Subscription Price, $2 per year in advance

Because of the time lost during suspension of publication, the price of the Daily Nebraskan for the present semester has been reduced to 75 cents.
We have never needed the students' support more than at the present time and you can help us greatly by calling at our office on the second floor of University Hall and paying your subscription. In case anyone has overpaid us, we will credit your account or will refund the amount overpaid after May the 1st. For the balance of the semester the price will be 50 cents.

Last evening the debating team left for Wisconsin, yet how many students were aware of the fact? How many seemed to realize that the Nebraska team was to face her strongest opponent in her history of debating? If general indications counted for anything, nobody knew and nobody seemed to care, and if the team won all would suddenly become enthusiastic and how proud she was of her team. Yet could not this enthusbeen entirely indifferent to their progress, seeming to ignore their efforts, and never even uttered encouragement to them.

Such a condition of affairs is almost deplorable, and it, indeed, detracts from the intellectual standing of the student body. Men and women will howl themselves hoarse over some athletic event and make tin gods out of members of the teams (this is said without reflection on any athletic contest), but where the mind must bring victory the students seem to think it is more pious to remain quiet and indifferent. To which, then, in the University, are we lending our encouragement, the muscle workers or the brain workers? To the former, of course, and when we do it we forget the primary object for which the University was established. Athletics are all right when they go hand in hand with intellectual training, but when the latter is forgotten then it is time to call a halt. Students support that which will stand for the most if victory is ours.

SPECIAL CONVOCATION.

Pundit Krishna of the University of Bombay to Address Students.

Pundit N. Krishna, instructor in the University of Bombay, will talk to the students on "Educational Conditions in India" at convocation this morning. Mr. Krishna is one of the leading educators of the Indian empire and will doubtless give a very interesting as well as instructive account of the Eastern nation. This is the first special convocation of its kind since the visit of the Chinese investigators to the University last winter.

The Sophomore class meeting which was to have been held this morning, has been postponed because of the special exercises at convocation. The date of the next meeting will be announced later.

WE WANT YOUR SUPPORT

DO IT RIGHT NOW!

asm have been more timely, and how much stronger it would have made the men feel to have received a rousing send-off.

Nebraska has had one of the most remarkable careers in debating that any school can boast of. Nine debates, and nine victories, sums the entire four years up in a nutshell. The students seem very proud of their record, yet they fail to manifest it at the proper time. How much more it would mean to us to have ten debates and ten victories, with the tenth one with Wisconsin. The men who represent us are very strong in debating, and have worked hard to bring victory to Nebraska, but the students have

FORMER NEBRASKAN ELECTED.

University Alumnus Chosen President of Philosophical Club.

H. E. Pillsbury, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and at present instructor in philosophy in the University of Michigan, was elected president of the Western Philosophical Club at its annual meeting in Madison, Wisconsin, last week. Mr. Pillsbury is one of the most promising young philosophers in this country.

Nebraska was represented by Dr.
French.

Now For Spring Shopping

Have you been around to see the new things we are showing this spring? Best assortment we've ever had since we've been in business.

Stylish spring suits and wraps, bewitchingly pretty hats, that we we sell at prices surprisingly low, when you consider what you'd have to pay for the same charming styles and the same quality of material in other stores.

Handsome dress goods, and shimmering silks in all the shades that fashion has decreed are proper this season.

But the wash goods—there's where we're strongest. Assortments so complete that the most fastidious person in Nebraska couldn't fail to be suited.

Plenty of the soft, filmy, fluffy materials for the dainty thin dresses, heavier gingham, linens and other suitings for the smart and practical shirt-waist suits.

New conceits in neckwear; ribbons for every purpose, beautiful laces and embroideries for the embellishment of Summer gowns as well as the daintiest of lingerie, are here in satisfying profusion.

SATURDAY will be a day of special sales all over the store, better plan to come in then and look over the different lines.

You're sure to find many an article you want, and you're just as sure of finding many things that you can save money on. Remember, now, Saturday you're coming to
