SENIORS TO HAVE GENUINE JOLLIFICATION.

Country Blow-Out To Be Given at the State Farm Next Friday—Turn Down Proposed Cap.

The Senior class met yesterday morning at eleven o'clock and decided several important matters, as well as listening to many reports of various committees. The Senior Book committee announced that all pictures must be taken immediately, as the picture proofs would have to be sent to the printer within a short time. The Play committee reported that the try-outs for the class play would occur on Wednesday and Thursday, the 17th and 18th. All members of the class who have had any experience, whether at the University or elsewhere, in dramatics, were urged to come out for this try-out, as an earnest effort was being made to produce the best play committee also announced that over a hundred dollars had been collected from the members of the class on the three dollar assessment, but that there was room for more in the exchequer, ever presented by a senior class. The

The committee having the class hat in charge met with a rebuff from the class when they brought up the hat they had selected. It was similar in style to that worn by the Juniors, and was of a gray color, with the class numeral on the band. It did not appeal to the members of the class at all, however, and the committee was instructed to look around once more and select something better, even though the hats should not arrive before commencement.

The class pin was permanently adopted, and orders may be placed at any time.

The most important subject discussed was a class party, and the class was unanimous in its support of the proposition. It was decided that the party should take the form of an old-fashioned country jollification, to be given in the barn at the State Farm next Friday evening. Every girl in the class is expected to go, and to go alone, for some terrible punishment will be suffered by any young lady who permits a man to accompany her. Miss Dawese, who has the affair in charge, urged all the girls to wear their old clothes, "in order to feel more at home," and the hearty "Amen" following her words proved that all the girls felt the same way about it. In addition to wearing old clothes, each co-ed is requested to take a fat, juicy pie along, and it is understood that there will be a voting contest among the men to determine the best pie. The men will have various duties to perform, among them the selection of one of their number to be a "sigger baby," and it is expected that there will be quite a competition for this post of honor. Other features of the genuine country fair will be present, and a good time is assured to all. Seniors will be admitted, and tickets will be fifteen cents each. They may be obtained from members of the Charter Day Athletic Events.

The men continue to work on their different events for the big mid-winter athletic contest Charter Day. From 4 to 5 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday a large crowd may be seen in the gym, working out. The 25-yard dash as usual is attracting much attention from the men, and many new candidates are out this year for trial in this event. It will be necessary to hold semi-finals in nearly every event so that the number may be narrowed down by Charter Day.

In regard to the different events, the pole vault is being worked up by Hagensick, Morse, and MacDonald. Hagensick is expected to break all varsity indoor records in this event on the 15th of February. The dash is being tried for by Wallace, Craig, Weller, Winters, and a large number of new men. Meyer will be the leading man in the high jump. One man who will be missed from the Charter Day exercises will be Bowman who has been very prominent during the past two years in all events, being a large point winner. The number of fraternities that will enter the relay race can not be estimated at this time, but there are six up to the present time who have signified their intention of having teams.

Cornelius To Be Adjutant.

M. E. Cornelius, the sergeant-major of the cadet battalion, has been appointed adjutant by Commandant Workizer, to succeed R. H. Thompson, who has left the University to accept a position in Pittsburg with a railroad. Mr. Cornelius is a junior, and gave up a second lieutenantcy in one of the companies at the beginning of the year to accept the position of sergeant-major. In his new position he is ranking first lieutenant. His successor as sergeant-major has not been appointed.

STUDENTS DEBATING CLUB.

Discuss Suffrage Tax—Will Debate the Academy Next Saturday.

The Students Debating Club held its first regular meeting since the Christmas vacation last Saturday night. Union Hall was well filled with members who participated actively in the parliamentary scrap and afterwards listened to a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the twenty-five cents tax for suffrage on the Athletic Board should be abolished." Black and Martin were billed to speak on the affirmative but not being present their places were filled by J. M. Paul and C. C. McWhinney. Buffington and Yoder spoke on the negative.

Secretary Hughes, being instructed some time ago to correspond with different colleges relative to the arrangement of joint debates, has succeeded in again securing favorable answers from the Alpha Omega Debating Club of Doane College, a society which the club defeated in a debate last year, and from the Creighton Oratorical Society of Omaha. It is expected that a debate will be arranged with both of these colleges in the near future.

Next Saturday night the Students Debating Club will debate the question of government ownership of railroads with representatives of the Academy Debating Club. Leo S. Legro, F. B. Copeland, and R. R. Smith will represent the Students Debating Club.

The Academy team will uphold the affirmative.

Katherine Vavrusky, '04, who is teaching German and mathematics in Elk Point, South Dakota, spent the Christmas vacation visiting with friends in St. Paul, Minnesota, where she taught last year.

BAKER COLLEGE

VARSITY FIVE TO MEET MEN FROM KANSAS.

First Game of Season with Outside Team To Be Played Early in February—Will Be Good Contest.

Arrangements have been made whereby the University of Nebraska will play Baker University in Lincoln on February 3rd or 5th. Baker has always given us a good hard game, and has drawn a good crowd to the game. This year should prove no exception to the games previously played for Baker will be represented by a stronger team than ever, and Nebraska will have to play the game of the year to win with a good margin.

Last year there was a difference of about ten points in the score, but this was the result after one of the most closely contested games seen on the floor during the year. Two of last year's team are not in the game this year consequently the strength of the team will not be known until it goes up against a hard game.

It is hoped that games with Kansas, and Kansas City Athletic club may be played on the home floor during the present month. Since Kansas and Nebraska have resumed athletic relations, a game with the former team is very probable. The Kansas City Athletic club has been contemplating a trip up this way for some time, and if such a trip is made a game with Nebraska is almost a certainty. As to other home games, there are not any that are certain yet, but in a short time it is hoped that the complete schedule can be announced.

Exciting Basketball Practice.

About forty candidates for the basketball team turned out last evening for a fast practice. They were divided into squads and each squad given a chance for five or ten minutes. Several of the freshmen are showing excellent form, and will be valuable additions to the first squad. Since each of these men will have been in school an entire semester before the big games begin, they will be eligible for the first team, and as a consequence, Nebraska should be represented by the best team in its history.

Mr. T. H. Tibbles, ex-candidate of the Populist party for vice-president, will occupy the convocation period this morning with a discussion of "The Insurance Investigation." Mr. Tibbles is a speaker of more than local fame and will give a very interesting and instructive talk.

Fletcher Lane, who until recently has had charge of the physical department in the Industrial School at Kearney, Nebraska, is now engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Chicago.

Florence Donelson, who would have graduated in June, 1906, has accepted the position of principal in the Madison High School.

Britannia Daughters, '05, is teaching in East Troy, Wisconsin.
