Four second team games were played in 1905 and three in 1904. A few items under expenditures which were submitted in detail in 1903 have been bunched together under the miscellaneous head in order to shorten the report. According to these reports there was a deficit in 1903 and a balance on the other side of the ledger in 1904 and 1905. The Colorado game was played in Boulder in 1903 and 1904, which partly accounts for the

is for the football season only, other expenditures not being included. When the amount of the deficit at the first of the season, the amount paid towards the "T" street lots, the cost of sending the cross-country team to Chicago, etc., are taken into account it is found that there is, at the present time, a deficit of about $720.

BOOTH WILL NOT RETURN.

Popular Coach Intends to Practice Law Solely.

Walter C. Booth, who has coached the Nebraska football team for the past six seasons, and who has made a splendid record for himself as a constructive coach, has announced that he will not return next fall, assigning as a reason for his decision his intention to devote himself exclusively to the practice of law in New York City, where he is a member of a firm with excellent prospects. For the past two seasons it has been but barely possible to persuade Mr. Booth to remain at Nebraska, and each year he has been induced to remain only after he had once announced that he would not do so. This year his answer seems to be final, however, and the Athletic Board seems to have decided to accept the inevitable and is now looking around for a good coach. It is the prevailing sentiment at the University that a Yale man will be the next coach. Owing to the many changes which will necessarily be made in the rule this year, Booth's successor will probably be some man who has shown himself able to evolve new plays, rather than one who has been more successful on account of his perfecting old ones.

At the same time comes the announcement that Assistant Coach John Westover will not be able to assist on the gridiron this fall on account of the amount of time he will have to devote to his business in the city. Westover was captain of the Cornhusker team for two years, and for the past three seasons has been Booth's right-hand man in the development of a team.

Senior Resolutions.

1. I shall live within my allowance.
2. I shall write home as often as I need money.
3. In writing home I shall always write plainly, especially the figures.
4. I shall have my senior theme ready when it is due.
5. I shall not "work the profs" any more.
6. I shall be prompt in the payment of all class dues.
7. In case of a class scrap between the other classes I shall always help myself.
8. I shall not fail to see "Ben Hur."
9. I shall discourage midnight military drills on the campus.
10. I shall attempt to kidnap no one, unless confident of success.
11. I shall neither swipe, nor be an accomplice to those who try to swipe, a class hat.
12. The class hats that I have swiped I shall return immediately, in-

COMMITTEE MEETS

ATHLETIC RELATIONS WITH KANSAS RESUMED.

Cornhusker and Jayhawker Teams to Meet on the Gridiron Next Year, With Other Contests.

The representatives of the Nebraska and Kansas Athletic Boards met in Lincoln New Year's day and patched up all differences existing between the two universities. The meeting was entirely friendly in character, and there was little or no discussion of the reasons leading up to the breach in 1903. The Nebraska representatives were Dean Pound of the Law College and ex-Captain Benedict. The Kansas arbitrators were Professor Walker of the faculty and C. O. Pingree of the student body. The meeting, which took place in the Elk Hall, was short, but it was agreed that the two universities should meet on the gridiron next fall, the game to be played in Lincoln. Nothing was done about the other branches of athletics, but it is evident that if relations are resumed in the one line contests will be scheduled in basket ball and baseball also, and perhaps in track as well.

The proposed tri-state athletic league, to be composed of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska universities, was also discussed, but the Cornhusker representatives were not authorized to take any action upon the matter, although the visitors were given to understand that the chances were that Nebraska would be a little loath to enter into any such scheme.

The action taken at this meeting is not final, but must first be ratified by the two athletic boards. There will be little difficulty about this, however, and a game between the two largest universities of the Missouri valley region will be played next fall without a doubt.

Changes in the Chemical Staff.

At the recent meeting of the Regents the following changes were made in the personnel of the chemical staff at the Farm and on the campus:

Miss Quainance, who had held the position of storekeeper for ten years in the Chemical Laboratory, handed in her resignation. The vacancy thus caused was filled by transferring Miss Rachael Corr from the School of Agriculture.

Mr. Alvin Keyser, who has been employed for a part of his time in agricultural chemical work, was transferred to the Department of Agriculture.

To fill the vacancies made by the transfers of Miss Corr and Mr. Keyser, Mr. R. H. Shaw was elected assistant professor of Agricultural Chem-
