BLUE PRINT SOCIETY GETS OUT ITS ANNUAL BOOK.

Contains Many Good Articles on Pertinent Topics by Professors and Other Prominent Writers.

Last week the Blue Print was placed on sale and from reports of the business managers the book has found favor among the professors and students of the Engineering department. On account of an unavoidable delay the printers were a day or so late in delivering the book, but Engineers are used to working on the "slow but sure" rule and being sure they had a good book were willing to go slow.

The book contains some excellent material from the pen of Professor Richards, his article on "Calculation of Forfeits or Bonuses for High Duty Pumping Engines" being especially good. Thomas Davis contributed a number of labor saving gear tables, and Professor Chatburn has a very interesting article on the "Practical Method of Constructing Concrete Curb and Gutters."

The other contributors are both local men and others of note, including Prof. W. F. M. Goss, Prof. G. H. Morse, W. M. Kallasch, L. A. Sheldon, L. W. Turner, D. E. Mills, and A. B. Smith.

The managers and editors have done their work well and their efforts are appreciated by the department as is shown by the support they have given. This year the Blue Print has added a new feature in the large number of complimentary copies which have been mailed to all large engineering libraries and engineers of note. The total list is about one hundred, and names of prominent professors or practical engineers are still being received.

Lecture on Dante.

Dante's celebrated poem is the subject of a lecture to be delivered at Memorial Hall this (Tuesday) evening by Rev. M. I. Stritch, S. J. of Creighton University.

The subject itself is of particular literary interest and value. Rev. Stritch has achieved considerable eminence as a lecturer and is well known for his lectures on "Dante" and "The Holy Grail."

The enthusiasm with which the lecture on Dante was received by the Graduate Club some time ago led to the present call for its delivery in public.

Admission is free and the University students and public are cordially invited and urged to be present.

Lecture begins at 8:15 p. m.

Notice.

All cadets who want the Daily Nebraskan sent to camp should leave their names at the Nebraskan office at once.

NEBRASKA WINS TRACK MEET COMP. Q MARCHES

Kansas Defeated by a Score of 76 to 41—Hagensink, Wallace, Houser and Putnam Stars.

A small and fairly enthusiastic crowd witnessed the Kansas-Nebraska meet on the Athletic field last Saturday. Nebraska proved the stronger of the two teams and carried off victory, 76-41. The poor condition of the track and heavy wind were responsible to a very great extent for the poor time made in the different track events. But little disappointment was shown as few had expected fast time when they saw the conditions under which the men labored.

Nebraska won the first event, and led Kansas by two points. This was soon evened up by Kansas taking first in the half mile. This was the first surprise of the day as Penrod had been counted upon as a sure winner. The next three events went to Nebraska, Hagensink winning the pole vault, Chaloupka the shot, and Houser the hurdles. Hagensink came within one-fourth of an inch of his Kansas City record of 11:6 feet, and if the wind had not interfered he would have broken his record. Houser equalled his former record of 16:1-5 seconds in the high hurdles. The Varsity was successful to the extent of shutting Kansas out of four events, 120 and 220 hurdles, two mile, and 440 yard run, while Kansas only shut us out of one event, the hammer throw.

Several surprises were sprung on both Kansas and Nebraska. Probably the greatest was in the distance events when Kansas took both the half and mile. Penrod and Morgan of Nebraska had been counted upon to win these events, but Miller and Preist of Kansas proved too speedy for them. Many had feared Nebraska would be defeated in the sprints owing to the loss of Winters. But Wallace, even with his sprained ankle, ran prettily and captured both the hundred and two-hundred in very good time considering the track. Wallace of Kansas was second in both of these events. But the greatest surprise to Kansas came in the 440 yard run when Smith and Penrod, both of Nebraska, defeated their captain, Driscoll. Smith ran the quarter in the fastest time that has ever been made on the Nebraska track, 52:1-5 seconds. Driscoll has been suffering from a very badly sprained ankle, which he hurt two weeks ago, but notwithstanding this, he ran a hard race. He was loudly applauded by the Nebraska rooters after this race on account of his exhibition of grit.

The result of the hurdles was the same as in the Colorado meet one year ago. Nebraska captured both places, Houser taking first and Peck second. The close contest of each race came between Peck of Nebraska and Johnson of Kansas for second place. Hagensink took the broad jump by a leap of twenty-one feet and four inches, which is within an inch of the University record. The heaviest point winners of the Nebraska were Hagensink, Wallace and Houser, who each won ten points, while Putnam was the star for the visitors, making ten points, first in both the hammer and discus. Nebraska took ten firsts, besides the relay, and seven seconds. Chaloupka, Alden, Knode and Smith being the other first men for Nebraska. Alden won the mile in an easy finish.

The best of feeling prevailed throughout the entire meet, and the Nebraska rooters were very liberal in their rooting. Whenever a Kansas man ran a good race he was cheered as loudly as any of the Nebraska men. The meet was close as regards each event, even if the final results seem otherwise. The result of the meet and the officials was as follows:

100-yard dash—Won by Wallace, Nebraska; Wallace, Kansas, second. Time, :10 2-5.

Pole vault—Won by Hagensink, Nebraska; Russell, Kansas, second. Height, 11 feet 5 3-4 inches.

Half mile run—Won by Miller, Kansas; Penrod, Nebraska, second. Time, 2:07 3-5.

16 pound shot put—Won by Chaloupka, Nebraska; distance, 37 feet 1 inch; Putnam, Kansas, second; distance 36 feet 4 2-5 inches.

120 yard hurdles—Won by Houser, Nebraska; Peck, Nebraska, second. Time, :16 1-5.

Running high jump—Won by Knode, Nebraska; Parker, Kansas, second. Height, 5 feet 9 inches.

220 yard dash—Won by Wallace, Nebraska; Wallace, Kansas, second. Time, :23 4-5.

16 pound hammer throw—Won by Putnam, Kansas; distance—133 feet 5 inches. Pringle, Kansas, second; distance, 119 feet 9 inches.

BOYS IN FULL EVENING DRESS LINE UP FOR ANNUAL PARADE.

Three Hundred Men in Line for Annual "Shirt-tail" Parade—Commandant is Visited.

With a squad of buglers at the head of the long column of white robed marchers, and several men bearing red lanterns as danger signals, Company Q took up its annual march last night at the Armory. More than three hundred men were in line and this was augmented by a number of stragglers who "fell in" on the way.

Marching down Twelfth to O street and east on O to Fifteenth, the boys paid their ghostly respects to his excellency the governor and to Commandant Workizer of the University battalion. The governor was not at home, but the captain came out and in his own inimitable manner bade the boys welcome. After a rousing cheer, the boys fell in line again and marched down Thirteenth to O, and then, after persuading two or three street cars to stop, much against their will, the line headed for that thirst-quenching spot—Riggs' drug store. The line of march from here included Sam's Cafe, the Oliver Theater, and many other prominent places of business.

Up to the hour of going to press the boys had conducted themselves in an entirely orderly manner and were not molested by the police.

A large crowd of University students and townspeople followed the marchers and cheered them on, especially when they gained entrance to the gallery at the Oliver. The order preserved was much in contrast to the unpleasant features on the memorable night that the Collins Carnival company was showing here and when the parade ended in a free-for-all smash-up.

FORESTERS RETURN.

Tree Planters Home from the Sand Hills.

The foresters are home again. G. B. McDonald, C. M. Dunn and Roy G. Pierce, the last of the five who left for the forest reserve early in the spring, arrived in Lincoln Saturday after a six weeks' stay in the sand hill country. The other two men who left the University to help plant the pinery were Carlos Bates and Robert Hill.

Up to the time the Nebraska "planters" left a total of 400,000 pine trees had been planted, of which number 300,000 were yellow pine and 100,000 jack pine. The former were planted in the sand hills; the latter in the nursery rows. These trees were raised in the government seed beds on the reserve.

W. H. Mast of the Forest Service has the work of planting the trees in charge. He is one of the leading forestry men in the country, being a graduate of the Iowa Agricultural College and Yale.
