rooting.

From Colorado.

The last number of the "Silver and Gold," published at the University of Colorado, contains a number of items which will probably be of interest to students here. In an editorial comment on the Kansas game, which Colorado won by fifteen points, the players are lauded because they put up such a magnificent game against a team greatly outweighing their own. In the summary of the game the average weights of the two teams are given—Kansas, 180.3 pounds; Colorado, 179.9 pounds. Seven ounces to the man is certainly a whole lot. Incidentally, by their own showing, the mountaineers outweigh Nebraska, for with Taylor in the game our men averaged just under 179 pounds.

After the cowardly attack on Coach Booth appearing in that paper a couple of weeks ago, the two following items regarding Kienholz may be of interest. The song composed by him may be his own, but it is perilously like the song we have been singing here for five years, and with a single substitution of one word they would be identical. His notice regarding "spotters" reminds us of the days when we used to sneak behind the barn to read "Diamond Dick":

An enthusiastic student rally was held in chapel last Friday morning. Yells and songs were practiced for the Kansas game. Coach Kienholz composed the following song, and his prophecy therein was amply fulfilled Saturday afternoon:

(Tune, "Tall of the Kangaroo.")
Oh Kansas she was jolly,
Oh Kansas she was gay,
But when the game was over,
She felt the other way;
She saw the constellations,
The stars, the moon, the sun,
Her team felt kind o'sickly,
When that football game was done.

NOTICE.

It will be the duty of every student in the University to keep an eye out for any "spotters" that are apt to be visitors about the campus the rest of the football season. All such suspicious characters should be reported to the Athletic Association authorities at once. Remember this is your duty as a student of this institution.

(Signed)
W. SIMS KIENHOLZ,
Coach.

CLASS MEETINGS

SENIORS HEAR REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Men Selected From Whom the Chancellor is to Pick Commencement Orator—Laws Meet.

Yesterday morning during the convocation period the Senior class met in U. 106 for the purpose of hearing reports from a number of committees, and to attend to other matters of minor importance. The play committee recommended an assessment of $3 upon every Senior in order to meet the large expenses incident to the production of the class play. It was decided to lay this tax, and to order that every Senior either pay this before the first of the year or else sign a note for the amount. Each member of the class who pays this assessment will be entitled to six tickets to the play, the tickets to be distributed to the Seniors before being placed on general sale. The committee having in charge the girls' caps and gowns reported that it was the intention to have all the girls appear in cap and gown the day before Thanksgiving, and that accordingly all orders should be placed at once. The committee for the selection of the commencement orator reported a list of prominent men of the country which they had prepared. This list is to be submitted to Chancellor Andrews, who is to select the most available man and if possible engage him for that time. In case the man on whom the first choice falls is unable to accept the invitation, the position will be offered to the second choice. Following is the list:

- Congressman Richardson of Tennessee.
- President Stryker of Hamilton College.
- General Miles.
- Senator Beveridge of Indiana.
- Vice-president Fairbanks.
- Governor Folk of Missouri.
- Senator Cummins of Iowa.
- Governor La Follette of Wisconsin.
- Senator Dohrmer of Iowa.
- Dr. Buckley.
- Hon. Franklin McVey.

Under the rules made by the board of regents last year, all student affairs with financial concerns were placed under a faculty auditing committee. There seemed to be some doubt as to whether this board was to be selected by the class or was to be a general board appointed by the authorities. Tentative appointments were made in case it was the duty of the class to make the selection. Upon motion the president appointed a hat committee and a pin committee, which are as follows:

- Hat Committee—Pugsley, chairman; Whelan, Hollingsworth.
 - Pin Committee—Miss Howell, chairman; Miss Bunt, Benedict.
