TO GET POINTERS.

Coach Stuart and Manager Eager to Watch Other Teams Today.

Assistant Coach Stuart left yesterday afternoon for Minneapolis, where he will watch the game between Minnesota and Ames this afternoon. It is expected that he will get a number of pointers that will prove of immense value in lining the team up for the game with Minnesota on next Saturday. His report will be of especial value since our team is 'thoroly familiar with Ames' style of play.

Manager Eager also left Lincoln yesterday to see Kansas play on her home field today. In view of the fact that Kansas is Nebraska's "deadliest" rival it was thought that no stone should be left unturned that might contribute to a victory for Nebraska when we meet them on November 17.

OMAHA HORSE SHOW.

Professor Smith, who was one of the officers at the house show held in Omaha this week, pronounces it one of the finest shows of its kind ever held in the west. The exhibit of Omaha horses was especially fine, as was the display of hackneys and hunters. Another feature of the show was the fancy driving of a Clydesdale sextett, owned by the Swift Packing company.

These shows are not only becoming an annual social event among the people of Omaha, but are yearly attracting hundreds of horsemen from all parts of the United States. They will also prove of inestimable value to animal husbandry students in years to come who will doubtless attend them, much as they now visit the South Omaha market each spring.

Graduate Club Will Meet.

The University Graduate Club will hold its first meeting a week from tonight in Palladian Hall. The Chancellor will give the opening address. This will be responded to by Mr. E. G. Chinlund in behalf of the graduates. Special music will be furnished by Director W. E. Kimball of the School of Music.

The Graduate Club desires to call especial attention to the fact that it are not an elective organization. All graduates of the University are members, whether they know it or not, and Professor Stuff, president of the club, urges all to be in attendance at the meeting.
