The Daily Nebraskan resumes with this issue its regular work as the University's news gatherer. The difficulties under which the paper has labored are matters of history. Announcement as to its future and its staff of editors cannot be made at this time. However, a very just and satisfactory arrangement, we have reason to believe, will be reached. When this is complete full announcement will be made to our subscribers and the University public.

JUNIOR-SENIOR CLUB ELECT.
Eleven Men From Each Class Chosen by the Associated Barbs.

At a meeting of the Associated Barbs some time ago the organization of the new society to be known as the "Commons of the University of Nebraska" was completed. The meeting was called to order by President H. G. Myers. According to the constitution of the club the members are chosen by popular vote of the male barbs. The balloting resulted in the election of the following men:

Seniors: J. E. Bednar, M. F. Costelloe, E. D. Crites, R. R. Hill, L. S. Le Gro, H. N. Mattley, F. H. Morrow, P. F. O'Gara, W. H. Smith, W. H. Whelan and E. Wunder.

Juniors: H. A. Brubaker, M. E. Corneliuss, D. P. DeYoung, D. A. Kerr, A. M. Levy, A. C. Meler, H. G. Myers, J. M. Paul, G. L. Pitchford, C. A. Sunderlin and A. E. Wolf.

Though the members are elected by popular vote of the non-fraternity men, fraternity men are eligible to election.

Of those elected, one, C. A. Sunderlin, is a fraternity man.

The object of the organization is to promote a more democratic spirit among the students and discourage cliques. An organization was perfected at the first meeting and the officers elected as follows: President, H. G. Myers; vice-president, W. H. Whelan; secretary, J. E. Bednar; treasurer, C. A. Sunderlin.

Jolly Sleighing Party.

About a dozen enthusiastic University "co-eds" came to the conclusion that the tardiness of their gentlemen friends was no reason why they should not have a sleigh ride. After calling up a number of the livery barns by phone, a double cutter and a team—that girls could drive—was finally secured. Division number one of the party left on scheduled time. For a while all went well. The sleighbells were ringing, maidens were laughing and singing, the prancing horses were snorting in the frosty air. As the party was nearing Sixteenth and N streets and were congratulating themselves over their venture, the break-down—so indispensable to every successful sleigh ride—occurred and hats, wraps, furs, maidens and all were precipitated into the fleecy snow.

In exactly two and a half minutes the liveryman was on the scene of disaster with another rig, which he turned over to the girls, taking the broken one in for repairs. In about an hour they "pulled in" and were being thawed out with hot drinks while the rest of the crowd enjoyed themselves in their own way. They reported an equally joyous time, only a little disappointed in not having a break-down. They had the satisfaction, however, of humiliating their gentlemen friends, whom they met on the street, and on their return did more than ample justice to the warm chocolate which was in waiting for them.
