A TALE OF WOE.

The Daily Nebraskan wishes to print all the news of the University every day, but there are snags in the somewhat ruffled current of college journalism that check our efforts decidedly at times.

One of these snags is the positive objection that many of our prominent professors have to giving freely and gladly all news of their departments. They seem to think that giving items not specifically asked about by our reporters partakes of the nature of personal or departmental advertisement and is therefore unprofessional.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Such an idea is a total misconception of the proper relation of the faculty and the college paper, is for every professor in the University to make a note of everything of possible interest that comes to his attention and turn it all over to the Daily Nebraskan. Don't think it beneath your dignity to drop into our office occasionally. The editor won't hurt you, and he'll be very glad to have your ideas concerning the paper. We should also like to propose a scheme that some of the professors at Iowa have adopted at the suggestion of the Daily Iowan. Have a Daily Nebraskan note-book that you can and will carry with you constantly, and then USE it. If you will do this, one of the serious faults of the paper as it now exists can be readily overcome.

We ask for your hearty co-operation.

LEGAL FRATERNITY ELECT.

Eighteen Embryonic Lawyers Elected to Membership in Phi Delta Phi.

The following embryonic practitioners of the law have been elected to membership in Phi Delta Phi, the national legal fraternity:

Seniors—Lloyd Winship, B. F. Butler, Earl Eager, George DeLacy.

Juniors—K. A. Beghtol, J. M. Tunison, George Randall, Mr. Bochus, Wm. Robertson, C. C. McWhinney, Mr. G. Venrick.

Freshmen—J. A. Murphy, Dale Drain, Wm. March, Ralph Murphy, Amos Thomas, Fred Burr, Ward Cheney.

The above list, however, is not final, as it is quite probable that further elections will be made during the year.

As election to membership in Phi Delta Phi is based largely on scholarship, the fraternity represents the best legal ability in this University. There are chapters in all the leading law colleges of the United States.

Better Fitting Clothes
For Men Our Specialty

Don't mar the appearance of an otherwise good suit by a careless fit. Clothes when fitted properly, not only look better, but last longer and hold their shape better. We specialize in clothes absolutely correct in fit and style, and it is impossible to incorporate more of these essentials in the making than is embodied in the construction of our Kensington Suits and Overcoats. They fit and appear right, first, last, and all the time, and men have no use for a tailor who have once worn a "Kensington." We stand ready to prove these statements true with the garments themselves.

Suits $15 to $40
Overcoats $12.50 to $40
Cravenettes $10 to $20

is another feature which in many respects is as important as the rules governing the play, namely, the relations and conduct of the rival institutions. There has been altogether too much wrangling, too much ungentlemanly conduct, and too little real sportsmanship. The spirit to win which is, of course, a worthy one, has led institutions of high standing to resort to acts that would be frowned upon in relations of a non-athletic nature. There is no valid reason why contests cannot be just as strenuously played under business-like and sportsmanlike arrangements as under a system which produces petty disputes and ill-feeling between spectators as well as participants.

Cornhusker Party.

The date for the Cornhusker party has been set for Saturday evening at the home of Miss Georgia B. Field. The committee is planning a dancing program and other amusement for those who do not dance. Refreshments will be served.

The Cornhusker staff will meet this morning at Convocation period in U. 110.

and we wish to put the matter in its true light, hoping for more general assistance from the faculty in the future.

A college journal should represent all departments regularly and uniformly. This is the aim of the Daily Nebraskan and has been since the first of the year. We ask the aid of the faculty, realizing how small a proportion of departmental news our reporters could secure by their own endeavors. Some professors readily responded and have proved themselves funds of information. Others refused, and as a result we have a one-sided representation that is satisfactory to no one. The Daily Nebraskan is blamed for this when it has no option in the matter. We cannot print matter that is withheld from us, neither can we refuse to print items of real value if we have nothing of equal interest in other lines.

The only way to correct the trouble

JOHN TOBIN COACHING.

Former Nebraska Lineman Training Mormons in the Art.

The following Associated Press dispatch tells what John Tobin, formerly one of "Bummy" Booth's warring Cornhuskers, is doing and incidentally what he thinks of the present game of football:

John Tobin, coach of the football team in a Salt Lake college, is quoted in the Salt Lake Herald as follows:

"In recent years there has been a great deal of adverse criticism as regards the game of football and its effects on the schools immediately concerned as well as on the public in general. Some of the criticism is warranted and must be reckoned with.

"The rules committee, in formulating the new rules, was seeking to satisfy a general clamor for a more open and less dangerous game. That is succeeded remains to be seen. But there
