SOUVENIR NEBRASKANS.

Daily Nebraskan has been taken off sale at the book stores, but there are a few copies at the office of the Nebraskan which may be had at the regular price, ten cents.

DO SOME PROSELYTING.

Most of the large student body of the University will spend the Christmas vacation at home, and each one of these will have an opportunity to say a good word for the University to some young man or young lady who intends to enter college, within the next year or so. Each student should feel it his duty to talk for Nebraska at every opportunity, and should feel it a personal fault should any acquaintance who is selecting a college select some other than Nebraska. Show him how Nebraska is ranked among the universities of the country, and make him feel that it is not only a duty but a privilege to attend the University of his state.

This will be the last number of the "Daily Nebraskan" until after the Christmas holidays, the next issue being on Thursday, January 4. We wish all students a merry Christmas and happy New Year and trust that each will enjoy himself so thoroughly during the vacation that he will come back with an added zest for college work and a deeper desire to be and do something in the University.

New Coast Rules for Football.

The joint athletic committee of Stanford and California Universities met last week and adopted the following resolution regarding the reform of football as played on the coast:

"Resolved, by the Joint Athletic Committee of the University of California and the Leland Stanford Junior University, that we recommend to the faculties of the two universities in question that the intercollegiate football contest shall be no longer held under the regulations of the present Football Rules Committee. We recommend as a substitute the present English Rugby game, or else the present American game with such modifications as shall promise to eliminate the existing evils."

Miss Chambers of the School of Art is again able to attend classes, having recovered from a recent attack of la grippe.

Laws Hold Meeting.

The Law classes held a joint meeting yesterday morning during the convocation hour to discuss the law book.
The editor, Mr. Davis, and the manager, Mr. Rolfsen, told of the kind of book they wanted to get out, and of the possibility of getting out such a book without financial loss if all the classes pulled together. As the Junior class had decided not to take part in the publication, several members were called upon to assign reasons for this action, and an effort was made to persuade them of the error of their ways.
Nothing definite was done, excepting the promise of President Corey of the Juniors to call a meeting for the purpose of reconsidering the action taken at the last one.

Dr. E. Holovtchiner Will Lecture.

Arrangements have been made for Dr. E. Holovtchiner to lecture at the University. The lecture will be given in Memorial Hall, Friday evening, January the 12th. Dr. Holovtchiner is a Russian by birth. He has been educated in the universities of Russia and has also studied in several of the leading universities of Germany. His subject will be "Pushkin, the Founder of Modern Russian Literature." The lecture is given under the auspices of the Graduate Club. Not only the members of the club, but also the public will be invited.

The following is from the "Pacific Wave," of the University of Washington. Dr. Moritz was formerly a member of the faculty of the Mathematics department at Nebraska:

"In the latest issue of the American Mathematic Society bulletin, an abstract of the paper prepared for the San Francisco session recently by Dr.
Robert E. Moritz is given. 'On Logarithmic Involution, the Commutative Arithmetic Process of the Third Order,' is the title of the paper which was read at the convention in Dr.
Moritz's absence. The paper, which is a very valuable contribution to higher mathematics, will be offered to the Annals of Mathematics for publication."
