SHOULD THE GIRLS ROOT?

To us in the West the question of a girls' rooting squad was one of expediency only, and no one ever questioned the propriety of such a move. The organization of such squads at this and other universities of the middle West seems to have shocked the more conservative Eastern institutions. At Syracuse the proposition was recently made that a girls' squad should be formed, and it precipitated a lively debate. The "Syracuse Daily Orange" has the following to say on the question:

"The girls of the West have inaugurated a movement which has fairly startled the co-educational colleges of the East. The 'Girls' Rooting Club' kinds of opinion. One of our most prominent athletes of other years heartily favors the plan, declaring that, with their own cheering master, the girls would make the men hustle to maintain a proper superiority. Others scorned the idea as mannish and unbecoming to college women. As for the girls themselves, there seems to be a general feeling that there is lacking at present any way of exhibiting their real college spirit, and there are quite a few who are enthusiastic over the suggestion. Perhaps the general sentiment of all the students, both men and women, was expressed recently by a popular leader among the girls who said, 'It would just be fine, if the cheering could be carried on in a nice womanly way.' What the outcome of the discussion will be cannot be safely predicted: In any event, we must be careful not to disturb the perfect harmony in the relations of the men and women here which make Syracuse the one ideal home of co-education in all the East."

Reserved Bleacher Seats for Illinois Game.

The football committee of the Athletic Board have made arrangements to reserve a part of the bleachers for Thanksgiving. These seats will be offered to the students first, in order that all those who desire to attend the game may get good seats. Dr. Lees will have the tickets for sale in his office on Monday morning and the price charged will be $1.50. Fifty cents being charged for the reserved, and one dollar general admission. If any of the fraternities or sororities want a block of seats they can arrange with Dr. Lees for the same early Monday morning. This is an opportunity which the students should improve, for it gives them a chance to secure the best seats on the field.

"The Western papers take the innovation as a matter of course. In the Minnesota Daily a prominent professor declares that the men should emulate the splendid cheering of the girls at the Wisconsin-Minnesota game. Whether this movement will extend to the colleges of the East is a matter for speculation. Here at Syracuse the proposition will undoubtedly meet with a warm discussion. Midway between the ultra-conservatism of the East and the brisk aggressiveness of the West, the discussion of the project here will be intensely interesting. Indeed, the idea has already received the most different Show" department of the County Fair has a sense of the dramatic in its makeup is proved by the manner in which it will conduct its display this evening. The exhibit will open with a suspense-producing lullaby entitled, "The Winter's Tale," from which the dramatic action will rapidly ascend until the major culmination is reached when the little tots "cap the climax" with an exact miniature reproduction of that historical fantastic step, so celebrated both in this country and abroad during the early '80s—the "Virginia reel."

Another new feature has been added to this department of the Fair in the shape of an Adjunct Professor, une petite.
