DEBATE TONIGHT.

Students Debating Club at Wesleyan—Unions to Discuss "Matrimony."

Messrs. H. A. Brubaker, M. J. Hughes and R. E. Hill, representing the Students' Debating Club, meet the Dialectic Debating Club of Wesleyan in the auditorium at University Place. The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That congress should delegate power to fix and determine railroad rates to a commission or bureau, the decision of which shall, of its own force, become effective."

The Students' Debating Club upholds the affirmative, the Dialectics the negative.

For judges the following professors have been decided upon: George D. Ayers of the Nebraska College of Law; Wells of the Department of History at Wesleyan, and M. Keith of Cotner. The debate will begin at 8 p. m. sharp. All interested in the question or in the speakers are welcome. No admission fee will be charged.

In the Union Society tonight the program will consist largely of a discussion of the merits and demerits of married vs. single life. Although the speakers upholding the merits of married life will be somewhat handicapped by a lack of experience, yet they have made an exhaustive study of the situation and have gathered evidences and data, by the yard, from authoritative sources.

W. F. Rantsma, who was elected county surveyor of Richardson county last fall, and who has been in school the second semester, has been obliged to leave school to take care of the drainage work in his county.

The visiting Sigs will be the guests of the local chapter while in Lincoln and all exercises will be under the supervision of the chapter. There are eight chapters represented in the convention, these coming from some five states. Colorado College and the Denver alumni chapters come from Colorado; the University of Missouri and Washington University, of St. Louis, chapters come from Missouri; the Kansas University and Kansas City alumni chapters from Kansas; University of Iowa chapter from Iowa. The visiting men will leave Sunday for their homes.
