SCHOOL DEBATES.

The marked success which attended the joint debate between the University political clubs last Friday evening suggests a promising field for the debater. A regular series of debates between local debaters upon questions in which the students as a whole are interested could not fail to be entertaining and profitable.

The University Forum should consider the matter and arrange to hold public contests among its members. We believe this idea would grow in favor with the University public if it were adopted and would materially aid the cause which the Forum is organized to promote.

Interclass debates, altho as yet untried here, have been very successful at other institutions. At Syracuse the fenders should be exposed without mercy.

The safest way to guard against and discourage speculation is to purchase your tickets directly of a member of the Committee or some one authorized to sell them. The number is limited in the interest of those who attend and limitation should not foster speculation if the patrons of the function get their tickets in due season.

CARTOONS WANTED.

The Daily Nebraskan to Add New Feature to Make-up.

The Daily Nebraskan wishes to introduce a new feature into its make-up which its editors believe will add much to the attractiveness of the sheet. It is desired to run regularly either once a week or bi-weekly a cartoon dealing with pertinent happenings of especial University interest.

The University is a fertile field for items that would make clever cartoons and the Nebraskan is confident that there is more than sufficient talent among our instructors and students to warrant a call for the finished product.

In another column today the Nebraskan has published a cartoon and a parody on a popular poem, both the work of Mr. Phillip J. Harrison, whose posters are too well known on the campus to need further comment. Mr. Harrison has kindly consented to start the ball rolling on the Nebraskan's cartoon campaign and it is to be hoped that his example will furnish an incentive to the host of artists we have on the campus to turn in their work to the editors.

The Nebraskan already has two other cartoons in the process of making which it intends to publish at an early date and more are wanted at once. Artists, "get busy."

series of inter-class debates determines the members of the school's team for intercollegiate debates. Whether this method would prove desirable or not at Nebraska is a matter of doubt, yet interclass contests should receive attention for their own sake.

Action in this direction should be taken by the classes as soon as the football season closes and it should have as hearty support from faculty and students as athletics now receives.

TICKET SPECULATION.

It has been suggested that the low price and limited number of tickets for the approaching Sophomore hop will make this popular University dance the object of speculators' attention. The practise of monopolizing tickets to a University affair and disposing of them at exorbitant prices deserves the harshest condemnation. We do not think such conduct on the part of University students probable, but if it actually is attempted the of-

INTERCLASS SCHEDULE.

Dates Arranged for Interclass Football Games.

The managers of the class football teams held a meeting in Manager Eager's office yesterday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock and arranged the following schedule:

Freshmen vs. Sophomores—Thursday, November 15, 2:00 p. m.

Juniors vs. Seniors—Tuesday, November 20, 2:00 p. m.

Final game—Tuesday, November 27.

An admission of 15 cents will be charged for each of the two first games and 25 cents will be charged for the final game.

Class enthusiasm is running high, and so far the Sophomores seem to have the best of it, inasmuch as they have two well-disciplined teams to uphold their colors.

Miss Lillian Chambers, '08, has recovered from her recent illness and is back in school.

MADAME HOMER TO SING.

Recital November 9 Under Auspices of Matinee Musicale.

Madame Louise Homer, contralto, a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York City, will appear in recital under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale at the Auditorium, Friday evening, November 9. Mme. Homer made her debut in Paris in 1898, and has taken leading parts in operas in the principal cities of Europe and America. She has been a member of the Metropolitan company for five years, and will close her brief concert tour in time to return to New York for the opening of the opera season.

The Lester Piano Co., Philadelphia, Pa.:

Gentlemen—After an experience of more than a quarter of a century with various makes of pianos, including nearly all those made by Philadelphia firms, I have concluded that the Lester piano is the most satisfactory instrument I have used in my school. I find after years of continuous use that the tone retains its original quality and sweetness, the action is unimpaired and the durability, as evidenced by the capacity of the piano to stay in tune, is marvelous. I have decided, therefore, to place with you my order for twenty uprights and two grands, for delivery by September 5th.

Where you See the Oldest Trees in the World

Imagine this if you can—3 square miles of forest, containing 3000 trees measuring over 300 feet in height and 50 feet around. When you consider that every one of these trees is as high as the ordinary city skyscraper of today, and that there are 3000 of them in this one forest, you have only a vague idea of the sight before you as you ride among them and look up among their branches. Even these are larger than any tree near your home. Expert estimate places the age of these trees at 8000 years. They were growing before the pyramids of Egypt were built. The
