TO BEGIN MONDAY

FIRST SEMESTER OF SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE TO START.

Heavy Registration Expected—Facilities Best Ever—Improvements Are Numerous.

The School of Agriculture will begin the school year of 1906-1907 next Monday morning. Altho the exact number of students to be enrolled in the school cannot as yet be ascertained, it is quite probable that there will be a marked increase over last year's attendance, which was three hundred and fifty.

A number of very substantial improvements have been made at the Farm since the close of last term. Agricultural Hall, which was completed late in the winter, has been furnished thruout, while the Woman's Building, to be used by the department of Household Economics, will be ready for occupancy early next year. In addition to these improvements, concrete walks have been laid between Agricultural Hall and the Horticultural Laboratory, and between many of the other buildings.

In its present condition the Nebraska School of Agriculture is one of the leading agricultural schools in the United States, being superior to any institution of its kind west of the Missouri river and a close competitor with Cornell for first place. Its keenest rival in the Mississippi valley is the Iowa State Agricultural School at Ames, Iowa.

The equipment of the school, both in buildings and faculty, ranks very favorably with that of other agricultural colleges of this country. There are in all, not including the farms and other smaller structures, seven buildings: Dairy Laboratory, Experiment Hall, Dairy Barn, Horticultural Laboratory, Machinery Hall, Agricultural Hall, and the Woman's Building. The last two buildings are the most modern and completely furnished of their kind in the west.

UNIVERSITY JOURNAL OUT.

November Issue Ready for Distribution—Contains Much of Interest.

The November issue of the University Journal is ready for distribution. It contains twenty-four pages and is set up in its usual attractive fashion. Among others are articles by Chancellor Andrews, Dr. Luckey, Dr. Clapp, and Dr. Wolcott.

"The Question of General Pensions for Teachers" is the subject of the Chancellor's article and in it he takes issue with the advocates of a general service pension system. He produces two strong arguments to support his contention.

Editorially the Journal devotes the most of its space to a eulogy of W. E. Chancellor, who was once considered available to start a high grade school of technology near Lincoln and has since risen to a high degree of prominence in educational circles in the east.

Professor Caldwell is confined to his home with the grip.

THE LINE-UP TODAY.

Minnesota Has Heavy Team—Nebraska In Good Condition.

Today Nebraska is up against the heaviest and huskiest team in the west, and will fight the fight of the season. Our hope lies in speed and quickness, for we are hopelessly inferior in weight.

Nebraska.
Line-up.	Weight.
Johnson, left end	156
Matters, left tackle	190
Wilkie, center	170
Taylor, right guard	205
Harvey, right tackle	185
Schmidt, right end	166
Cooke, quarterback	148
Weller, left half	182
Little, right half	172
Mason, full back	154
Average weight, 173.

The Gophers Are Beefy.

The Minnesota eleven outweighs Nebraska by a trifle more than 15 pounds to the man. Following is the Minnesota line-up and the weights of the men:

Snyder, left end	175
Vita, left guard	195
Bandell, center	190
Smith, right guard	210
Case, right tackle	200
Marshall, right end	178
Larkin, quarter	170
Shucknecht, right half	185
Carrent, full back	180
Average weight of the team, 188 2-11 pounds.

Average weight in the line, 194 2-7 pounds.

Average weight in backfield, 177½ pounds.

German Club Elects.

The German Club met Thursday evening with Miss Scena Hansen. The evening was devoted largely to German Hallowe'en entertainments. Seven new members were elected: Evangeline Strickland, Julia McCune, Mr. Benda, Gertrude Moore, Daisy Needham, Mira Kerns, and Beatrice Clark.

BAND RENDERS ACCOUNT.

Report of Band Informal Gladly Made Public.

Following the suggestion made in the Nebraskan several days ago the treasurer of the University Band has submitted the following report for the first Band Informal held on October 26 in Memorial Hall:

C. C. McElroy in account with Band Fund, University of Nebraska:

I certify that the above is a true statement of the account for the said hop.

CHARLES McELROY,
Principal Musician, Cadet Band,
Treasurer.

Audited and approved:
JNO. G. WORKIZER,
Captain, Second Infantry,
Commandant.

Mrs. Raymond Plays.

Mrs. Raymond rendered a program of unusual merit at Convocation yesterday. Organ music is not common and Mrs. Raymond's rendition is of unusual sympathy and technique.

The program consisted of four selections as follows:

Fanfare	Lemmens
Romanza	Beethoven
Air with variations	Hayden
Marche militaire	Gounod

Senior Football.

Senior signal practise will be held every day next week at 11 o'clock. Coaches Little and McDonald will be out and all candidates are expected to appear every day.

THE COUNTY FAIR

TO BE HELD IN THE ARMORY NOVEMBER SEVENTEENTH.

A Worthy Cause—The Event of the Year—Unusual Number of Attractions.

The fourth annual "County Fair" will be held in the Armory on the evening of Saturday, November 17. The affair is given by the University Young Women's Christian Association and is under the personal direction of Miss Florence Parmelee, '07. The purpose of the entertainment is two-fold. It furnishes a social evening for the University that is without a parallel thruout the year and it permits a "rake-off" that goes into the Y. W. C. A. general fund and is strictly legitimate in consequence.

The first "County Fair" was held in the fall of 1903 and was a thoro success. It was, of course, an experiment, but under the direction of Miss Elsie Piper the various novelties produced met instant favor and it was decided to make the fair an annual event. At the fair of 1903 various worthies made their debut. There was Mother Goose in person as well as Carrie Nation. There were Gypsy fortune-tellers that left you trembling and minus a nickel. There were booths of all kinds and each one left you poorer than you were before you had seen it.

In 1904 experience had taught its lessons and a decided improvement was noticed. The management cleared over $150 and those who attended received much more than the worth of their money. For the first, last, and only time the famous "Red Lynx," a by-product of one of South Omaha's packing houses, was put on display and rumor has it that a certain carnivorous fraternity held an informal banquet next day.

Last year the top notch was attained. The crowd was immense, the fun fast and furious, the booths the best ever, and the side-shows way above par. The financial end was the usual success and showed that the students appreciate a good thing when they see it.

This year, also, good things are in store. A resume of attractions reminds one of the Bijou, but the Y. W. C. A. puts its guarantee of quality on each and every novelty and sorority rushing parties will be perfectly apropos. There will be Japanese acrobats, Spanish dancers, Katzenjammer Kids, Dutch Girls, Indians, a "coon" show, a vegetable garden, an A. D. T. messenger service, and last but not least, a baby show. You will want to "get next" to that baby show when you see it.

To cap the climax there is a wedding announced to take place. The participants have not yet been made public, but a full description of the bride's trousseau may be had upon application to Miss Parmelee. Taking it as a whole, the fair will be to a greater or less extent a replica of the usual rural county fair except that all the unpleasant features will be left out.

University students and faculty are expected to begin to save their pennies at once.
