THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB.

The Girls' Glee Club fills a place in the music of the University that is unique.

The men's club we have had with us always and we do not in the slightest depreciate the quality of its work. It is certainly inspiring to listen to men's voices well trained, blended with the utmost care, and directed with the keenest of feeling. Their burlesques are funny, their humor infectious and their entertainments one solid delight.

But tho we have it with us always theoretically, yet in the past few years, how seldom have we heard the glee club sing except at its own big concert. How much of a part has it played in the life of the students?

The chorus does its share nobly.

FEAST, FEST AND FUN.

Y. M. C. A. To Give Dinner To All University Men.

After tomorrow's game, when the zest of the game and the hours spent in the open have roused an appetite within your manly bosom (?) and you think of the horror of returning to boarding-house hash, bear this in mind: At six by the clock in the basement of Saint Paul's Church, on the northwest corner of Twelfth and M streets, will be given a dinner to all University men that for quality, quantity and garnishings will compete with Delmonico's best.

There will be music by a quartet, sleight-of-hand by Mr. H. H. Sprague of this city, a performer of professional skill, and toasts by Messrs. DerKinderen, Jorgenson and Ringer. The last of these gentlemen is a former University man of unusually strong personality.

Tickets for the dinner will cost 15 cents, and are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Positively no subscriptions will be solicited at the dinner and it is hoped and expected that large numbers of University men will avail themselves of this unusual opportunity to have a good social evening. Last year over 150 men were present and agreed that they'd come again. It is now up to them and to as many more.

Friday Tea.

The usual Friday afternoon tea given to young ladies of the University will be held today from 4:30 to 6 p. m. in the reception room of Memorial Hall. The members of the scientific faculty and their wives will be present to meet all who come.

Law Lockers.

The latest of the improvements for the College of Law are the lockers now being installed in the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court. They

But a chorus at best is unfeeling and the subtle meanings of its music are lost in its volume.

The Girls' Glee Club, then, offers the unique opportunity of combining a rare chance for musical interpretation with the larger chance of giving the students of the University what they have long wanted and have not yet attained, a frequent and a careful rendition of the best vocal music there is.

The Friday program given is an experiment by the girls' club last year made an impression that lingers yet. The delicacy of the music, held a charm that refuses to leave the memory. The effect was unusual and all the more pleasing therefore.

We are glad Mrs. Raymond is about to reorganize the girls' club. We trust it will be a true factor in University life and we hope it obtains the unlimited support it surely deserves.

were ordered by Dean Pound last June, but for some reason have just arrived. The lockers are of the latest improved type, being made entirely of steel. One hundred and twenty will be placed at the disposal of the Law students in the next few days.
