THE GLEE CLUB.

The University Glee and Mandolin Clubs are organizations which warmly deserve the pride the University has always felt in them. The Clubs reflect the musical character of the student body in a most creditable manner. Their repertoire comprises not merely catchy popular selections, but includes some very fine classical music. The opportunity for instruction and experience which the Clubs offer to those of musical ability is invaluable to the members. The general influence of the concerts in cultivating among the general student body a taste for and an intelligent appreciation of good music is also very beneficial.

stitution conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of the Civil Law. He won the Joseph Letter Prize Debate at the University of Chicago; was a fellow in Political Science at the University of Wisconsin, from 1901 to 1902; and was lecturer on Constitutional Law and Government at Columbian University, Washington, D. C., 1902 to 1903.

Dr. Maxey is the author of "Some Questions of Larger Politics," "Triumphs of American Diplomacy," and of a work on International Law that has just been published and is being very favorably received.

Dr. Maxey is looked upon by his colleagues as a valuable accession to their teaching force. The University community welcomes him to the activities and fellowship of the college and the University life.

Botany Camp.

The students who studied botany last summer at Minnehaha Falls, on Pike's Peak, came back filled with enthusiasm over their summer. While a very respectable amount of work was done, both in ecology and systematic botany, the summer was crowded with good times. The camp had the honor once during the summer of entertaining Chancellor Andrews at Sunday dinner. Professor Bruner spent over a week at the cabin. The climb to the Peak was accomplished three times and the party was described in the "Pike's Peak Daily News" as "the best climbers in the Pike's Peak region."

The camp was not cheated of its share of romance. Professor Persinger, of the History Department, was married quietly in Colorado Springs, about the middle of August, to Miss Daisy Schein of Central City. The happy couple, accompanied by Miss May Persinger, spent their honeymoon at Minnehaha Falls, but their happiness was somewhat disturbed for a short time while a rousing charivari was being given them by the Botany Camp and the other Nebraska people on the mountain. Appropriate wedding presents were presented to the bride and groom, including nutmeg graters, boxes of soap, and broken spoons, indicating the end of courtship. The celebration was hilariously enjoyed by all concerned.

Those who were regular members of the camp during the last five weeks were as follows:

- R. J. Poole, of Weeping Water,
- R. E. Stone, Harvard.
- A. J. Sampson, Oakland.
- C. P. Hartley, Lincoln.
- H. W. Barre, South Carolina.
- Nelle Stevenson, Lincoln.
- Lind Trueblood, Lincoln.
- Goldena Denny, Lincoln.
- Leota Lapp, Nelson.
- Fay Hartley, Lincoln.

The annual Union Society reception will be given next Friday night in Union Hall.

What the Glee and Mandolin Clubs are to be, depends upon the earnestness and enthusiasm with which those competent enter upon the work. Not only must the members themselves make faithful preparation. They must have in their efforts the hearty encouragement and willing co-operation of the whole school.

DR. EDWIN MAXEY.

The Law School, from the Dean down, is congratulating itself upon the addition of a new department to the college course—that of Public Law. Dr. Edwin Maxey, who is to have charge of this department, is a specialist in his field. He comes to Nebraska from the University of West Virginia where he was for three years professor of Constitutional Law.

Dr. Maxey is an alumnus of Bucknell University, having graduated from that institution in 1893. He took his Master's degree at Chicago University. In 1899 that interest to University men. The annual Y. M. C. A. reception to new students will be given in both Memorial Hall and the Armory.

Chairman Higgins of the social committee announces that a short program of unusual interest has been prepared and that there will be "stunts" to satisfy the most exacting. The precise nature of these performances is a dark, but none the less enticing, mystery and an interesting evening is assured. On the program, as developed up to date, are speeches by Coach Foster on Football, Mr. Der Kinderen on a Y. M. C. A. topic, and by Mr. Standeven on the Nebraskan. There will be a talk by some member of the Faculty as well.

All men of the University, and new students especially, are urged to be out.
