REGENTS MEET

REGENTS DETERMINE BUDGET FOR NEXT TWO YEARS.

Improvements Ordered—New Engineering Building—The Athletic Field to Be Invaded.

The Board of Regents at its meeting Monday evening determined its budget for the coming two years and transacted much other business of decided interest to the University. Changes on the campus and at the University Farm were determined upon that will necessitate large appropriations and various questions of internal administration were decided.

Appropriations are to be asked for a new mechanical engineering building to be erected on the present athletic field in default of any other available location, and to cost $100,000.00; for a horticultural building costing $40,000.00, to be located at the University Farm; for a $40,000.00 veterinary building, also at the Farm, and for several other minor purposes. The total appropriation to be asked for will be $220,000.00.

The mechanical engineering building has long been a crying need, the laboratories and lecture rooms of this department having been distributed almost indiscriminately thruout the engineering buildings. The quarters assigned have long been overcrowded also and the only possibility of relief has been the projected addition to Mechanics Arts Hall. This idea has now been shelved, at least temporarily, in favor of an entirely new building, and it is expected that the problem of crowded quarters will be much more satisfactorily solved than was anticipated.

Among the changes ordered within the University organization comes the creation of a new title among the faculty. This title is to be conferred on heads of departments who are entitled to appear in the University Senate. They will hereafter be known as "head professors."

One promotion is announced, that of P. H. Grumann, formerly associate professor of German, to the rank of professor. Professor Grumann's department will be Modern German Literature.

The Regents also chose an electrician to succeed Mr. Reynolds, who recently accepted a position with the University of North Dakota. The new appointee is Mr. W. H. Drummond of Albion. Mr. Drummond has been engaged in the telephone business and besides his other duties, will act as an assistant in the electrical engineering laboratory.

Resolutions were passed thanking Regent Allen and Dean Pound for their services in the Supreme Court in securing the $12,000.00 added by the United States to the Adams fund. The successful outcome of the case was due in large measure to the efforts of these two gentlemen.

Various plans that have been proposed at different times for the establishment of a teachers' college, the question of tuition fees, which has proved somewhat bothersome in the last two years, and the problem of furnishing text-books to the students at cost, were left undecided and will be referred direct to the legislature.

TEAM STRENGTHENED.

New Men Join Squad—Changes in the Line Up—Practise at State Farm.

In spite of the mud and rain, football practice goes on just as if nothing had happened. The team is putting in some hard licks getting ready for the Minnesota game, which is only a little over a week off now, and it looks as tho they would treat the Gophers to an unpleasant surprise when they go up against them.

The strength of the squad at the guard position has been materially added to within the last few days.

Jenkins came out for the first time this week and makes a valuable addition to the squad. With his strength and experience last year he should make a hard race for one of the guard positions. Taylor is out for practise again and is expected to be in the game when the team lines up against Minnesota. In addition to these are Harvey and Chaloupka, the two regular guards so far this season, and Cornell, one of the huskiest men on the squad. With such a wealth of material to work on there is every prospect that two guards will be developed who will hold their own against whom ever they meet.

Bill Johnson is being tried out at quarterback this week and altho this position is entirely new to him, is fast learning the game. His thoro knowledge of the game and the rush and vim of his play should make of him a brilliant quarterback.

Pip Cook has been alternating with Johnson at quarter and end. His work at quarter shows much improvement, he is running the team fast and handling the ball well.

Schmidt has been shifted from the back field to right end and Weller fills the vacant position in the back field. Weller's weight and well-known prowess is bucking the line are a most welcome reinforcement to the team, and great things are expected of him.

The practise last night was at the State Farm on account of the bad condition of Nebraska Field. During the first part of the practise the line men were pitted against each other in a strenuous drill in breaking thru and blocking, while the backs and ends worked at handling and going down under punts. Later the Varsity went thru a stiff signal practise, while the two scrub teams lined up against each other for scrimmage. Perrin, the new recruit to the football squad, was given a trial at half-back on the Varsity. The men for the most part are in excellent condition and those injured in last Saturday's game are rapidly recovering.

Forest Club Meeting.

The Forest Club, last Saturday night, adopted all of the constitutional amendments proposed at the previous meeting.

The subject of the program was "Light," the first of a series of ecological factors to be considered at the meetings of the club. Mr. Pool, who introduced the subject, declared that ecology was no mere fad, and that forestry was purely the ecology of trees. Very interesting talks were given by Messrs. Pearson and Pipal, also. Mr. Pearson is planning to write his Master's thesis on the subject "Light." Mr. Pipal, who is a native of Austria, told of the economy in the forests of Austria, where the children are sent to the woods to gather the branches that have been pruned by the lack of light.

The topic for the next meeting, on November 3, will be "Temperature."

Friday Convocation.

Ao song cycle by Ethelbert Nevin is the attraction at Convocation on Friday. It is called "The Quest," and will be rendered by ladies of the Matinee Musicale Club, assisted by a male quartet. The members of this quartet are as follows: Geo. Johnston, E. B. Carder, B. B. Gillespie, and C. H. Miller.

The soloists will be Mrs. E. A. Schloss and Mr. E. B. Carder.

Students and others who will attend are urged to be in their seats promptly at 11 o'clock, for the program will crowd the period to its utmost.

'09 APPOINTMENTS

PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES SOPHOMORE HOP COMMITTEE.

Football Manager and Coach—Basketball Manager—Interclass Athletic Board.

The following appointments were announced at the Sophomore meeting this morning:

Hop Committee—Chairman, Miller S. Benedict; master of ceremonies, Vern W. Gittings.

Committee—Gordon B. Lang, Ray L. Harrison, Donald L. Russell, Edwin Davis, Ada Haggard, H. C. Robertson, Katharine Doyle, Paul G. Burt, Ethel Perkins, R. L. Nelson, Dwight D. Bell. Members of Interclass Athletic Board—W. W. Kading, Fred Coe, R. J. Reid.

Basketball Manager—O. Bentley.

Football Manager—R. L. Harrison.

Coach—J. B. Harvey.

The sentiment of most of those on the hop committee and of a majority of the class is said to be strongly in favor of a dollar hop, if such price appears to be feasible. As the Sophomore Hop is the only big dance to be held this year, the attendance will undoubtedly be very large.

The class football outlook is exceedingly encouraging. All of last year's men are likely to be in the game again and interest, especially in the Freshman-Sophomore game, is very warm. Practise will begin at once and a large squad is expected to be out daily.

The remainder of the class offices were filled this morning and a complete list will appear in tomorrow's Nebraskan.

DR. MAXEY'S NEW BOOK.

"Triumph of American Diplomacy" Well Received.

Professor Maxey's new book on the "Triumphs of American Diplomacy" is attracting considerable attention for a book which has just reached the reviewers. The Arena for October takes especial notice of it in a review from which the following excerpts are made:

"In the present volume we have a timely work of marked interest and value, as in it the author considers ten great diplomatic passages in our history which he considers to be of special interest and importance."

"The volume is admirable and a valuable contribution to our all too scant literature of diplomacy."

"The volume is published by Brentans of New York City. It is a work of 120 pages, handsomely bound in cloth. The publishers hope to have the work in readiness for general sale in the near future."

Prof Lees left yesterday afternoon for New York, where he will attend the meeting of the football rule committee. The committee meets Friday evening at the Murray Hill Hotel in New York. Dr. Lees will return about Friday next week. Some of his classes will enjoy a vacation in the meantime.
