There has been more or less complaint from those in charge of football practice this spring because more men do not appear. It seems as if the candidates do not realize just how much this practice is to mean to them for work next fall. This much is true, that the men who work hard and consistently this spring are going to stand a much greater chance in making the team next fall than those who do not come out at all now. This is altogether a selfish plea for the candidates.

But the stronger and more urgent argument is that college pride should bring you out. The man who will not answer to this plea should never be allowed to represent Nebraska on any field of activity. At this time especially should the men respond to the call. Nebraska is to make a test of the football rules as adopted by the Rules Committee and it is necessary that the most formidable team possible be put the question should be hashed and re-hashed each year by the Senior classes. If it was a fashion that had lately been introduced then there would be some reason. But a custom which has been in vogue for over a century, and one which is still honored by all the universities of both east and west should be permitted to stand, and followed at the University of Nebraska. When any class attempts to kill such a custom they are "up against it," for any institution, it matters not the size, will never permit of the abolishment of the custom. The wearing of caps and gowns will still continue in Nebraska, and it matters not what may be the dissenter's cry.

May Morning Breakfast.

There's music in the air—that Wisconsin was not fair; for she won the famed debate. Say "Huskers," never mind, for the day of reckoning already has been chimed. Remember that the victories have been nine; so let's put the sorrows of defeat behind; for the grub will be just fine at that Annual Breakfast Time. Your debate will then gain time, for every plate will win a girl, at that good old Breakfast Time. But come "Husker," never mind; you simply did do fine; only be there just on time—at the Annual Breakfast of the Y. W. C. A., May 5, in the St. Paul's Methodist church parlors.

There will be a meeting of the Nashville delegates in the Young Men's Christian Association room at eleven o'clock tomorrow. Every delegate's presence is desired.

Every Thursday evening until the close of school there will be held a meeting in the Young Women's Christian Association rooms, to which everyone is cordially invited. Whether you are especially interested or not, come and enjoy an hour of quiet service.

into the field. Our trial is being watched by all the schools in the west, and will effect the game more next fall than anyone can understand. Men come out and support your own university in this test of the rules.

The men of the Senior Law, Academic and Medic classes meet today to decide whether or not they shall wear caps and gowns at Commencement. For the past three years this question has required a special meeting in order that some definite conclusion might be reached. It seems as if the men are always in doubt more or less as to the propriety of following such an old custom.

This question should be decided once for all, and that in the affirmative. It seems hardly necessary to us that

The meetings begin at eight o'clock sharp and are conducted by the Volunteer Band.

Medics vs. Wesleyan.

The University Medical baseball team defeated Wesleyan University at University Place Saturday by a score of 13 to 0. The Medics played an excellent game, making but a single error, and securing twelve hits. Mulliken pitched a star game for the Medics, striking out thirteen men and allowing but one man to walk. "Cy" Reynolds caught his usual game and the playing of the rest of the Medics was equally good. Trumbell pitched a good game for Wesleyan, but did not have the support he deserved. Errors cost the Wesleyan team about four scores. Jamison, who took Trumbell's place in the sixth, was easily batted, the Medics securing eight runs. He was replaced again by Trumbell, who finished the game, shutting the
