Two of the three sophomores who entered Memorial Hall by way of the pipe organ, in order to obtain admission to the first meeting of the freshman class this year, were compelled by the authorities to appear yesterday and pay the cost of repairing the organ. Notices were sent out to the three men that they must appear yesterday before five o'clock and pay for the damages or be dismissed. Unfortunately for the other two men, one of the men left for home some time ago and therefore did not respond to the notice, leaving the full amount to be paid by the two now in school. The full amount was $38, each man paying half.

The action of the authorities came as somewhat of a surprise to the men. It is claimed that damages of this sort have not generally been paid before and it is thought that these men hoped to escape in the same manner. It is with considerable interest that students await the action of the class in the matter. A large number of the students think that the class should reimburse the men and it may possibly be taken up at the next meeting.

Poster Sale.

The Palladian Literary Society gave an officers program last Friday night, after which they proceeded to sell their posters. James Anderson was the auctioneer. The sum realized from the sale was about ten dollars, which will be used in publishing a Palladian year book. Some of the posters were the results of a good deal of time and effort on the part of the artist and make fitting souvenirs of bygone days.

Athletic Board Meeting.

The University Athletic Board will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday evening and will take up the question of football manager and coach. There are a number of applicants for both positions, but it is probable that no definite selection will be made at this time.
