A REPLY.

In reply to the editorial in yesterday's Nebraskan, taking to task the Senior Laws for their apparently unwarranted action in forming a class organization after participating in the general Senior election, the following communication has been received by the editor:

Editor Nebraskan: As a Senior Law, in answer to yesterday's editorial in the Nebraskan I would like to say that the purpose of the organization of the Senior Law class was for the purpose of having an effective way of conducting affairs which pertain to the law classes and law schools alone. The medical school has its Medical Society, the engineers their have only a few more words to say before resting our case.

If, as Mr. Green states, the majority of the Senior Laws favor the amalgamation with the academic Seniors so far as the vital points of class government and organization are concerned, and are willing to share heartily in the expenses incident to Senior week and other regular class functions, our only objection to the procedure of last Wednesday is that the organization perfected was called the "Senior Class of the College of Law."

It is significant that Medics and the Engineers have their "Societies," not their "Classes" and that in no way do they assert independence from the general Senior class. We acknowledge heartily that the Laws have some unique interests and we believe some organization specifically formed to deal with them might be advisable, but it certainly should not be drawn along class lines nor labeled with a class numeral.

The only "square" thing that the Laws can do in our estimation is to change the name of their organization and issue at once a statement representing a majority of their number, setting forth plainly their exact attitude toward the University Class of '07.

We Editors.

Editing a college paper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes, people say we are rattle-headed. If we don't we are fossils. If we publish original matter, they say we don't give them enough selections. If we give them selections, they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church, we are heathens. If we do, we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office, we ought to be out looking for news items. If we get out, then we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes, they laugh at us. If we wear good clothes, they say we have a pull. Now what are we to do? Just as likely as not some one will say we stole this

The New Driveway.

The students of engineering, especially in the C. E. group, have been showing a great deal of interest in the building of the paved driveway from R street to the Administration building. The driveway is to be built of paving brick on a concrete foundation, with artificial stone combined curb and gutter. The drive comes from the street to the south door of the building and circles back to the street again. Reimers & Fried have the contract for its construction as well as for the sidewalks which are being built around the building.

The contractors are using a Smith mixer, driven by a gasoline motor for making the concrete and with the help of this improved machine expect to complete the job very soon.

For Men Only.

Dr. C. E. Bessey will address University men Sunday, October 7, at 3 p. m. in Memorial Hall on the subject, "Some Things a University Man Can Do." A large attendance is desired.

Another One on Mary.

Mary once had fifty cents,
But down her throat she let it go,
And now she's using Fleischman's yeast
That she may raise the dough.

H. S. Clason, who graduated from the classical course of the University in 1892, and who used to be much interested in Botany, remembered his Alma Mater by sending, a few days ago, a curious specimen of a Lodgepole pine stem with the cones deeply imbedded in the wood. It created considerable commotion in the Botany Department when it was passed around among the instructors and advanced students. Mr. Clason is in business in Denver.

WHY PAY MORE?

Engineering Society, but the laws having no such organization, all things pertaining to the law school, have come up through the separate law classes. When the class organized, it wasn't for the purpose of affronting the Senior Academics, neither was it intended to repudiate the alliance. When the Senior Laws participated in the Senior class election after the conduct of the Senior laws of last year which we have never approved of—they certainly did it with their eyes open and with the intention of shouldering the duties which such participation would demand from all gentlemen. Just because a citizen of Lancaster county supports a county government is no reason why he should not be allowed to have a voice in the State Government. Apply the same to the Laws of the Senior class.

J. R. GREEN.

In answer to Mr. Green's statement of the position of the Senior Laws we from an exchange. So we did.—The Armour Institute Fulcrum.

We take pleasure in seconding the motion.

Dr. H. B. Ward has been notified of five positions for graduate students in Zoology: two fellowships; Zoology to be taken as a Major, and Botany as a Minor if desired; and positions in the government service, in a normal school and in a college. The salaries of the last three range from $840 to $1,400. Dr. Ward was called upon to recommend candidates last spring for positions with salaries as high as $1,500, but was unable to do so from lack of available students.

A Correction.

In Friday's Nebraskan, Dr. F. J. Alway was reported as in charge of the "Department of Agriculture" at the experiment station. This should have read "the Department of Agricultural Chemistry."
