KEEP IT UP.

The suggestion of the Daily Nebraskan concerning the advisability of making public the reports of all University "functions" has had an appreciable effect. In our columns today we print the detailed report of the second University dance to be given this year and again we wish to extend our approval of the spirit that has prompted the action of the person in charge.

We are exceedingly gratified at the ready response to our request. It indicates that the anti-graft feeling is growing, and it gives promise that for one year at least Nebraska will be open and above board in all that she does. This is surely a "consummation devoutly to be wished."

The Nebraskan already has the promise of detailed reports from several other University dances to be given the first semester, and we have strong hopes that all chairmen will, without further solicitation, turn in their accounts for publication immediately after they close their books.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

There is no organization in University circles worthy of more hearty support from all who are interested in the University than the Young Women's Christian Association. The good that it does is incalculable and its work is wholly unique. Like every body that accomplishes ends of importance, however, it must have financial backing. Its budget is large and its resources comparatively small.

There is every reason, therefore, why a money making enterprise, originated and promoted by the Y. W. C. A., should be patronized freely and gladly by every member of the University public. Leaving out of consideration for the time being the fun guaranteed, which alone is worth several times the price of admission, there arises the duty of doing one's utmost on behalf of a worthy cause. The annual "County Fair" will be given in the Armory on the evening of Saturday, November 17. For the past three years this event has been the feature of the Y. W. C. A.'s money earning campaign and heretofore has been successful in the highest degree. This year it is hoped to surpass anything attempted before. In another column in this issue we have detailed the attractions that are to be offered and we believe there is promised an evening of exceptional pleasure. The "County Fair" has proved to be a feature in the social life of the University, and more than ever before does it merit the attention and the attendance of all University folks this year.

We have taken up the cause of the "County Fair" at this early date, believing that it can not be too strongly pushed. We want you to become interested now. Tell your friends about it. Watch for the announcement of the novelties that will be on display. Plan for an evening of fun unsurpassed and make your engagement at once. You'll find it is worth your while.

A COMMUNICATION.

Why "Letter" Men Should Not Be Barred From Class Teams.

The Daily Nebraskan publishes the following communication without in any way assuming responsibility for the sentiments expressed:

"Mr. Editor: The action of the inter-class athletic committee in barring men who have won their college letter from the inter-class games is a deplorable action in more ways than one.

"It savors of planning to win by debarring a certain class of men. There is no doubt, in the minds of those who are acquainted with the situation, that this rule was aimed at the letter men in the Freshman Laws, an organization recently affiliated with the Sophomore class and whose members were to be allowed to play on the Sophomore team. The number of letter men in this class would justify this assumption.

"We admit that the committee has the right to do this, but we can not agree that the action itself is right. Exclusive of the 'Varsity players, why has not any bona fide member of any class a right to play on the class team? If any class is afraid that the Sophomores will have a team hard to beat, wouldn't it be a better way to get out a team that could beat them on the athletic field, than to pass laws in the committee room to bar, possibly, their best men, and then beat them? Which is the more honorable—to win a victory on the field or to win it in the committee room?"

"Again, it places the letters of Knox,

Doane, South Dakota, Simpson, Hastings, and other small colleges on a par with the University "N." This is not right.

"However proud a man may be of his first Alma Mater and the letter he wears, we all must admit that the letter of a University has a higher standing than that of a small college, and the action of the class athletic committee in placing them all on a par is without precedent in college athletics."
