DRAMATIC CLUB

PRESENTS THE "RUSSIAN HONEY MOON."

Both Were Well Carried Out—Club Has Successful Trip to Crete.

Two productions of the University Dramatic Club, "The Trained Nurse" and "A Russian Honeymoon," have met with excellent success during the past week. The former, a short two-act football play, was given at the Oliver last Thursday evening as one number of the benefit given by the Athletic Board to make up the existing deficit in the athletic treasury. The play was especially appropriate, since the story had to do chiefly with an injured football hero and offered a number of chances for good local hits.

The actors sustained their parts well and the audience evidently enjoyed the brisk movement of the action. The play was short and went without a break, thanks to the careful training of Miss Howell and Mr. Keyser. The cast of characters was as follows:

Mrs. Worthington, a wealthy widow, Miss Louise Allen
Reginald Worthington, the injured
halfback I. P. Hewitt
Margaret Worthington, alias "Peggy," his sister Miss Lucile Cull
Phil Armour, his friend—and Peggy's Frank Bellamy
Molly Burton, the "trained nurse" Miss Edith Butler
Dr. Strong, family physician Roy Sunderland

The second play, a three-act drama of Russian life, was presented at the Crete opera house as a benefit for the Doane Athletic Board, and gained an enthusiastic reception by the good-sized audience present. The play had been given previously in Memorial Hall, but a rearrangement of parts made the production at Crete different in several respects from the original as given here. The excellent work of Miss Linderman, who took a difficult role on short notice, was a feature of the play.

Between acts a quartette composed of Messrs. Dorwart, Wallace, Higgins and Agee, sang a number of selections which added decidedly to the success of the evening. The members of the cast were as follows: Mr. Edgerton, Miss Carns, Miss Linderman, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Sawyer, Miss Erford and Mr. Roberts, with Mr. Pepperberg as musician and prompter. There is a possibility that the play may be given in one or more other towns in the state within the next few weeks, and it is hoped that such a trip, if undertaken, may add materially to the standing of the club in an artistic way.

The Dramatic Club has shown the merit of its work in these two productions. It is hoped that the plays which are to follow in Memorial Hall before the end of the year may have the patronage they deserve. The first three of these plays will be given within a few weeks and will constitute an "Evening of Proposals." Three one-act sketches will be put on, each of which will exhibit some new variation of the "old, old story." Among those who will take part are: Miss Mae Edholm, Mr. Keyser, Mr. Steiner, Miss Denny, Miss Haskell, Miss Hanlon, Mr. Fenlon and Mr. Evans.

Dramatic Club try-outs for admittance to membership will be held on the evening of March 20th and all applicants are requested to see Miss Howell before that time. This will be the final try-out this year and all students interested in dramatic work are urged to consult with Miss Howell or some member of the cast committee at once. The cast committee consists of Miss Carns, Miss Erford, Miss Louise Allen, Miss Gould, Miss Fall, Mr. Edgerton, Mr. Keyser and Mr. Sunderland.

Y. W. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS.

Miss Luella Agee Chosen President and Miss Redington Secretary.

The Y. W. C. A. met last week and elected officers for the coming year. As the presidency of this organization is considered the greatest honor within the power of the co-eds, it is generally a very serious question that confronts them in regard to this choice. Miss Pearl Archibald, who has served so faithfully as president of the association during the past year, is succeeded by a person who is equally capable and suited for the place. Miss Luella Agee was elected president for the ensuing year. The other officers as elected are: Vice-president, Myrtle Kauffman; secretary, Helen Redington; treasurer, Ethel Henrich.

The installation of these officers was held at the home of Mrs. Talbot, Saturday afternoon, and reports for the past year were given.

GLEE CLUB.

Has Made Many Successful Trips in the State.

Since the last issue of this paper the two clubs (Glee and Mandolin) have been taking in the neighboring cities and making a "hit" wherever they stopped.

The Hastings trip was a success from start to finish and the clubs were most royally entertained after the concert at the home of Mr. Duer. The house was packed and very enthusiastic.

The trip out to Friend and Exeter was very successful and at least seventy-five were turned away from the doors at one of the places and the boys were entertained at private houses all the time while away on this trip.

At Tecumseh and Johnson the boys had a pretty good time, but bad weather interfered with the attendance. Both clubs are working hard on the home concert and are trying their best to work up a concert that Lincoln people will enjoy and appreciate.

The Glee Club Dutch Band has been meeting every evening for the last week getting into shape for the big concert to be given at the Oliver on April 6th, and by all indications it will not only be able to play "It Was the Dutch," but some good selections, as some of the best University musicians are to be found there.

Just as soon as class is out go to the Co-op and get one of those Sombreros. You may be too late.

" CORNHUSKER "

THE JUNIOR AND SOPHOMORE CLASSES MAKE SELECTIONS.

H. G. Meyers to Be Editor-in-Chief and A. E. Burr Business Manager of Book.

At a recent meeting of the Junior and Sophomore classes the following men were elected to superintend the publishing of the "Cornhusker" in 1907:

Editor-in-Chief, H. G. Myers, '07.

Managing editor, T. A. Browne, '07.

Business manager, A. E. Burr, '08.

In both classes considerable rivalry was manifested, the Junior race being between Brown and Drain, while the Sophomore aspirants centered their forces about Burr and Mills. After much skillful maneuvering on both sides, Burr carried the election for the Sophomores and Brown for the Juniors.

There was also some difficulty experienced in straightening out the matter of chief editorship. President Myers first submitted the name of C. A. Sunderlin to the class as his choice for the place, but it refused to ratify the appointment, whereupon the president was compelled by resolution to submit his own name as candidate for the office. The class at once voted to accept him as editor-in-chief of the publication. The managing editorship was next voted upon, resulting, as has already been said, in the election of T. A. Browne.

There yet remains the election of an assistant business manager by the Junior class and an assistant business manager and managing editor by the Sophomores. The Juniors will hold their election next Tuesday. In addition to these three officers, there are a number of departmental editors to be appointed, without ratification, by the presidents of the respective classes.

As yet the "Laws" have taken no action relative to appointing representatives on the publication staff, but it is expected that they will make the appointments in the near future.

From all indications the "Cornhuskers" will prove a success in every way. The editorial staff is strong and, with the united support of both the Junior and Sophomore classes the publication should be a distinct improvement over the publications heretofore issued at this institution.

The consolidation of the year books in the form of the "Cornhusker" is a very timely move, as the Commercial Club of the city, at its last meeting, appointed a committee, whose duty was to prepare resolutions for the restricting of advertising in the University publications. A representative of The Nebraskan called upon one of the committee yesterday and found that the sentiment among the merchants of the city seemed to be that they were being called upon too often for advertising in University enterprises. The merchants are of the general opinion that they will support one University annual and the daily publication.
